We are not in business for fun but for profit, and for that reason have given up old styles and effects in photography. The present day finds us with advanced ideas in everything pertaining to pictures. C. C. Smith.
Often there are small jobs of work which you want done about your homes. It would be a kindness to the college young men who must work their way through school if this work could be given to them. If you need them, evenings or Saturdays, let it be known.
The public school opened up very successfully Monday morning, and work is moving along smoothly. The attendance in the six lower rooms is close around the two hundred mark, which is considered good for the first week. Principal Kirk has been busy arranging the work of the other rooms and getting it systematized and will not call his own pupils together until Monday morning. There is a strong corps of teachers in the Newberg public school and good thorough work will doubtless be accomplished.
The firm name of the successors to W. C. Kruger is A. B. Moomaw & Son, the son, W. A. Moomaw, arriving from California, the latter part of last week to take personal charge of their new business. The work of inventing the stock of hardware and implements has been accomplished this week and Mr. Moomaw wishes to announce to the people of Newberg and vicinity that he is now ready for business. He extends an invitation to all to call upon him at the store and get acquainted.

Those who may desire to rent rooms to college students would do well to report the same very soon to either Pree, McGrew or Prof. Kelsey. A number of students will want rooms and will board themselves.
Prof. A. C. Stanbrough will begin his work Monday as principal of the Butteville public schools, he having accepted this position in preference to the similar one which he held for some time at Aurora. Amos seems to have the people across the river where he wants them.
On last Sunday morning in Portland a Newberg boy is the person of W. F. Edwards was ordained by his pastor Dr. W. S. Gilbert, as a deacon in the Calvary Presbyterian church. Considering his short affiliation with the church and the fact that he is fifteen years the junior of any of his fellow officers, the ordination is a decided tribute to the character and standing of Mr. Edwards.
The directors of the Chehalis Center home telephone company met Saturday night and effected permanent organization by the election of the following officers: President H. C. Paulson, vice president W. R. Carter, secretary Simon Madison. Representatives of the Bell Telephone Company were present and made overtures, hoping to turn the tide, but the telephone enthusiasts knew what they wanted and stood firmly by co-operation. A dozen or more phones will be put in and secretary Madison has posted a call for bids for getting out and distributing the poles, for digging the holes and setting the poles, and for stringing the wire. The company hopes to have its line in working order by the middle of November.

Enne Pressnell of Salem drove down the first of the week with a load of melons, peaches and tomatoes which he sold out in this vicinity. He left his daughter here who will make her home at A. N. Pressnell's and attend college.
Mrs. H. J. Minthorn and daughters Gertrude and Mary, accompanied by Master Ross Miles arrived home from Newport Saturday morning where they have been spending the summer, and will be followed by the Doctor before long. They say that the popular seaside resort is now practically deserted.
C. A. Bristow of Parrott mountain was in town Wednesday telling a good bear story, and produced a tooth and a claw as evidence of good faith. Mr. Bruhn had been making trouble in the neighborhood, killing goats etc., and on Saturday Will Young of Sherwood arrived on the scene of disturbance with his hounds. The hunt was begun in earnest Sunday morning, the dogs immediately striking the trail. The animal was brought to bay on the Bristow place early in the afternoon and was killed by Young.
For some little time the drill at the oil well has been pounding away on a hard formation and making practically no progress for the reason that the bits are not the right size for work at the depth reached—between twelve and thirteen hundred feet. Driller Travis accordingly suspended operations the first of the week, saying it was useless to proceed at a waste of time and money until the machinery of the proper size is secured, which will have to be purchased in Ohio. This demand will occasion some delay and an outlay of between three and four hundred dollars, and in the meantime the officers of the company will encourage stockholders to pay up, that the work may proceed with celerity when the new appliances have been secured.
