quire opposite Richs' grocery. t2

Ladies, on Saturday, March 26, I will have my opening of spring and summer millinery.
All are cordially invited. Mrs.
I. A. Horton.

Mrs. Mary Parks desires to express her thanks to those who rendered kindly assistance during the sickness of her husband who died Wednesday.

Tom Herd and several others have ordered phones and are expecting to string a mutual wire at an early day. They hope to continue the line to Scholls.

Rev. David De Tar, a retired Methodist minister who has been out from Lincoln, Nebraska, on a land deal near Corvallis, spent Saturday and Sunday in town visiting with Prof. and Mrs. O. C. Albertson, he being an uncle of the latter.

The boys who left here for Alaska to engage in fishing write home that the boat failed to land at their objective point on the way up and consequently they made the through trip to Skagway and return. At Skagway they found it cold and not very inviting.

L. J. Parks, a native of Washington county, Virginia, died Wednesday morning of tuberculosis, leaving a wife, two children, and a sister living in Virginia. Deceased came from California last December and has been living on a small place two miles west of Newberg.

Jo Ego has sold his fruit farm near town, better known as the Bowerman place, to a man from Hoquiam, Washington, named Noble, the price being $7000. Jo will move to the old Gubser farm on Chehalem mountain, which he recently bought, and Mr. Noble will arrive Monday with his family to take possession of his new home.

A man was arrested in Portland a few days ago for throwing broken glass in the street.
If Newberg has an ordinance against such conduct it ought to be enforced and if we have no such ordinance one should be passed. Broken glass may easily ruin a valuable horse and it is a terror to barefoot children, and anyone ought to have gum-ption enough to put it where it can't do harm, but some don't have and an occasional object lesson would serve as a reminder.

M. H. Preston, who has rented the E. M. Arthur place northeast of town which is owned by Mr.
Arthur's sister, arrived here this week from San Jose, California, with a car loaded with a team of horses and household effects and has taken possession of the place. His wife and children and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H.
Robinson, have joined him since his arrival. Mr. Arthur has gone from the community but the Graphic is unable to state what he will engage in.

Lewis and Clark envelopes for sale at the postoffice.

A fine display of hats are to be seen at Mrs. Horton's with prices right.

F. A. Hays made his regular trip over from Vancouver to spend Sunday with his family.

Mrs. F. K. Jones and daughter Bernice visited with the Mc-Minnville grand parents over Sunday.

Mrs. W. K. Allen and Mrs. G.
E. Metcalf and daughter Bernice went to Portland Wednesday for a few days visit with relatives.

That new building at the intersection of First street and the Dayton road stands out like a fat boy in a seaside bathing suit and it is no skyscraper either.

L. W. Charles who learned to stick type in this office, went to Independence Monday to begin work in the Enterprise office.
His family will follow as soon as he gets a location.

Emmer Newby who is with the Knox-Kantner Co., was called home to Rosedale a few days ago on account of the serious illness of his mother.
His sister Miss Clara also arrived home from Philadelphia.

F. F. Winter returned from Southern California last week where he went on business. He sold out all his interests there and says he prefers Oregon. He found many of the owners of small ranches dissatisfied on account of the long dry spell and anxious to sell and come to Oregon.

Herd and Hansen, the carpenters who are putting up the new creamery building, will, in a short time begin work on a barn over near Scholls that is to be a monster. It will be 48 by 128 feet and forty feet to the eaves, beside an eight foot basement.
The basement which will be for housing cattle will have a concrete floor and the next floor above, which will be for horses, is to have an asphalt floor. The carpenters expect to be on this farm throughout the season as they have some other smaller buildings to erect.

William Everest says that last Sunday, March 20, was the fifty-fifth anniversary of his departure for the California gold fields.
He in company with his father and brothers and several others who lived in this community at that time left here in row boats, bound for Astoria where they hoped to board a sail boat at once for the new Eldorado. Arriving at Tongue Point above Astoria they found the water so rough they carried their luggage over the point and pulled their boats over also. Here they met disappointment for it was a month after their arrival when the vessel finally set sail and passed out to sea. They were quite successful in their venture as Mr. Everest says he and his father made a hundred dollars a day every day they mined.
They arrived home in August.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

This weather is not just right for farming, is it? But Old Oregon always gives seed time and harvest. And you will need some new farming implements. We have just received a lot of the old reliable

Oliver Chilled and Steel Goods.

This line of goods needs no word of praise to the old-time resident, but to the farmer who has recently located in our midst, let us tell you a fact. There were more Oliver Chilled and Steel Goods sold on this coast last season than all other makes combined.

The only full stock of grass and garden seeds kept in town. Yes! we sell barbed wire, hop wire and woven fencing at right prices. All kinds of feed, land plaster, at carload rates.

at Pressnall Bros. store, Saturday March 26.

Don't forget to get your season tickets for the band concert changed at Heacock & Heacock's.

The funeral of O. F. Farr was held at the Friends church Sunday afternoon. The services were conducted by Jesse Edwards.

The tap of the fire bell Tuesday morning brought out the fire lad-dies in short order and the two hose carts and the hook and ladder wagon were soon at the residence of Silas Comer, where some suspicious smoke had caused some alarm, but their services were not needed.

W. C. Woodward arrived home Wednesday from a sojourn of two months in California.
With him came Ira H. and Riley D. Woodward, brothers of the publisher of the Graphic, with their wives and May, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D.
Their homes are at Haviland, Kansas, but they have been spending the winter at Whittier, California. They will remain for some time and we will swap old-time yarns and probably some new ones.
