A couple of Indian girls of Kaak, Alaska, who are students of the Chemawa Indian school, attended Yearly Meeting here over Sunday.

There are three different chairs to be had at Porter & Larkin's and you can just as well have them all without any extra expense to yourself.

Lloyd Votaw of Dawson, Alaska, who has been attending college here the past year, started home Tuesday morning. He expects to return.

Three young gentlemen named Junior, nephews of Donald Junior, arrived some days ago from Scotland, prepared to make homes in Oregon.

A. M. Hoskins is arranging to open up a bicycle repair shop and says he will occupy Bristow's old harness stand until he can get something better.

Mrs. K. P. Shuell, who received word a short time ago of the sudden death of her husband up in the Alberta country, left with her children Saturday morning for that section to settle up the estate.

Miss May Lamb has taken the position of book-keeper with the Whittier Hardware Company. Miss Lillian Trueblood having resigned to visit the St. Louis fair, for which point she will start next week.—Whittier, (Cal.) Register.

Miss Elizabeth Stratton, formerly of Pasadena, California, came down from Seattle Friday, attended the remainder of the Yearly Meeting, and is making a visit with her cousins the Strattons and with her friends Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cash.

Eli Haworth's team took its periodical spin Friday morning. It was making things hum up First street, but when reaching the Dayton road the mule stumbled and fell, the old horse slipping out of its harness and continuing on its way unattended. No damage done to speak of.

On Monday E. C. Lugar sold his home on Wynooki street, known as the D. P. Stratton place, to Delano Estle. Mr. Estle and family left Wednesday for their summer outing at Newport, and until their return, about the first of October, Mr. Lugar will retain possession of the property.

Newberg will be well represented at Chautauqua this year. Among those who are in attendance this week are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris, Mrs. H. D. Harford, Prof. and Mrs. R. W. Kirk, Rev. F. C. Stanard and family, Mrs. Henry Ehret, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Vestal, and the Misses Sibyl and Bernice Woodward. Mrs. Harford has charge of the State W. C. T. U. headquarters, and R. W. Kirk has established headquarters for Pacific College.

Carpenters have been at work this week making some changes about the depot in the way of putting in new sills, flooring and platform. The other morning some Southern Pacific patrons who were standing by noticed some eave troughing by the side of the depot and congratulated themselves that next winter they could stand around waiting for the train without experiencing the sensation of water trickling merrily down their backs. False hopes! Inquiry elicited the information that the troughing noticed was outgoing freight.

Have you seen those new oxfords for men at Porter & Larkin's?

Mr. and Mrs. Wilks returned to Tillamook a few days ago after visiting Newberg relatives.

Prof. E. J. Hadley and family of Portland visited here with his brother Lon and wife the latter half of last week.

Jesse Hobson came down from Sumpter last week to attend Yearly Meeting and make a short visit with relatives.

Geo. Mitchell and son Jay are camping a few miles from Grand Ronde where they are engaged in cruising a big piece of timber land.

J. R. and L. M. Smith who last week sold the Newberg steam laundry to A. Pickett have purchased the building on First street occupied by Elliott & Hill, tanners and plumbers.

C. C. Elliott has closed the sale of N. E. Britt's farm and stock near Scotts Mills, and is preparing to move with his family back to Newberg. There is no town in Oregon that will beat it, he declares.

A horse of Lee Dadisman broke loose from a buggy Friday evening, and went racing through town with a broken shaft dangling after from which the frightened animal received some ugly flesh wounds.

A regular exodus of Yearly Meeting Friends took place Monday morning when the Salem boat arrived. Some forty passengers were homeward bound after being in attendance at the various sessions of the week.

Robert McGuire and wife returned to their home at Tacoma Saturday after having made a visit here at the former's old home. A number of friends came in on the evening before their departure and all enjoyed a right merry time until a late hour.

J. L. Hoskins came down from McMinnville Monday morning and with J. M. Atkinson drove over to Wilhoit Springs for a short outing. Hervey Hoskins, with a friend from McMinnville, is camping at the springs in the hopes of recuperating and regaining his health.

The truth, though not the whole truth, was told by the Graphic last week in regard to the new houses which have gone up in Newberg within the past year. Including additions, seventy-five were chronicled, while enough more have been called to mind to put the number above eighty. The fact of a steady, substantial growth is the best advertisement a town can have. In other words, nothing succeeds like success.

No, there is no clue to the identity of the postoffice robbers. They were tracked up Meridian street to the railroad, and in a fence corner down the track a little ways was found the tin box which had been pried open. The stamps were taken, while fifty dollars worth of stamp books and the money order blanks were left. The burglars, of which there were evidently two, no doubt made their way to Portland on a tricycle belonging on the section down the road, which was missing the next day and which was later found near Portland. Including stamps, they got nearly six hundred dollars. Many citizens are persistent in the idea that some one residing here is implicated in the Newberg robberies which have been taking place periodically, for the past few years.
