The New Year was quietly ushered in at Newberg.

Nelson Sykes spent Christmas with friends in Albany.

For sale, a few pigs, two or three months old. Omer J. Hodson.

The finest line of candles, nuts and fruit in the city at Wilson's.

Sarg Britt came up from Portland and spent part of the holidays at home.

Those wishing old meal may get it of Atkinson Bros. A car load just arrived.

Miss Evaline Clemenson of Clarkston, Washington, is at home again with her parents.

The new lock boxes have been put in at the postoffice and the patrons welcome the change.

Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Douglas entertained the college faculty at their home last Friday evening.

The Graphic and the popular National Magazine may still be had together for the low rate of $1.00.

Go to T. H. Cummings for furniture, paints and oils. A full line of undertaking goods kept in stock.

Call at the postoffice and get a New Year's Oregonian. Just the thing to send east to your friends.

Married, on Christmas day, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Naomi Carter to Robert Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Edwards of Portland partook of the family Christmas dinner here under the parental roof.

Mrs. H. D. Harford, state president of the W. C. T. U., who has been touring the east in public work arrived home last Thursday and will enjoy a short rest.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Heister and little girl of Portland spent a part of the holidays in Newberg visiting relatives. Tom thinks they are working him pretty hard in the medical school.

It has happened. On last Saturday night at the M. E. parsonage, Miss Lulu Leslie and H. E. Finney were united in matrimony. They are now occupying one of the cottages west of the Friends church.

The old reliable shoemaker, G. M. Bales is at his old stand in Newberg, and will do repairing on short notice and of the best material at reasonable prices, also new work made to order. Please call and see him.

F. C. Horton enjoyed a peculiarly merry Christmas, and there was good reason. The band boys whom he had been faithfully training, without recompense, made up a purse among themselves and presented him with a handsome gold watch and chain—a gift as fully appreciated as it was deserved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Torrell entertained Saturday evening in honor of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hampton of Seattle. A very enjoyable evening was spent in renewing the friendships of other days. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Scott, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Heister, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hodson, Miss Helen Chamberlin and Mr. R. W. Kirk.

Beginning next Saturday evening at the Friends church, a series of union gospel meetings will be held in Newberg under the leadership of Rev. Wm. E. Randall of Portland, who is well known to Newberg people as a speaker of rare power. All the churches in town are invited to unite in these meetings, which will be held at night in the Friends church at 7:30 o'clock, and in the afternoon in the M. E. church at 2 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the members of the Oregon Fire Relief Association will take place on Thursday, January 13th, at 10 a. m. in the Opera House at McMinnville, Oregon. All members who can reasonably be present are cordially invited, as important measures are under discussion, in which every member should be interested. Three trustees are to be elected to serve three years. Come out and see what the Association is doing for the people of Oregon. A. C. CHANDLER, Sec.

This marrying business which is becoming rather prevalent hereabouts of late, must be rather trying on the nerves. It is reliably reported of one young man, not many days a bachelor, that he was in such a state of nervous tension for some little time before the ordeal, that he walked the floor at night. The old timers would doubtless advise him to defer that performance until he is driven to it after while by—well by necessity.

The girls about town are looking anxiously upon Calva Martin, all but about one possibly, for he was fortunate enough to draw the elegant doll at C. F. Moore's. They can't see that he has the least use in the world for it, but they may not know. Charley Morris drew the camera and Miss Coile Hadley had the number which took the toilet set. At Porter & Larkin's, where a fine doll and go cart were offered to the most popular little Miss, as decided by the highest number of votes. Little Ruby Ryan of Dander, who received the honor, was made the happiest little girl in the country.

Mayor N. O. Christensen announces a caucus of the citizens of Newberg to be held in the city hall next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating city officers for the coming year. The election takes place Monday, January 12, when mayor, treasurer, recorder and six councilmen are to be elected. The following question is to be submitted to the voters: "Shall cows be prevented from running at large from August 1st of each year to April 1st of the year following?" Election officers have been appointed as follows: Judges, J. O. Hodson, A. Hodson and H. B. Morris; clerks, G. J. Edwards and B. B. Linville.

For Sale—A good butter cow, fresh in a few days. R. Pettyjohn.

A. W. Rees and family now of Portland, visited relatives in Newberg during the holidays.

Mrs. Maggie Littlefield and children spent Christmas with relatives in Lafayette.

The Misses Bell, Grace and Gertrude Cook visited at Marion during the holidays.

For sale, seventy-five Cotswold ewes, bred to a fine registered sheep, imported from Scotland. They can be had at a bargain if sold before January 20th. David Bros.

When the beans were counted at Wilson's grocery Wednesday it was found that Dr. Clara M. Davidson had made the guess which drew the coveted set of dishes. The beans numbered 6630 and her guess was 6631.

