

Bad Coughs

"I had a bad cough for six weeks and could find no relief until I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Only one-fourth of the bottle cured me."

L. Hawn, Newington, Ont.

Neglected colds always lead to something serious. They run into chronic bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, or consumption.

Don't wait, but take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral just as soon as your cough begins. A few doses will cure you then.

Three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1. All druggists.

Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows. Leave it with him. We are willing.

Raise Bank Cashiers.

One hundred and twenty-one men who were born and reared at Owenton, Ky., have become cashiers of banks since setting out for themselves in the world. This fact was brought out at the funeral of Walter S. Gazle, the cashier of a local bank, who died last week. A number of the surviving cashiers of the town were present on the occasion.

SIR MICHAEL HERBERT.

British Ambassador to This Country Who Died Recently.

Sir Michael Henry Herbert, British ambassador to the United States, who died in Switzerland recently, whither he had gone with the hope of regaining his failing health, was one of the most promising men in the British diplomatic service and an eminent career was expected from him by his many friends in this country and in Europe.

He was a member of one of the oldest English families—the house of Pembroke—and was born in 1857. At the age of 20 he entered the British foreign office and in 1888 was made an attaché at the British embassy, Paris. In succession he became secretary of legation at Paris, Washington and The Hague and was then transferred in a similar capacity to Constantinople. From the latter city he was sent to Rome and then back to Paris, where he was stationed when made ambassador to the United States in 1902, succeeding Lord Pauncefoot.

While secretary of legation at Washington he and President Roosevelt, then a member of the Civil Service Commission, became warm personal friends and were devoted patrons of base-ball games.

In 1888 Sir Michael married Miss Lelia Wilson, daughter of R. T. Wilson, of New York, and a sister to Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and Mrs. Ogden Golet, whose daughter is to marry the Duke of Roxburghe next month. They had two sons.

King Edward conferred on him the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George for his services in connection with the Venezuelan negotiations. Sir Michael negotiated the treaty under which the Alaskan boundary dispute is now being settled by arbitration by a tribunal sitting in London.

BOY TIED TO RAILROAD TRACK; TRAIN PASSES CLOSE

At Bluffton, Ind., the trial for assault and battery of the ten high school students who belong to the L. S. B. secret society, and who were indicted by the grand jury for the severe hazing of TIED TO TRACK.

Ralph McBride, deceased, and three other students, brought out some startling facts. Boys were run into a barbed wire fence, jumped off high places blindfolded and tied to a track and left to have a passenger train pass on an opposite track. They were unable to attend school the next day. Prosecutor John Burns investigated the charge that McBride's sickness and death were caused by the initiation. The parents of McBride did not ask for an investigation.

Favorite Foods of Royalties.

The German emperor is particularly fond of thrush salmi, a kind of stew made of thrushes. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland prefers roast joints, and the king of Spain likes underdone beef. Cuttards are the favorites of the king of Italy, while cod fried in oil finds favor with the czar of Russia, and mutton is chosen by the president of the French Republic. The grandfather of the king of Italy had a peculiar taste for a monarch—he preferred bread and cheese, and carried it about with him, even to the opera. King Edward of England has a special liking for well cooked mutton chops.

One of Her Own.

Chauncey M. Depew was recently telling a good story with great gusto, when a girl in the party laughed.

He stopped with a frown.

"What's the matter?" he asked.

"It is one of the last stages," said the girl. "You are telling me a story of my own that I told you only half an hour ago."

Whereupon Senator Depew, suddenly and ominously quiet, walked to the extreme rear for the first time in his life and took a seat there.

It is our experience that the women who give their soup French names, don't know how to make it.

A PROMINENT CHURCH WORKER SAYS SHE OWES HER LIFE TO PE-RU-NA.

Mrs. Hattie La Fountain

Mrs. Hattie La Fountain, Treas. Protective Home Circle and Catholic Ladies of Ohio, writes from Galion, O., as follows:

"After my first child was born I suffered for several months with bearing down pains accompanied by dreadful headaches. I was afraid my health was ruined for life, and felt very downcast about it. One day when a friend was visiting me she told me of Peruna and what it had done for her when she suffered with irregular menstruation. My husband procured a bottle the same evening and I began to take it daily according to directions. Before the first bottle was used I was entirely well, and you certainly have one grateful woman's blessing. I have also advised my friends to use it."

Secretary Woman's State Federation Says: "Pe-ru-na Does More Than Is Claimed for It."

Mrs. Julia M. Brown, Secretary of the Woman's State Federation of California, writes from 131 1/2 Fifth St., Los Angeles, Cal., as follows:

I have never known of any patent medicine which did what it professed to do except Peruna. This remedy does much more than it claims, and while I have never advocated any medicine I feel that it is but justice to speak a good word for it because I have found it to be such a rare exception.

"I have known several women who were little better than physical wrecks, mothers who dragged out a miserable, painful existence, but were made well and strong through the use of Peruna."

I have known of cases of chronic catarrh which were cured in a short time, when a dozen different remedies had been experimented with and without good results. I use it myself when I feel nervous and worn out, and I have always found that the results were most satisfactory." JULIA M. BROWN.
