FRESHMAN ORATORICALS.

Miss Alverta Meats, J. Huber Haworth and Paul Maris the Winners.

Sixteen Freshmen contested for oratorical honors, half of them Friday evening and the other half Saturday evening. In one-way a Freshman contest is watched with more interest than that of any other class. It is in the lower classes that the successful college orator is discovered and developed, and the Freshmen are unknown quantities until after their first contest. Once in a great while, as in the case of Elwood Minchin, a Freshman jumps to the front, and wins the college and state contest in whirlwind style. While this is very rarely the case, promising material is often "spotted" and marked for future reference.

Thus it is this year. The large classes made a good showing. Like other generations before them they discoursed on the Father of his Country, Abraham Lincoln, Jefferson, Franklin, John Brown, the Pilgrims, Columbus, Martin Luther, Demosthenes and even old Lyeurgus, but we all like to be reminded of these worthies and expect it. With cheerful confidence the young orators tackled the trust question, international arbitration, the theory of modern education, and various moral questions to the edification of their hearers.

The judges gave Alverta Meats, J. Huber Haworth and Paul Maris first, second and third places respectively. With the necessary training, these, as well as some others on the contest, are to be heard from in the future.

Leap Year Suggestions.

They know a good thing in Kansas and are not slow in getting possession of the same. As evidence of the fact read the following "open" letter, written by a matron in a Kansas town and published in the local paper for the encouragement of her less fortunate sisters.

"There may be those in this town, a few ladies,—and we are not blaming them, as we realize that it may not be entirely their fault—who should not forget that this is their first chance in eight years to procure a husband of their own choosing. They should not neglect the opportunity, as the writer of this word of advice, being married herself can heartily recommend the adjunct of a husband in a home. Of course some husbands are better than others, and we don't expect you to get one the equal, or nearly so, in perfection as the one I have most in mind, but I should think most any kind of a man would be better than none at all. Yes, I can truly say that a husband is a good thing in a family, and I am sure if you take my advice and procure one, now that you have the legitimate right, you will never regret the step; much more thank me for this reminder. In your hearts you are now no doubt, saying: "It is none of her business, the mean thing" but I can endure the absent imputation, knowing that when you have tried it you will all be anxious to fall on my neck and weep tears of gratitude. Now or, may be, never ladies. Oh, the appalling thought! Don't procrastinate. Don't hesitate. Get a man, I don't know, but some how, even should you be compelled to chloroform him."

There are three different chairs to be had at Porter & Larkin's and you can just as well have them all without any extra expense to yourself.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed. Bottles 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at F. H. Caldwell & Co.'s drug store.

The character that needs law to mend it is hardly worth tinkering.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in stomach and liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c at F. H. Caldwell & Co.'s drug store.

T. B. Cummings & Company keep furniture, windows, shades, curtain poles, portiers, carpets, matting, rugs, and in fact everything kept in a first class and strictly up-to-date furniture store. They also handle paints, oils, glass, brushes and a full line of enamels. A large stock of undertaking goods kept on hand. Embalming a specialty.
