No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with scrofula and came near losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to walk, and when I had taken eight bottles I could see as well as ever." SUSAN A. HAINES, Withers, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Lost Fortune in Crap Game.

Herr Jules Block, the Swiss iron magnate, lost $30,000 in a game of craps at Tozaph, a Colorado mining camp, last week. He merely smiled at his ill luck and the next day drew on his New York bankers for a sufficient sum to make good his losses.

The Innocent Suffer With The Guilty

The world to-day is full of innocent sufferers from that most loathsome disease, Contagious Blood Poison. People know in a general way that it is a bad disease, but if all its horrors could be brought before them they would shun it as they do the Leprosy. Not only the person who contracts it suffers, but the awful taint is transmitted to children, and the fearful sores and eruptions, weak eyes, Catarrh, and other evidences of poisoned blood show these little innocents are suffering the awful consequences of some body's sin. So highly contagious is this form of blood poison that one may be contaminated by handling the clothing or other articles in use by a person afflicted with this miserable disease. There is danger even in drinking from the same vessel or eating out of the same tableware, as many pure and innocent men and women have found to their sorrow. The virus of Contagious Blood Poison is so powerful and penetrating that within a short time after the first little sore appears the whole system is infected and every drop of blood in the body is tainted with the poison, and the skin is soon covered with a red rash, ulcers break out in the mouth and throat, swellings appear in the groins, the hair and eyebrows fall out, and unless the ravages of the disease are checked at this stage, more violent and dangerous symptoms appear in the form of deep and offensive sores, copper colored spots, terrible pains in bones and muscles, and general breaking down of the system.

S. S. S. is a specific for Contagious Blood Poison and the only remedy that antidotes this peculiar virus and makes a radical and complete cure of the disease. Mercury and Potash hold it in check so long as the system is under their influence, but when the medicine is left off the poison breaks out again as bad or worse than ever. Besides, the use of these minerals bring on Rheumatism and stomach troubles of the worst kind, and frequently produce bleeding and sponginess of the gums and decay of the teeth. S. S. S. cures Blood Poison in all stages and even reaches down to hereditary taints and removes all traces of the poison and saves the victim from the pitiable consequences of this monster scourge. As long as a drop of the virus is left in the blood it is liable to break out, and there is danger of transmitting the disease to others. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and can be taken without any injurious effects to health, and an experience of nearly fifty years proves beyond doubt that it cures Contagious Blood Poison completely and permanently. Write for our "Home Treatment Book," which describes fully the different stages and symptoms of the disease.

All Clear to Him.

"Yes," said the traveling artist, who had paused to contemplate the charming view from Mr. Meddergrass' front yard and to drink a cup or two of buttermilk; "yes, I should like to linger in this lovely spot all summer. To me there could be nothing finer than to remain here and bask in the light of inspiration, while the wonderful scenery grew more and more upon me. Do you grasp my thought?"

"I reckon I do," said Mr. Meddergrass. "You mean you'd like to loaf around here long enough to get hayseed in your hair and then sit still till it sprouted."—Judge.

Ocean Defined.

The class in elementary geography was up for recitation. "What is an ocean?" asked the teacher. "You may answer, Janet."

"It is a large body of water situated near Norfolk, Va.," replied Janet, who had once visited her aunt at the seashore.

Imitation.

The hairdresser had done rather a hasty job on the raven locks of the young woman.

"Well," she said, surveying the result in the morning, "this is a sham-poo, all right, if there is any such thing as a real 'poo.'"—Chicago Tribune.

A Long Felt Want.

I understand some brands of flour are "self-raising."

She—Of course. Didn't you ever hear of that before?

He—No. I was thinking how nice it would be if they'd only invent self-raising coal, that would get into the scuttle and come out of the cellar itself.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children the teething season.

Still Too Young.

"This is my birthday."

"And I suppose you feel as young as you ever did?"

"No, I don't believe I'm quite old enough yet to feel as young as I ever did."—Town and Country.

Savory Meat Puddings.

Any little pieces of minced meat and lean ham, one-quarter pound suet, one-half pound flour, an onion chopped very small, pepper and salt and a little chopped parsley. Mix all the ingredients in a bowl and moisten with a little stock—just sufficient to make the mixture cling together. Place in a buttered pudding dish and boil for four hours. Turn on a dish and serve with good gravy.—Washington Star.

