Free dishes at Wilson's Grocery.
The Y. M. C. A. convention should be largely attended by Newberg people.
You will always find a complete line of fresh vegetables at Wilson's grocery.
A. C. Stanbroughs were over from Bettelville visiting the latter part of last week.
Go to T. B. Cummings for furniture, paints and oils. A full line of undertaking goods kept in stock.
Prof. and Mrs. Eli Hadley of Portland, visited in this vicinity the latter part of last week with relatives and friends.
Miss May Lamb visited in Portland with Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Terrell and other friends the latter part of last week.
Clever blossom bacon isn't controlled by the trusts and isn't all salt. These are some reasons why it sells. G. Everett.
Mrs. A. E. Weener and baby left here the middle of the week to join Bert, near Wasco, Sherman county, where he is working on a ranch.
E. H. Bronson and family who for several months have been living in Umatilla county, journeyed back to Newberg the latter part of last week, and are at home here again.
Elwood Minchin arrived home a few days ago from the eastern part of the state where for several months he has been canvassing for the sale of stereoscopic views. He has met with fair success in his work.
The Mutual Home Company's phones are up in the Chehalis Center neighborhood and our neighbors to the north have been "hollering" around for further orders. People hereabouts are wondering how they ever got along without telephones anyway.
E. W. Weener writes from Douglas, Alaska, that he has sold out his mercantile business there and that they are coming south again. They intend to take a look at the country in Eastern Oregon and Washington with a view of locating before coming to Newberg.
Mrs. A. W. Rees returned to her home at Spokane the first of the week. Mr. Rees who returned to Spokane two weeks ago, is in very poor health at present. If he recovers sufficiently to take up his work in the office of the Southern Pacific Company in Portland, the family will move down later.
Many funny stories of absent minded people are read but occasionally one runs across the real thing which discards the stories. Saturday night a lady was hurrying to the depot to catch the evening train, and in sudden conversation sent a boy running back for a hat which she had forgotten. Before the boy got out of hearing distance she yelled to him that she had found her hat. It was on her head.

All kinds of empty barrels for sale at Wilson's Grocery.
The Ping-Pong ties—Hodson Bros.—are well, be in the swim, get one.
J. G. Hadley and family of Portland visited friends in town this week.
Eli Evans and family of Washington county visited in town last week with relatives.
A drop in undertaking goods at T. B. Cummings & Co. Call and get prices before buying elsewhere.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Robertson returned to their Idaho home the middle of the week, after visiting relatives here for several days.
Ore Price, Otto Picket and Sarg Britt came up from Portland last week and partook of the good things of Thanksgiving day with home folks.
Last Friday evening's train was delayed two or three hours, a mass of rock having fallen over the precipice and onto the trestle at Elk Rock—which by the way is getting to be an unpleasantly common occurrence.
Dwight and Worth Coulson went home to Scotts Mills. Thanksgiving to attend the marriage of their sister Ethel to Edgar Cox, a former student here. The young couple will make their home near Caldwell, Idaho.
Newberg should have her company manners on this week and make the visiting young men feel that they are at home in a home town. There is no better advertisement for any town than a reputation for generous hospitality.
C. F. Moore's Thanksgiving display window deserved all the attention it attracted. A miniature table was spread and all kinds of Thanksgiving delicacies served up in style. Four handsomely dressed dolls sat at the table, waited upon by a "pickaninny" whose eyes rolled at the sight of the good things at hand.
James Vestal has received the announcement of the marriage of his niece Miss Sadie Vestal to Leonard Sharpless, to take place December 11, at Whittier, California. In company with her father, Miss Vestal visited here a few years ago. Uncle Jimmie is sighing disconsolately for the good things to eat which will be set liberally before the wedding guests.
The Monday Club, a local literary organization, the members of which are recruited from the Pacific College alumni, and the faculties of the college and public school, have taken up an interesting work for the winter in the reading of "The Conquest," Mrs. Dye's fascinating story of the "winning of the West" by Meriwether Lewis and Wm. Clark and other pioneers courageous. The book is read aloud at club meetings together with extracts from other late works on the subject matter treated, and informal discussions are engaged in. The work is being taken up enthusiastically by the members. The first regular meeting of the club was held Monday evening at the home of Prof. B. W. Kirk.

Orchard and apple boxes for sale by C. B. Wilson.

