NEWBERG IN BIOGRAPHY.

county treasurer, county commissioner and probate judge among his fellows of that "commonwealth."

PRATHER & EVANS, General Blacksmithing—Artisans at the anvil and expert horseshoers and general blacksmith repairing workers are the above named gentlemen. They have followed the business for a number of years and have been located here one and a half years. They place their guarantee on all work turned out of their shop and Mr. Prather is a native Kentuckian who always believes "the best is none too good." Mr. Evans hails from Kansas as the commonwealth of his nativity and moreover is a firm believer in the west. These gentlemen are of the enterprising type who believe in pushing their town to the fore and we take pleasure in awarding them a worthy place in these columns.

M. H. PINNEY, Lumber—A noted merchant of Newberg, dealer in rough and dressed lumber, shingles, lath, lime, sand, cement and general building material of all kinds is the above named gentleman. Mr. Pinney has conducted this business very successfully during the past five years of his mercantile career in our city. He farmed for a number of years in the county and has been thoroughly identified with the growth and prosperity of this section of the state for a number of years. In all the relations of life he is rated as thoroughly gilt-edged and is broad gauge in all his dealings. Progression, integrity, unflinching and perseverance are characteristics of this gentleman and his flourishing lumber yard, commending him to the public.

S. A. ULLERY & SON, Bicycle and Machine Shop—It is a satisfaction to mechanics of all kinds to know that a shop is close at hand where every conceivable kind of repairing can be done. Such a place was opened up in Newberg last December by Messrs Ullery & Son, expert workmen, skilled in everything pertaining to their line. They make a specialty of repairing safes, typewriters, guns, registers, locks, bicycles etc., thus meeting the constantly growing demand in this community. They were established for sometime in Portland in the same department and are expert machinists that merit prominent mention in this edition.

MACKIE & CALKINS—An implement, carriage and feed store whose motto is first to carry goods of the most useful and permanent forms, second to sell as cheap as can be bought anywhere else in the state, third to make genuine merit the foundation of their phenomenal success, and fourth to carefully protect that merit knowing that fairness always brings the best results. Messrs. Mackie and Calkins, the popular and substantial proprietors have operated here one year. They have established an excellent reputation for themselves and their establishment. Prior to embarking in this business Mr. Mackie was one of the substantial agriculturalists of the county and Mr. Calkins was in the mercantile business. They are gentlemen of the progressive type that we award a high place in these columns.

H. C. LAWER, Harness, etc.—The harness and saddler interests are very important and therefore Mr. H. C. Lawer comes in for prominent mention. He is the Knight of the trade hereabouts and has followed the business four years. He carries a very complete up-to-date stock and his prices, as well as his goods, will compare favorably with any other house of the kind in this section of the west. Mr. Lawer has been established here since last October and he is building up a very gratifying trade. He is an expert artisan and is broad gauge in his methods of business, liberal with his patrons and is rated as gilt-edged throughout. He hails from Ontario, Canada.

NEWBERG HOTEL—It is proper that our hotel facilities should receive prominent mention in these pages and it would be strange indeed if this house should not be given a high place therein. No hotel in this part of the state can boast of a more genial "hostess" than the Newberg. It is very liberally patronized with the Commercial men, transients, as well as an excellent local custom. The rooms are large, well lighted, ventilated, and furnished. The table is excellent and the service prompt, polite and courteous and Mrs. W. A. Campbell, the very popular proprietress, knows just how to deal with the public. She has conducted the Newberg Hotel just one year in August and is a Normal graduate. She hails from Maryland as the state of her nativity.

NEWBERG CREAMERY—An enterprise that commands much more space by rights than can be assigned to it here in this brief review is the Newberg Creamery. They have one of the best equipped plants in this section of the state with a capacity of from three to six hundred pounds of butter per day. Their brand is The Imperial. The Atkinson Bros., proprietors of this enterprise, are gentlemen that would win in any enterprise as they possess those sterling qualities of thrift, energy, perseverance and honesty. This plant has been in operation here three years and Mr. S. W. Atkinson, manager, is an expert and practical butter maker whose superior would be hard to find on the Pacific Coast. He has followed the business seven years and served in thorough apprenticeship in the business. J. M. Atkinson operates a 360-acre dairy ranch two miles north of the city.

EHRET BROS—There are numerous reasons why this general merchandise establishment should be represented in an edition of this kind. "Progress" has been the watchword and the store is stocked with the finest, newest and most stylish and substantial goods. Mr. Ehret has operated here four years and prior to locating on the Pacific Coast was an agriculturalist in Dakota seventeen years. He is a business man that leaves no stone unturned to make his store attractive and the quality and variety of the goods the best to be found anywhere. He keeps abreast of the times and is a firm believer in dignified journalistic enterprise and "printers ink."

