Notice the latest "Little Bo-peep" hats at The Misses Hutchens'.

Miss M. C. Hutchens made a business trip to Portland last Saturday, returning Monday evening.

You don't pay any more for your goods with chairs than you did without them at Porter & Larkin's.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will have a window sale at the store of J. A. Hughes on Saturday, April 16.

For Sale—California white raisin grape cuttings. Bunches of 10 cuttings, 25 cents. A. L. Stevens, River street.

Harvey Frazier is adding some rooms to the rear of his laundry building, which he will fix up for living quarters for his family.

The two Snipes brothers of The Dalles, who have been attending college here this year, returned home the first of the week.

T. D. Snodgrass left Monday on a business trip of a few weeks up into the Alberta country. Tom expects eventually to become a Britisher.

Work has been begun just east of the C. K. Spaulding residence on the cottage which is being erected by Miss J. D. Miller. J. S. Rees has the contract.

When you want anything in the millinery line, see Mrs. I. A. Horton. Have you seen those geraniums, carnations, roses and other flowers? It is our pleasure to show you our goods, whether you wish to buy or not.

Special sale of musical instruments at J. M. Shaw's store—one S. S. Stewart banjo, one Marquette guitar, two mandolins. During the month of April any of these instruments will be sold at regular price and a fine new case, worth $1.50, given free.

Enos Ellis has been awarded the contract for doing the ditching required for putting in the Dayton system of water works. He will be sure of a job for some little time, as the ditch will be three miles in length. He will put a force of men to work the first of the week.

After a vacation of a day or so, the work of the spring term opened up at the college very auspiciously Tuesday morning. The chapel exercises were turned into an informal jollification over the victory of Walter Miles in the state prohibition oratorical contest, the balmy spring atmosphere being set vibrating rapidly with college yells and hurrahs for the victor. In the way of a short program, Walter Woodward spoke on "The Man Who Wins," followed by the orator, Walter Miles, who told "How It Was Done."

A new organization is being launched among Newberg young ladies, as a fitting name for which allow us to suggest that of "squaw club." Indian basket weaving is the latest fad and is the inspiration of this co-operative movement. The club held its first meeting one evening last week at the home of Miss Pearl Cummings. Among the master artisans are the Misses Olive Stratton, Pearl Cummings, Ione Hill, Sibyl Woodward, Lucy Gause, Bertha Nicholson, Fannie Cobb, Merle and Ione Woods, Myrtle McDaniel and Mrs. Mabel Wilmot. Others will doubtless be initiated into the mysteries of basket making. Some elegant baskets have already been turned out.

House for sale. Call at the Douglas studio for particulars.

D. Estle left Wednesday morning on a business trip "back to old Indiana."

Mrs. Bell will show millinery every Thursday at Pressnall Brothers' store. 20-tf

Mrs. Elizabeth Hutchinson is visiting in Portland with her son, Dr. Woods Hutchinson, and family.

Aubrey Kramien and Charlie Morris left last Friday for a trip of a few days to their homestead claims over on the coast.

The public school children celebrated arbor day by scattering out and cleaning up the premises and streets in the vicinity of the school grounds. A good object lesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Woods arrived Monday evening from Henry county, Indiana, and are visiting old Hoosier friends in the persons of Dan Gilbert and family.

Leavitt & Parrott's fine new bowling alleys were opened to the public the first of the week and the balls have been rolling lively, despite the nice weather outdoors.

Mrs. H. N. Sheets, of Sacramento, California, is making a visit in West Chehalis with her daughter, Mrs. T. D. Snodgrass, and family. She will remain for several weeks.

Miss Emma Dorrance of Centralia, Washington, visited in Newberg the first of the week. She and her grandmother will move back to Newberg in the near future, the latter expecting to buy property and build a cottage here.

Held back by a late spring, the fruit trees of this section came as near literally bursting into bloom as a result of the warm summer days the first of the week as could well be imagined. The valley and hills are white with blossoms and redolent with their sweet fragrance.

The farmers' feed stable is going up rapidly, and the proprietor, M. Nicholson, announces to the public that he expects to be ready for business within two or three weeks. Waiting rooms will be provided, giving accommodations to the farmers and their families as well as to their teams.

The days are now lengthening very perceptibly and old Sol is rapidly cutting down the monthly electric light bills. Proprietor C. J. Edwards announces that after this week the all-night service will be discontinued until September. In other words, go to bed by twelve o'clock or sit up in the dark—or moonlight.

Dr. T. L. Eliot of Portland was given close attention by a large audience at the Friends church Friday evening while he spoke of Japan and its people. The historical sketch which he gave of the country was very comprehensive, the most interesting part of the lecture being the portrayal of present conditions.

A German, Martin Bower, committed suicide Tuesday morning by hanging himself from a rafter in the hop house in the Nichols hop yard near Dayton. Bower was eccentric, if not insane, it being stated that his mental aberrations were most marked during the prevalence of warm weather. He was found soon after the deed was committed, and Coroner Cummings went up in the afternoon and held an inquest. Deceased left a wife and three children.

E. E. Fleishauer left Wednesday morning on a trip to Eastern Washington.

The Spaulding Logging Company is putting in a spur from the main switch to the side of their new building and lumber yard on First street.

A new and complete line of dress and street hats just received by The Misses Hutchens.

The Woodward brothers and their wives and Miss May, of Haviland, Kansas, after a three weeks' visit here, left Wednesday morning for their home where the wind bloweth where it listeth. The farewells said were not as tearful as they would have been were it not for the fact that, having had their eyes opened to something better, the Graphic expects to welcome them back "when the roses bloom again."

The regular meeting of the Newberg Board of Trade will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall next Monday evening and will be of unusual importance, as officers are to be elected for the coming year. Matters relative to Yamhill county's interests at the Lewis and Clark fair are also to be discussed and should call for a good attendance.

The Indian entertainment announced in last week's issue will be given next Tuesday evening in Crater's hall, the principal feature of which will be a Hiawatha program, consisting of readings illustrated by tableaux and pantomime. Good music will also be arranged. Mrs. Sarah A. Evans of Oswego, secretary of the Sacajawea Statue Association, will be present and give a talk upon Indian curios, of which she will have a collection on hand, both on exhibit and on sale. Admission to the entertainment, 25c; children, 15c. The proceeds go toward erecting a memorial statue to Sacajawea.
