

Eruptions

The only way to get rid of pimples and other eruptions is to cleanse the blood, improve the digestion, stimulate the kidneys, liver and skin. The medicine to take is Hood's Sarsaparilla Which has cured thousands.

"Mamma, what is Topsy's other name?" "Topsy in the play? I don't know, dear; just Topsy, that's all." "Oh, she has another name. I heard papa speak it yesterday, but I can't think of it now. Oh, yes, I remember—it's Topsy Turvey!"—Kansas City Journal.

In Kentucky: Ascum—I don't know whether your head over the article about Colonel Lushman's death was printed the way you intended, but it was a good one. City Editor—Let me see. What was it? Ascum—Has fought his last battle.—Philadelphia Press.

Egyptian Maxims.

An Egyptian papyrus which dates back to about 4,000 B. C. has the following injunctions: "Calumnies should never be repeated." "Guard thy speech before all things, for a man's ruin lies in his tongue." The wise men of the race early learned good sense.

Just in Hard Luck.

Irate Guest (to waiter)—Look here! Didn't I order a Swiss cheese sandwich?

Polite Waiter—Yes, sir, and there it is.

Irate Guest—There are two slices of bread, but can you find any cheese on them?

Polite Waiter—I'm sorry, sir. The cheese is there all right, only you happened to hit on one of the holes.

Determined.

"My brother is very much hurt that you should refuse to correspond with him," said Mr. Chellusman's sister. "By failing to answer his many letters you wrong him, although, perhaps, you do not mean it."

"No," replied Miss Jilt. "I do not mean to wrong him; neither do I mean to write him."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Friend—Now that you have made millions, what will you do? Old Bullion—I shall retire, and amuse myself telling people what a burden wealth is, and how happy I was when I was poor.—New York Weekly.

Vanity: Mr. Potts (to his wife)—My dear, the air is chilly. Fermez la fenetre. The visitor (sotto voce)—Why do you ask your wife in French to shut the window? Mr. Potts (ditto)—Because you are here. If I asked her in English she wouldn't do it, as she won't take instructions from me before visitors. But if I say it in French she gets up and does it at once, so as to let you see that she understands the language.—Pick-Me-Up.

The Rule of Three: "One week from to-day, Uncle John, I will be a married man. Yes, in seven short days I will be initiated into the mysteries of matrimony." "No mysteries about it, my boy. It is just the plain, simple rule of three." "Rule of three? Eh—what three?" "Wife, mother-in-law, and hired girl."—Kansas City Journal.

Tube for Truth.

An American chemist has invented a tube for truth. You speak into it; the chemical solution changes color according to the tenacity of your emotion, and truth and mendacity are described as being quite distinct and vivid colors.

Girl in the Grand Stand—Isn't that a cruel game? Do you think it's fair for a dozen men to pile themselves on top of the poor fellow that has the ball? Her Escort—No; there oughtn't to be more than eleven of them, anyway.—Chicago Tribune.

"Do you believe that the American people like to be humbugged?" "No, sir," answered the sturdy patriot, "but when they find anyone smart enough to do it they can't help takin' off their hats to him."—Washington Star.

The physicians of ancient times, who were pretty acute observers and knew more than some of their scientific successors of the present day are wont to believe, placed a good deal of reliance on the indications of disease which are furnished by the tongue. Even yet an inspection of the tongue is one of the routine practices of the physician in his professional visits. The tongue not only tells of the condition of the stomach and digestive organs, but also gives much valuable information regarding the state of the blood and of the nervous system.

In simple indigestion due to want of tone in the stomach and intestines the tongue is broad and flabby, the sides showing indentations from pressure against the teeth; the surface is covered with a thick white fur with a yellowish or brownish tint.

In chronic disorders of the stomach and other digestive organs the tongue is usually more or less dry and its surface has a glazed appearance, with a patchy whitish or brown coating.

In irritable or inflammatory affections of the stomach the tongue is elongated, and pointed, dry, of a bright red or a brown color, and its surface is sometimes cracked or furrowed. The furrowed tongue is also indicative in many cases of kidney disease, or perhaps of a state of irritability of the nervous system.

In feverish conditions the tongue is almost always coated and more or less dry, the degree of dryness often increasing with time and the height of the fever.

In protracted typhoid and typhus fevers and other affections in which the vital forces become greatly depressed, the tongue is covered with a brown or blackish fur, is dry and hard, and the surface seamed with deep cracks. In scarlet fever one often sees the "strawberry tongue," the surface appearing unnaturally red and dotted with small elevations, after the clearing away of the white coat.