MOOMAW & SONS, Hardware etc.—A good hardware store is a great incentive to a town and to maintain a leading position in this line in these days of keen competition is no ordinary feat. These gentlemen are winning and their stock of hardware, implements, carriages etc., are the best money can buy anywhere. They are sole agents here for the famous Mitchell wagons and buggies. Messrs. Moomaw & Sons have been established here two years and have built up a business to very gratifying proportions, keep the very best goods and are up-to-date and thoroughly abreast with the times and we therefore award them prominent mention in this write up edition.

REV. S. W. POTTER—In a resume of this nature touching the careers of these representative citizens of Newberg who are specially identified not only with its growth and prosperity but also for its high moral atmosphere, Rev. Potter comes in for very generous mention. He has been in the state nearly fourteen years and has preached in the Methodist church for nearly thirty years. He was a classmate to the renowned Bishop McCabe and has done a great deal of his ministerial work in and around Chicago. He studied in the Wesleyan University and equipped himself thoroughly for work in the Master's vineyard. He was married in 1861 to Miss Sarah J. Detwiler on the 2nd day of April and on the 16th she packed his trunk for him and he valiantly volunteered his service for the then impending struggle between the North and South. He is a jeweler and watchmaker by trade and has operated in that line during the past year in Newberg, still devoting his energies to religious and philanthropic work. He is not unmindful of the well-being of the community wherever his lot is cast and having endeavored to adjust his own life in unison with his Creator it is his greatest joy and pleasure with his most estimable wife to assist the race to do the same.

J. M. SHAW, New and Second Hand Goods—A typical representative "New Yorker" of the progressive type is the above named gentleman. He conducts an establishment where you can either buy or sell almost anything you want from a toothpick to a steam thrasher. What you don't see ask for and the chances are its in the pile. Mr. Shaw has been in this business two years and is doing very well indeed. He has officiated as justice of the peace, supervisor and taught school in Minnesota prior to pitching his tent on the Pacific Coast. He is of the genial type who makes friends easily and never lags behind in playing his part in movements for the well-being of Newberg.

DAVID R. JACKSON, Groceries and Provisions—It has been twelve years since this gentleman opened his doors to do business with the public of Newberg. Since coming here Mr. Jackson has thoroughly identified himself with the development and life of the city. The shelves of his grocery department are laden with very fine stock of staple and fancy groceries, teas, coffees, spices, preserves, condiments, pickles etc. and provisions of all kinds, including flour, feed, hay and grain. He is a graduate of Kenyon College, Ohio and hails from Vermont. He is a gentleman who takes an active interest in the well being of the community and merits generous mention in these columns.

NEWBERG PRESSED BRICK CO.—No institution in Newberg is more closely identified with our flourishing city than the Newberg Pressed Brick Co., operated by Jesse Edwards. He is the father and founder of one of the most promising manufacturing towns on the entire Pacific Coast. In the spring of '81 Mr. Edwards landed in this section of Oregon, and the town-site is the farm which he bought on arriving here. He has been the promoter of various propositions. He farmed for a time after coming west, then went into the sawmill business. Later he operated in the mercantile line, store and warehouse, and established a factory, and twelve years ago launched into the manufacture of brick. The plant today has a capacity of 4,000,000 per year. Mr. O. K. Edwards is manager and superintendent and has officiated in this responsible position for three years. These gentlemen are entitled to the place of honor in the roll of celebrities of the firms of prominence in this city in this edition touching the careers of the men of the progressive spirit who are making Newberg what it is today.

L. F. HALL, Notary Public—The men of force and capacity who take strong hold of the rugged conditions of life and mould them into successful and useful careers are entitled to all honor among their fellows. Mr. Hall's career has been one of well-directed energy, strong determination, honorable methods and a decided attitude for the promulgation of the highest ethics in the community. He has been fifteen years here and is the official notary public and collection agent. He has officiated as J. P. for West Chehalis district. He is an old pioneer, crossing the plains in '47.

CHEHALEM MOUNTAIN CO-OPERATIVE HOP INDUSTRY—This is an incorporated institution under the laws of the state of Oregon and capitalized at $5000, divided into 5000 shares of the par value of $1 each. The business of this corporation is to plant, cultivate, raise, harvest, dry, cure, pack, sell and buy hops; to purchase, lease, sublet, clear, improve and sell for cash
