Prof. F. K. Jones and family left Friday morning for Kansas where they will spend the summer at the professor's old home. The continued poor health of his mother was what took them back.

Milt Cady returned home from Sherman county, Eastern Oregon, last week where he has rented a big farm. As soon as he can rent his West Chehalem place and dispose of his personal property he will make the change of location.

The fire-stricken town of Lafayette is reported as taking a brace since its visitation. The Odd Fellows are arranging to put up a two story brick building, a neat postoffice building has been erected and new furnishings installed, and other building is said to be in progress.

Ed Hatch, a former college student here, who is employed in Portland with the Woodard & Clark Drug Co, had a miraculous escape from being crushed to death in an elevator shaft the first of the week. With "Snow-ball's" proverbial luck, however, he was practically unhurt though he suffered a decidedly tight squeeze.

Prof. R. W. Kelsey arrived home Friday from Indianapolis where he was in attendance at the national prohibition convention. He gives a thrilling account of the oratorical contest from which it appears that Walter Miles received such an ovation as is seldom accorded a public speaker anywhere. He says the young man threw himself into the delivery of his oration with all possible fervor, the vast audience catching his spirit and interrupting him so frequently with bursts of applause that he was twenty-five minutes in speaking his twelve to fifteen minute production.

In anticipation of her approaching marriage, the young lady friends of Miss Stella Smith gave her a shower party Friday evening, bread and butter plates being the very appropriate "tokens of esteem." Light refreshments were served and a very pleasant social hour enjoyed. The young ladies implicated in the affair were the Misses Pearl Cummings, Olive Stratton, Nerva Wright, Sibyl Woodward, Lucy Gause, Bertha Nicholson, Anna Terrell, Fannie Cobb, Anna and Grace Dudley, Ione Hill, Ione Hutchens, Maybelle Edwards, Ida and Merle Woods, Jessie Britt and Mrs. A. B. Wilmot.

M. O. Pickett and R. W. Jones started out this morning for the Coast mountains on a hunt.

Aubrey Kramien and Chas. Morris are in Tillamook county, near Dolph, looking after their homestead claims.

Ernest Hill has purchased a lot of Orange Elliott and A. M. Hoskins on River street and expects before long to begin the erection of a cottage on his new property.

Mrs. Ervin Scott and little girls returned home to Portland Wednesday after visiting here for a few days with John Hodson and family. Little Miss Hazel Comer accompanied them home for a visit.

Dr. H. B. Clough purchased the home property of H. R. Satchwell the first of the week and will take possession within a few days. It is understood that the Satchwells are preparing to move from Newberg.

Gottlieb Neuman, who, on Sunday, June 19, drove up from Portland with a load of wet goods a part of which he sold out in the afternoon near the ball grounds southwest of town, was brought to a reckoning in Justice Wright's court Tuesday. The prohibition alliance of this place took up the case and entered three charges against Neuman. Deputy district attorney Littlefield and Clarence Butt managed the prosecution, C. J. Schnabel of Portland appearing for the defendant. After listening to the evidence, Justice Wright fined Neuman twenty-five dollars for selling intoxicants on Sunday and bound him over to the circuit court on the charge of selling without a license. The defendant was dismissed on the third charge, that of selling liquor to minors.

Dr. Clough is opening up an office in the rooms which have heretofore been occupied by Dr. Minthorn.

Porter & Larkin have ladies oxfords in latest styles and they please the ladies too, several styles and prices.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert and daughter Miss Belle of Rosedale who were in attendance at Yearly Meeting, have been visiting with M. P. Elliotts this week.

J. R. Smith has made the purchase of the Ernest Hill property by the Baptist church which will be occupied soon by his son-in-law and daughter who are to move to Newberg. While their own house is being built, Mr. Hill and family will occupy the McDaniel cottage just north of the Bank of Newberg.

W. W. Nelson suffered a severe accident while carpentering at Grafe's flour mill Wednesday morning. The scaffolding on which he and Mr. Grafe were working gave way, and in the fall a piece of timber struck Mr. Nelson's foot, crushing it frightfully. The wound is a serious one. He was taken to the hospital in Portland this morning for treatment.

A youth named Eggers, about seventeen years of age, who had been about town for a few days attempted to make off with Omer Gause's bicycle last Thursday. After a preliminary hearing Friday morning he was consigned to the city jail until Tuesday when he was again brought before Justice Wright. On pleading guilty he was given a sentence of ninety days in the county jail. The boy claims to come from Roseburg.