E. C. Ward arrived home last week from Douglas county, Southern Oregon, where he has been looking after extensive prune shipments for the company for several weeks. He has been shipping dried prunes all over the country, and consigned seventeen car loads of the French—to France.
Thanksgiving was a quiet day in Newberg, there not being the excitement of a football game to disturb the general peace and quietude. The people attended church largely in the forenoon and ate more largely in the afternoon.
At the close of the morning service a collection amounting to over nineteen dollars was taken for the needy and turned over to a committee of gentlemen from the different churches, for distribution. The committee met Sunday afternoon, and the members not feeling fitted to distribute personally the funds to the best advantage, appointed three ladies, well known for their good works, to place the money where it is needed most. The ladies are Mrs. T. Bronillette, Miss Mary Williams and Mrs. M. E. Satchwell.
The high standard of entertainments which the ladies of the Friends church have been giving was fully maintained Tuesday evening, by the two young ladies from Portland. Miss Matlock proved a very pleasant reader, and was grace itself in all her movements, especially as shown in the pantomime of Longfellow's, "The Bridge," sung by Miss Lytle. In comic reading she made a decided hit in "A Sisterly Scheme," while she showed her ability to best advantage in the rendition of the touching selection, "The Soul of the Violin." As a vocal soloist Miss Lytle more than pleased her hearers. She has an unusual range and expression in so young a musician and her choice of selections was excellent. While all her numbers were heartily enjoyed, it will be a long time before her singing of "The Plains of Peace," will be forgotten in Newberg.

Fine chocolate creams and bon bons at C. F. Moore & Co's.

On December 11, in Crater's hall a moving picture entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World. The entertainment will be given by Messrs. Steel and Campbell who showed here a year or more ago. Admission 25 and 35c.
Over four hundred instruments were received for record in the recorder's office during November, and Mr. Hoskins and his assistant have kept the work right up within one day. Considerable work at night has been necessary to do this. One recorder in a neighboring county is three weeks behind.—Reporter.
It is reported that S. Hiteben and G. F. Taplin, who hail from Minnesota, have taken precautions against allowing the moss to collect on their backs this winter by tackling a job of cutting wood. W. J. Stater thinks such an example of industry set before Oregonians is worthy of recognition and has agreed to set up the sign.
We desire to say to the people of Newberg and vicinity that we have removed our business from the old Jo Hadley stand to the Sawyer building two doors west, where we have opened up a large and complete assortment of Holiday goods, toys, notions and Battenburg and other fancy work materials. We shall try by fair dealing and courteous treatment to merit a fair share of their patronage. R. B. & ANNA M. LEVILLER.
G. W. Halesstead, late of Iowa, has purchased the Ham Hutchins farm about four miles south of Dayton. He takes immediate possession. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins go to Pendleton where they will remain during the winter. On their return to the valley in the spring, they will locate on a farm they own near Newberg.—Herald. (Mr. Hutchins was down here last Friday looking after property interests east of town.)
The old Quaker says, "Two things don't fret about—the things you can't help and the things you can't help." Are you troubled with cold feet?—buy the kid lined Queen Quality ladies' shoes and you won't fret about cold feet. Are you tired of hearing your own gentle (T) footsteps?—buy the Q. Q. cushion sole and you can walk as comfortably as if on baby's dimpled feet. Do you fret about damp feet?—you can help it. Buy the Q. Q. water proof soles. Any number on any list at Jay Cook's.

Buy your holiday goods of Moore this year if you want the best.

Resolutions in Honor of the late Julia A. Maris.
Adopted at a meeting of the Newberg W. C. T. U., 11-12-1902.
WHEREAS, our all wise and all loving Father has taken from us our long tried friend and co-worker, Julia A. Maris, and
AND WHEREAS, she has always been one of the true and trusted soldiers in the great battle against intemperance, ever at her post of duty, ever on the Lord's side ready to follow the great Commander.
RESOLVED: That the W. C. T. U., of Newberg extends its tenderest sympathies to all those who have lost in Julia A. Maris, mother, sister or friend.
We feel her loss keenly because she filled a large place in our hearts and in our work.
We bow in humble submission to the will of our Father, because we know that it is the best infinite wisdom could make it, or infinite love would have made it different.
RESOLVED: That these resolutions be spread on our minutes, published in the Graphic, and a cop. be sent to the family of the deceased.
By order of Newberg W. C. T. U.
