E. C. Ward returned last week from Douglas county, where he has been honored by the election as president of the new fruit association recently organized down there.

O. H. Cone of Butteville was in town a few days ago for the first time since he suffered a broken leg in a runaway accident last year, when on his way home from Newberg.

Nixon Rush and wife, ministers of the Friends' church, of Fairmount, Indiana, arrived this week and will have charge of the services at the Friends church Sunday morning.

The directors of the Chehalis Center district school are said to growing boys of that community.

Mrs. M. E. Stilwell of Tillamook sent to this office a few days ago a sample of Tillamook moss, which measures forty-five inches in length. She says it is the kind that grows on the backs of the Tillamookers.

Geo. Goodhue of Salem, state agent for the De Laval cream separators, and who is especially interested in the dairying industry, was in this vicinity the latter part of last week and visited Atkinson Bros' dairy farm.

R. W. Kirk claims the distinction of being the only man in Newberg who was fortunate enough to hear all the President's speech in Portland last Thursday. John Rees, however, was accorded the unusual distinction of a handshake with Teddy.

Sunday was the seventy-seventh birthday anniversary of Henry Parrett, who lives on Parrett mountain, east of town, and a large company of relatives and friends, numbering nearly seventy, gathered at his home and spent the day in honor of the event. L. F. Hall and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parrish and M. J.
Jones and family were among those in attendance from town.

In place of going to see the President last Thursday, Prof. and Mrs. Douglas went out on their wheels for a day's outing over Chehalis mountain and down through West Chehalis.
They called at L. W. Harger's place and engaged in an interesting conversation relative to points of early historic interest in Oregon. Mrs. Harger is a daughter of Chief Factor Pam-brun, who is one of the characters of Mrs. Dye's fascinating book, "McLoughlin and Old Oregon."

house at Newport for the season of 1903.

It is expected that Absalom Rosenberger of Oskaloosa, Iowa, president of Penn College, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon here on Sunday, June 21.

As a result of too much management, the field meet of the public schools of the county did not take place here Saturday.
Bills were out here announcing the meet to take place at New-berg, and were also out at Mc-Minnville announcing it for that place. Some of the young athletes of the Newberg and Dundee schools engaged in some athletics over at the college and made a few pretty good records.

President McGrew, having been granted a year's leave of absence by the board of managers of Pacific college, intends to spend next year at Harvard. Prof. C.
E. Lewis of Ponia, Colorado, has been elected as acting president of the college, which insures good management for next year.
Prof. Lewis having formerly been a member of the faculty, he will be accorded a hearty welcome at the hands of old students and friends.

The memorial services held in Crater's hall Sunday morning were appropriate to the occasion and well attended. An able and very impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. S. W. Potter.
Himself a veteran, he spoke realistically of the experiences and warfare of other days, of their loyalty to the flag, and turned his thought with the exhortation to as great loyalty to the cause and service of the spiritual king.
He left with the veterans the impressive question, "When the roll is called up yonder, will you be there?"

N. C. Maris of Heppner, who returned the middle of the month from another trip to Indiana with a carload of fine cattle, made a business trip to Portland last week with his son, Homer, saw the President and came on up to Newberg and visited Thursday evening with relatives.
Homer remained and will be joined here soon by his mother and brother, Ralph, who will visit in Newberg until after college commencement. N. C. has been engaged as manager of the Pendleton banker Wade's fine herd of cattle, near Hot Lake, and will take charge at once.

President Boardman has invited President McGrew to be present and speak at the formal exercises inaugurating Prof. A.
M. Brumback as president of McMinnville College, June 24.

Sealed bids will be received at the Douglas Studio up to May 30 for 50 cords good, young, fir wood, to be delivered at Enterprise Tile Factory, Newberg, Oregon, by October 1. Also, tile to trade for wood. J. F. Taylor.

J. M. Atkinson, accompanied by Geo. Goodhue of Salem, has been visiting neighboring towns and communities in the interests of the creamery business and reports good success. A number of cream separators have been sold to farmers who will ship cream to the Newberg creamery.
Joe says the people seem finally to have become interested in dairying, and he thinks the business of their creamery will be almost doubled. The news is encouraging.

Gertrude, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ward, received a valuable memento last Thursday from an aunt in England, which she may well value very highly. It is a coronation medal of solid bronze, set in a handsome case, struck off in honor of the crowning of the present king of England. The medallion is considerably larger than a silver dollar and presents on one side the cast of the features of King Edward VII., with date of coronation, and on the other that of Queen Alexandra.
The handsome souvenirs were issued through the Bank of England, but in such limited number that the possession of one is much coveted. By the time the little girl is of middle age the medal will probably be worth a snug little fortune.
