CLEANLINESS AND MODICITY.

Whatever You Do, Wise Brothers Advise Good Teeth.

"Cleanliness is akin to Godliness," is a quotation from the greatest book known to man, and it is as widely quoted as any saying ever used. The reason is found in the impressive truth of the assertion.

At the present time when this country is passing through an unprecedented period of prosperity, more and more attention is paid to the refinements of civilization every day. If a man, or particularly a woman, is even in dress or personal care, they are immediately noticed and severely criticized.

It is not hard as a rule to gain an income beyond immediate wants, and the majority of people in the United States are accumulating a surplus. The people as a whole are better dressed and better groomed than they were twenty years ago. Even the luxuries of fashionable society are becoming the necessities of the masses.

This is the result of a great commercial age with all its benefits.

Nothing is more conspicuous than a person's teeth. If they are good and white and clean, they are also pleased. If they are discolored or missing, then we are repelled. The tremendous blessing to humanity conferred by advanced methods of dental surgery is best illustrated by such an office as that of the celebrated Wise Brothers, in the Fisking building, Portland, Oregon. Here teeth are filled or extracted absolutely without pain. You can be supplied with an entire new set of teeth at a very moderate cost. There is no more trouble about getting your teeth put in perfect order here than you have at a restaurant in getting your dinner. The offices are a model for anybody in point of cleanliness and cleanliness.

Let it be strenuously argued that, if you want to get a long in the world and be respected and desired by your acquaintances, have your teeth in good condition. There is no excuse for anyone to delay when there are such perfect places as the establishment of Wise Brothers at hand.

The cost is slight. The pain is nothing.

Popular Lecturer's Aim.

"It is your aim, of course," said his intimate friend, "to make people think."

"No," replied the lecturer, in a burst of confidence, "my business is to make people think they think—or, rather, to make them think I think they think."—Chicago Tribune.

BATTLING AGAINST SOCIALISM.

The Crusade of Father Helder Among Chicago Labor Unions.

A movement is on foot in Chicago which should interest workmen throughout the United States, for it aims to form a coalition of church and labor unions for the purpose of crushing socialism. At its head is a strong character—Father Anton Helder, of the Church of the Seven Dolers, of Buffalo, where he aided in crushing socialism out of the unions. By means of lectures, personal appeals and general discussion of the subject, the man of the cloth who has the good of humanity at heart hopes to persuade the leaders of the labor organizations that there are unknown dangers in socialistic teachings, and that if their unions are to have any influence for good these must be avoided.

Father Helder argues that state socialism is in conflict with the natural law—the law that man may own property, which is older than the state. "Man existed," he says, "before the state, and he had a right to own before there ever was a state. The state, therefore, cannot rob him of the rights which he had before it came into existence. This is in full accord with the law of God. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods."

"The state has not the right to rob any person of his natural rights or the rights of his family. On the contrary, it is the duty of the state to protect these rights. It is for the citizen to produce and carry on the business, and it is the duty of the state to protect him and his business, and to see that nobody takes undue advantage of him; that justice and right be supreme, and that the weaker will not become the prey of the stronger."

Father Helder's warfare on socialism has brought him international fame. He is a Bavarian by birth, is 50 years of age and has lived in Buffalo more than twenty-five years. There he built a $150,000 edifice for the Church of the Seven Dolers and a schoolhouse which accommodates 1,500 pupils. Years ago he took up the study of socialism, finding in the work of combating it a broad field in which to exercise his rare gifts of logic. His writings and utterances have attracted widespread attention through the United States, and leading European opponents of socialism long ago accorded him a foremost position as an authority on the subject.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for literature, free.
