Word comes from Portland that Harlan Smith has bought a lot and is building a cottage in the city. Possibly he may have his eye on a bride for the new cage.

Born, on August 31, at Waterville, Washington, to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Tetherow, former residents of this place, an eight pound son. The arrival of the youth makes Mrs. E. F. Wood a great grandmother.

A raging fire in a big wood pile near Tualatin Monday evening delayed the train and passengers for Newberg did not arrive here until almost ten o'clock. About one hundred cords of wood were consumed and some damage done to the track.

On Saturday evening, September 20, it is the purpose of the Newberg Home Company to give a lawn ice cream supper, the proceeds of which will be used to pay for the company's uniforms, and it is desired that citizens patronize the same liberally.

Mrs. R. W. Kelsey made arrangements to attend the state W. C. T. U. convention at Roseburg this week, but as the boat didn't get up the river, and the train also intended to take was delayed by fire, she concluded it wasn't right for her to go and remained at home.

Zim Mills and sons and Tom Hester arrived home empty handed the first of the week from their hunt in the Coast Range. Tom drew a head on a big buck, which an old hunter in the crowd declared to be the largest he had ever seen, but the cartridge was defective and missed fire. The party had some royal trout fishing however.

W. R. Starr with his wife and daughter and Oscar Hoots and family consisting of his wife and three children, all from Illinois stopped off here last week and visited for a few days with Hiram Hoots who bought the John Green farm southwest of town. On Monday they left for Ashland, the point to which they had purchased overland tickets.

The best line of teas and coffees in the city at Wilson's grocery.

Charlie Morris arrived home last week from the Eastern Oregon harvest fields.
