Local Events.

H. S. Britt of Portland spent Sunday under the parental roof. Attorneys Pickett and Butt were in attendance at court at the county seat the first of the week.

Just one day. On Saturday the Misses Hutchens will sell hats at a discount.

Sheriff F. W. Sittton and wife drove down from McMinnville Sunday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hodson.

Dealers in horseflesh say that it takes lots of good money to get a good animal these days, either for general work or driving purposes.

A baseball game played last Thursday between the high school and college boys resulted in a score of 22 to 9 in favor of the collegians.

Two or three reports of light cloud artillery on Tuesday were a faint reminder of what many used to listen to with fear and trembling "back in the states."

G. Bevan Emmott, a young man recently from England, arrived last week to try for success in Oregon and is at the home of H. T. Cash on Chehalem mountain.

While playing about one day the latter part of last week, a ten-year-old son of Free Hodges fell and suffered a broken arm, which was attended to by Dr. Minthorn.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Maris and son Homer came down from Eastern Oregon the latter part of last week and are looking about with a view to locating in Newberg again.

E. A. Trueblood and family of Portland, who have many good friends in Newberg, have purchased a fine new home on the east side, their number being 891 E. Taylor street.

Harry Drake, his sister, Miss Carrie, and Frank Stallion, arrived last week from Wisconsin to spend the summer. The first two mentioned are nephew and niece of H. L. Christenson.

Hon. Frank Davey of Salem was in Newberg Wednesday night helping organize a lodge of the Order of Lions. He is an old newspaper man, and of course made the Graphic a fraternal visit.

Jesse Edwards was honored at the congressional convention, held at Salem last week, by being elected as one of the two alternates to the national republican convention to be held at Chicago in June. He expects to attend.

A. P. Johnson, who attended as a delegate the congressional convention at Salem last week, made a trip on up the Willamette valley to Albany and Corvallis, arriving home Monday morning. He didn't find anything that looked better to him than Chehalem valley.

W. B. Sims came up from Portland Monday evening, prepared to begin operations in floriculture on his plat of ground on North Meridian street. He has several thousand flower plants of different kinds which he has rooted in the city hot houses, which he will begin setting out at once. Along in the summer he will build his first greenhouse, the dimensions of which will probably be 30x75 feet. He says it is almost impossible to supply the demand in Portland for beautiful flowers, and that there is no trouble whatever in disposing of all one can grow at a high market price.

Geo. Metcalf of Salem was in town the first of the week.

Mrs. Bell will show millinery every Thursday at Pressnall Brothers' store. 20-11

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Price of Portland visited in town over Sunday with F. A. Elliott and family.

Abner George, a resident of this place several years ago, died of cancer at his home at Marion on March 29.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will hold a window sale at the store of J. A. Hughes on Saturday, April 23.

Chester G. Hall of Sherwood, a former student of Pacific College, was graduated Monday evening with the class of 1904 from the state medical school.

Ben and Orle Vantress left Saturday to go to work for the summer over in Tillamook county at Hobsonville, where their brother Phin is located.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Chamberlin will soon move into the new house which is being built on their small farm north of town, across the road from Free Hodges' place.

Miss Minnie Hutchens, the milliner, went down to Portland Saturday, returning Monday evening with a fine new line of street hats. Special discount sale on them next Saturday.

Owen Maris, who has been working for a short time with the Hazelwood Creamery Company in Portland, came up to Newberg Saturday evening and began work on Monday as salesman for the Parker Mercantile Company.

The college Y. W. C. A. girls held their annual candy sale Saturday, the proceeds of which go toward sending a representative to the Pacific coast conference at Capitola, California. Their little store on First street was full of sweet things all day.

W. C. Chase, a prominent young attorney of Coquille, Coos county, who was in attendance at the republican state convention at Portland last week, came on up to Newberg and made a short visit with his father-in-law, Wm. Rich, and family.

The funeral of Mrs. Pearl C. Miller was held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pike, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, and was largely attended by friends and neighbors of the family. The services were in charge of Dr. T. L. Eliot of Portland.

Atkinson Bros., the enterprising creamery men, moved into their new building the first of the week, where they will henceforth manage their business in as fine quarters as will be found anywhere. The building, neat and attractive in appearance, is itself a credit to Newberg.

The C. K. Spaulding Logging Co. have lately placed an order with the Phenix Boiler Works of Meadville, Pennsylvania, for three boilers for their new sawmill, each to be six feet in diameter and eighteen feet in length, and together having sufficient capacity to develop 450 horse power.

Miss Cozie Hadley went up to Sheridan Saturday evening, accompanied thus far by her mother, Mrs. Lon Hadley, and was there met by Hubert Smith, brother of Mrs. J. C. Porter, the two making their way over to Tillamook, where they were married on Monday. Both young people have many friends here who extend congratulations.

You don't pay any more for your goods with chairs than you did without them at Porter & Larkin's.

For Sale—Small team of mules, about 1700 lbs., gentle and true; also a ton of vetch hay. Apply Thomas Herd, Fairview; mutual phone 17-6. 23-2t

While Wednesday's early morning zephyrs fanned the atmosphere, Farmer Butt made hay by sowing land plaster on his little field of grass on "Do Little" avenue.

The cases of Willie Dodge vs. C. E. Nelson and L. M. Smith have been settled out of court, the Kansas farm being re-conveyed to Dodge as a result of the compromise. From all appearances, however, Willie has another case on hand which has been taking more of his attention of late, a legal settlement of which is looked for any time.

The new officers of the Christian associations of the college have taken up their duties. They are as follows: Y. M. C. A.—Walter Miles, president; Worth Coulson, vice president; Perry Macy secretary; Shurl Pearson, treasurer. Y. W. C. A.—Bernice Woodward, president; Nellie Paulsen, vice president; Lillian Nicholson, secretary; Mary Minthorn, treasurer.