According to Washington correspondence in Friday's Oregonian Newberg's third rural mail route will be started on February 1. The route goes through Springbrook, westward along Chehalis mountain and back through the Chehalis Center district.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Hampton of Seattle arrived Christmas day and have been visiting friends and relatives here. They had expected to return the first of the week, and Mrs. Hampton intended to go east to attend a family reunion, but she was taken sick with a light attack of pneumonia which has delayed their departure. Ed, who is editor of the Seattle Mail and Herald, has just gotten out a finely illustrated progress edition of his paper, which gives evidence of lots of push and hard work. He was somewhat surprised at the improvements which have been made about Newberg and was especially interested in our rapidly growing system of mutual telephone lines.

Mrs. H. L. Heath and children are making preparations to leave for Manila, Philippine Islands, about the middle of January. Mrs. Heath received a letter from her husband last week asking her to prepare for the trip as soon as possible and with that end in view she is disposing of her household effects. It is expected that their stay in the Islands will extend over a year, at the end of which time the Captain will return to the states with them for a rest. A petition is being circulated in the southern end of the county asking the legislature to change the boundary line between this and Polk county to the meanderings of the Yamhill river. Yamhill might agree to a part of the proposition but we believe we have Indians enough.—Register.

Wm. Kincaid, of Springbrook remarked to the writer a few days ago that there had not been a new prune orchard planted in all the country tributary to Newberg so far as he knew, in the past three or four years, and yet he said to take it one year with another he would just as soon risk prune growing for profit as any other farm crop that has been tried in the Willamette Valley. He also called attention to the fact that a grower ought to keep planting to get the best returns as the younger trees always produce the largest prunes, and the large size brings the best price. The attention of the readers of the Graphic is called to the advertisement of the Pacific Nursery Company of Tangent which will be found in our advertising columns. They are headquarters for all kinds of fruit trees, vines and plants.

Miss Pearl Cummings gave her friends delightful entertainment on Christmas evening at her home. Games, chief among which were ping pong and fortune telling, were the first order of the evening, but the most fun came at the advent of Mrs. Santa Claus, who was promptly saluted under the mistletoe by an unusually intrepid young man. A Christmas tree had been erected in the parlor and beautifully decorated. There were presents and to spare for every body, and the boys and girls made merry with tin horns, little turtles, climbing monkeys, a b o books, dolls, toy dogs and sheep etc., etc. It was a gala time, greatly enjoyed by the guests, who were the Misses Mable Edwards, Ione Hill, Stella Smith, Myrtle McDaniel, Gertrude and May Lamb and Messrs. L. B. Ferguson, H. W. Cloushek, W. C. Woodward, A. C. Seeley, Arthur Hodson and John Larkin.

J. T. Smith, who has given faithful service as clerk in the Newberg post-office for two years and a half, has accepted a position with the Spaulding Logging Company. He will leave the last of the week for their camp on the Luckiamute where he will serve as pay and quartermaster.

Lewis Mills of Springbrook, Or., who has been stopping in town for the past ten days, left on Tuesday, for Alger, Cal., where he has prospect of work on a railroad. I. E. Stratton who is traveling in the interest of the Oregon Handle Manufacturing Co., of Newberg, spent Tuesday in town. While here he rustled some business for the company and visited meantime with the News force.—Gold Hill News.

Prof. Chas. Redmond whom we mentioned in last week's issue as ill, has steadily grown worse, and on Sunday a consultation of the physicians of this city was held and it was decided that it would be advisable to remove him to Portland for treatment, thinking that under the care of specialists he might be cured. Tuberculosis of the bowels was thought to be his ailment. On Monday afternoon Mr. Redmond was taken to Portland where it was decided that an operation would be necessary. The doctors at Portland were unable to decide as to his trouble, but tomorrow an operation will be performed. His many friends in this city wish him speedy recovery.—McMinnville News.

Charles S. Culver, who with his family arrived from Oklahoma two months ago, and who has been in poor health for some time, died of Bronchitis at his home known as the Barry property, last Saturday morning. The funeral services took place at the house Sunday afternoon. The deceased was born in DuPage county, Illinois, in 1846, and in 1864 enlisted in the Eighth Illinois Cavalry, serving until the close of the war. In '69 he was married to Margaret A. Corbett, at Ashland, Kentucky, and to them were born eight children six of whom are living. The deceased was an earnest Christian and in 1894 joined the Friends church. His last days were free from pain and he passed away as one having fallen asleep.

Hervey Hoskins writes his father from the college he is attending in Philadelphia of the serious need of fuel there. Mercury had been hovering near zero for some time. The management of the school had been forced to devise some means of economizing the coal supply, so adopted the rule of turning on the heat for 20 minutes in each two hours. This was insufficient warmth, and the students' rooms seemed much like outdoors. The prospect was that the school would have to close until fuel could be obtained. Coal had to be sparingly apportioned to customers that all might have a little. To add to the trouble some of the leading coal mines were flooded with water so that they could not be operated. Dr. H. O. Eliatt, a prominent dentist of Forest Grove says that he had $900 in currency stolen from his overcoat pocket in that city last Saturday afternoon.—Reporter. A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or overloaded. Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich red blood. At F. H. Caldwell & Co.