Household Talks

Pear Pudding.

Pare and quarter sufficient pears to fill a quart measure. To a cup of sugar add a cup of water. Let this boil, then add the pears and stew gently until tender. Soak half of a five-cent loaf of white bread in tepid water until soft, then press dry and crumble fine. Melt half a cup of butter in a skillet over the fire, add the bread and stir continually until well dried, but not browned, then set aside to cool. Beat the yolks of three eggs and half a cup of sugar until light, then add in succession half a teaspoonful of cinnamon, the bread and the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Butter well a deep granite pudding form, put in half of the pears, then the bread mixture and the remaining pears on top. Cover closely and bake slowly about one and a half hours. Serve hot.—Good Housekeeping.

Scrapie.

Boil a cleaned pig's head until the flesh slips easily from the bones. Remove the bones and chop the meat fine. Set the liquor in which the meat was boiled aside until cold, take the fat off, and return the liquor to the fire. Bring to the boil, drop in the chopped meat and season with pepper and salt. Boil up again and thicken with cornmeal, stirring this in gradually. Cook an hour, stirring frequently during the first part of the time, then moving it toward the stove where it will cook gently. When done pour it in a shallow pan to form. When cold and firm this can be sliced and fried.

Potatoes with Cheese.

Cut six cold potatoes into dice. Make a sauce by melting two tablespoonfuls of butter; add two tablespoonfuls of flour and pour on slowly one cupful of white stock and one cupful of milk; season with salt and pepper and add four heaped tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. Put a layer of potato into a baking tin, and pepper; cover with sauce, and so continue until all is used. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs, and brown in the oven.

Cocoanut Cookies.

Mix together two cupfuls of flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder, and a good tablespoonful of lard rubbed into it; stir in one cupful of sugar, one cupful of grated cocoanut, and beat one egg with a cupful of milk; add a few drops of flavoring and stir all very well together. If the paste is too thick to drop from the end of a spoon, use a little more milk; drop in small cakes and bake quickly.

Potatoes Au Gratin.

Slice potatoes thin and put them in layers in a greased pudding dish, sprinkling each layer with salt, pepper and bits of butter. When all are in, pour in a half cup of hot milk and sprinkle the top layer of potatoes thickly with cracker crumbs mixed with salt and pepper and bits of butter. Bake, covered, for half an hour, uncover and brown.

Queen Cakes.

Beat half a pound of butter and a pound of sugar to a cream; add six eggs, one by one, beating well between each; flavor with the peel of a lemon grated, squeeze in the juice of half a one, and then sift in the flour warm and dry. When well mixed, these cakes should be baked in a moderate oven.

Drop Biscuits, Lemon.

Beat eight eggs with a pound of powdered sugar for ten minutes with an egg beater, or fifteen minutes by hand, then add gradually a pound and a quarter of flour and the grated peel of a lemon, with the juice of half of it. Drop the size of a dollar on buttered paper.

Brief Suggestions.

Iodine stains will disappear if dipped in liquid ammonia.

The odor of onions may be removed from the hands by rubbing them with celery.

If soot falls on the carpet cover it thickly with salt. It may then be brushed up without fear of doing damage.

Brass pans should be cleaned before use. Rub them with salt and vinegar, then rinse thoroughly with water and dry with a soft cloth. Thus you may be sure that the pans are free from verdigris, which is a strong poison.

A good and cheap floor stain is made by dissolving an ounce of permanganate of potash in two quarts of water. Apply it with a brush after the floor has been well scrubbed and is quite dry. If the color be not dark enough apply another coating of stain. Let dry and then varnish or, better far, polish with beeswax and turpentine.

A Champion.

"Did I understand you to say," queried Col. Stilwell, "that you regard moonshine as all moonshine?"

"You did," answered the disappointed youth.

"I am sorry to disagree with you. But I came from a portion of Kentucky where 'moonshine' is one of the most businesslike institutions on earth. I cannot sanction these disrespectful references to it."—Washington Star.

Ruxton—So?
