Mrs. David Martin has been seriously ill for several days, her place in the school room being taken by Mrs. F. H. Buchanan.

Miss Mary Williams has purchased a lot north of the public school and west of Allen Smith's new house upon which she expects to build a cottage.

N. C. Maris has purchased Clarence Butt's home and will get possession at once. Mr. Butt will build a cottage on his vacant block adjoining, and while it is being erected will occupy the Keller house on Meridian street.

Claud Ferguson is arranging to make some extensive improvements in his livery barn. He will roof the enclosure on the west side, giving him increased shed room, and will likewise extend westward the front. The barn will be extended the length of the lot in the rear.

Pres. C. C. Poling of Dallas and Bishop Hartzler of the United Evangelical church spent Friday and Saturday in Newberg, the latter speaking in the M. E. church Friday evening. Pres. Poling will spend next year in the East in the financial interests of Dallas College.

In exchange for his laundry traded to J. R. and L. M. Smith last week, Harvey Frazier came into possession of the Belcher place northwest of town which he will fix up for a home. The Smith boys have leased the laundry to A. N. Pressnall who is now back at his old position.

H. W. Johnston, C. M. Hutchison, L. V. Hilton and Lee Wood arrived the first of the week from Whittier, California. After looking about they expressed themselves as well pleased with what they see here and talk favorably of buying property and locating here with their families.

Paul Brunzel & Son made a deal in hogs this week by which they shipped a carload to Portland. They purchased eighty-three fine fat porkers from E. S. Craven for which they paid seven hundred and ninety-five dollars. This is the hoggiest deal we've heard of in Yamhill and reminds one of the way business is done east of the Rockies.

Word received from the Newberg boys, Clarence Dailey, Herman Smith, Jay Heston, Lewis and Jay Mills, who went up to Alaska to catch fish for the Kaak Development Co., says they have been engaged in putting up a house, building boats etc., and were about ready to begin fishing for halibut. Manager Seth Mills and family had not yet arrived.

Foster Wachino, an Indian, was murdered in cold blood by Louis Savage, another of the same tribe, on the Grand Ronde reservation early Sunday morning. Savage was ugly from the effects of fire water and got into trouble with another Indian. Wachino attempted to make peace and was shot through the heart for his trouble. Sheriff Sitton, accompanied by three other men, went after the murderer who gave himself up. Coroner Cummings went up with them and held an inquest over the body of the murdered man.

New millinery at new prices at the new millinery store. The Misses Hutchebefs.

M. J. Hampton came up from Logan on a short business trip the first of the week.

Sale day Saturday. I will sell street hats at a reduction that will mean something. Mrs. I. A. Horton.

Mrs. Perley Davies of Oakland, California, is visiting with the family of her husband's uncle, G. W. Mitchell.

Walter Terrell has rented his cottage in the south part of town to Chas. Carey, a recent arrival from Wisconsin.

McMinnville College holds a May festival on Saturday and has invited Pacific College to participate with her in the festivities. The college athletes here are going up to try conclusions with the McMinnville collegians in a dual field meet.

A ball team of Dayton public school boys came down Saturday and played a game with the Newberg school boys resulting in a score of 11 to 4 in favor of the latter. The visitors were as a rule younger boys than their opponents and put up a good quality of ball for kids.

The Graphic is in receipt of a copy of "The Yamhills," just published, the author of which is Col. J. C. Cooper of McMinnville. It is an Indian romance, into which is fascinatingly woven much of both fact and fancy, and is a very interesting, little book. As is indicated in the title the scene or storm center of the story, which pictures Indian life and history in the Willamette Valley, is found in this county. The book, entertaining reading for anybody, should appeal especially to Oregonians.

John Larkin left Monday morning for Pendleton, and ere his departure confided with ill concealed pride to some of his friends that he was off to get married. The young lady accomplice, Miss Emma Benson of Corvallis, was visiting at the Eastern Oregon city with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Winslow, friends of hers in the Oregon Agricultural College, and at their home the quiet wedding took place on Wednesday evening. The young people are expected to arrive here the first of the week, and will go to house-keeping in the house which has been occupied by Mr. Larkin Sr. Thus one more of Newberg's eligibles in the way of her young business men, of which John is one of the most popular, is taken. The bride is sufficiently well known in Newberg to be admired for her womanly qualities, and general congratulations are in order.

Without waving of banners and without band wagon music and its accompaniments, the prohibitionists of the first district gathered themselves together here last Thursday to make another attempt at nominating a candidate for congressman. Having "been showed" by the secretary of state that their first nomination did not fulfill the requirements of the law, they resolutely concluded to try, try again. Newberg is a popular place for holding prohibition nominating conventions for the reason that the goodly number of the tried and true which can be counted in this vicinity makes less work in corraling a sufficient number of electors to make a legal nomination. As it was, when the convention was called to order, it was found that a little skirmishing about among the by ways and hedges was necessary to secure the presence of one hundred voters. R.

W. Kelsey would have again been placed in nomination for congressional honors but for the fact that being out of reach in the southern part of the state he would not be able to file his acceptance within the required time limit, which expired on the following day. In his place Rev. H. Gould who "also ran" in the same heat two years ago, was named. Newberg has the honor of naming a congressional nominee as, with but two or three exceptions, the delegates who made the nomination reside here.

The expression—looked like thirty cents—would certainly have fit in as summing up the situation after one of Claud Ferguson's livery teams got through with his three-seated hack Sunday. A load of fellows started over to St. Paul to see a ball game and were waiting at the river for the ferry. All were out of the rig but the driver, Orville Smith. Just how it happened was hard to say, but in a twinkling the bays became unmanageable and went crashing through the brush leaving the vehicle scattered about very promiscuously. No one was hurt, not even the horses. Charlie Holst gathered up the debris and hauled it back to town in the evening, there not being much left intact but the wheels. After viewing the remains Lee Smith made a bid of twenty dollars on the remnants which Mr. Ferguson lost little time in calling.

Best Cough Medicine for Children.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. Easy Pill

Easy to take and easy to act is that famous little pill DeWitt's Little Early Risers. This is due to the fact that they tonic the liver instead of purging it. They never gripe nor sicken, not even the most delicate lady, and yet they are so certain in results that no one who uses them is disappointed. They cure torpid liver, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, headache, malaria and ward off pneumonia and fevers.