The tongue is tremulous in cases of great weakness, of temporary nervous excitement, of shaking palsy, and of lead-poisoning. It is protruded with difficulty in apathetic mental states, in cases of paralysis, and when it is dry and hard, as in lowered conditions of the vital forces.

When the tongue is unusually red it generally indicates weakness; when it is bluish in hue it points to defective circulation of the blood from weakness of the heart or extensive lung disease; when it is very pale it is a sign of anemia.—Youth's Companion.

AMERICAN GOT COIN FOR THE PANAMA REVOLUTION

Were it not for an American, who has taken up his residence in Panama, the recent revolution could not have been successfully carried out.

Tracy Robinson, who looks enough like the photographs of William Cullen Bryant to be his twin brother, was the man who succeeded in raising the sinews of war.

He was one of the commission, a correspondent says, that came to New York to get the coin, and the terms on which it was finally secured were that if the revolution was a success the money was to be returned, but if not, the investors were willing to lose.

That is the story as given out by Robinson, but the chances are the money sharks had better security in a cinch on some Panamanian property, from which they will now realize interest.—Cincinnati Post.

What She Saw.

He—How did you enjoy the opera? She—Oh, it was just splendid. He—Really? But it was all French, wasn't it?

She—Oh, no! Of course, some of the handsomest ones were unmistakably Parisian, but there were many pretty gowns that were evidently made here.—Philadelphia Press.

No Other Course Open.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Uses Pe-ru-na For Colds

in His Family and Grip.

CAPITOL BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON.

A Letter From the Governor of Oregon.

Peruna is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every state in the union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Peruna is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Peruna is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Peruna not only cures catarrh, but prevents it. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.

The Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Peruna. He keeps it constantly in the house. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, he says:

State of Oregon, Executive Department,

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Dear Sirs—I have had occasion to use your Peruna medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments.

Yours very truly, W. M. Lord.

It will be noticed that the governor says he has not had occasion to use Peruna for other ailments. The reason for this is, most other ailments begin with a cold. Using Peruna to promptly cure colds, he protects his family from other ailments. This is exactly what every other family in the United States should do. Keep Peruna in the house. Use it for coughs, colds, la grippe, and other climatic affections of winter, and there will be no other ailments in the house. Such families should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's free book, entitled, "Winter Catarrh." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. RHEUMATISM

AN INDESCRIBABLE TORTURE

Because Rheumatism sometimes comes on suddenly it doesn't prove that it is a chance disease or one due to accidental causes. It takes time for it to develop, and is at work in the system long before any symptoms are felt. The blood is the first point of attack, and the poisonous acids that cause the aches and pains are then distributed through the circulation to different parts of the system, and settle in joints, muscles and nerves; and when the system is in this condition it needs only some exciting cause like exposure to night air, damp, chilly weather, or the cold, bleak winds of winter, to arouse the slumbering poisons and bring on Rheumatism. The severity of the attack depends upon the amount of acid in the blood and the quantity of acid matter in the joints and muscles. Some people are almost helpless from the first, while others have occasional spells or are uncomfortable, restless, nervous and half sick all the time from the nagging aches and pains. Rheumatism is a disagreeable companion even in its mildest form. It grows worse as we grow older, and frequently stiffens the joints, draws the muscles out of shape and breaks down the nervous system. A disease that originates in the blood, as Rheumatism does, cannot be cured with external remedies like liniments and plasters; such things scatter the pains or drive them to some other part of the body, but do not touch the disease or improve the condition of the blood. The thin acid blood must be restored to its normal purity and strength, so that all poisonous substances may be carried out of the system, and no medicine accomplishes this in so short a time as S. S. S., which not only neutralizes the acids and counteracts the poisons, but builds up the general health at the same time.

RHEUMATISM IN ELBOWS, WRISTS AND KNEES.

Urbana, Ohio, Aug. 25, 1903. Last winter I had a severe attack of Rheumatism. It started in the right elbow, and from there to my wrists; the right wrist was the worse. It became swollen and extremely painful. My left knee joint was the next place to be attacked. It became swollen and of course painful. The next point to be affected was the hip and ankle, which gave me much trouble. I was barely able to get about for some time. I was under treatment of a physician for awhile, but getting no better I began S. S. S., and after taking it for some time I was entirely relieved of the Rheumatism. All swelling and soreness disappeared. I consider S. S. S. an excellent remedy for Rheumatism and all troubles having their origin in the blood.
