Local Events.

M. O. Pickett visited friends in the city on First day.

The Misses Beula and Claudia Linn of Portland visited here over Sunday with the Moffitt sisters.

You don't pay any more for your goods with chairs than you did without them at Porter & Larkin's.

J. A. Bergren and daughter of Walla Walla, Washington, visited here last week with the former's brother, A. L. Bergren.

Charlie Fogg, who has a civil service position as clerk in the Portland postoffice, visited friends in Newberg the latter part of last week.

J. T. Osborn recently resigned his position in the Indian service at Fort Mohave, Arizona, and joined Mrs. Osborn here at their Newberg home last week.

With last week's issue of the Graphic began the serial, "Toilers of the Columbia," a western story by a western writer, which readers will no doubt find interesting.

A. C. Millican, Pacific Coast secretary of the college prohibition association, spent last Friday evening here in conference with the young prohibitionists at the college.

Miss Maude Wills, who was graduated in June from the Monmouth State Normal, left Friday morning for Riddle, where she has a position as teacher in the public school.

Mrs. Maria Bowerman arrived home Saturday evening from her extended visit in Dakota and Iowa. She had a fine trip and a good visit, but is evidently well satisfied to be in Oregon again.

H. R. Morris has received word that his father, Wm. Morris, well remembered as a former resident of Newberg, died on Saturday, October 1st, at the home of a daughter at Georgetown, Illinois.

A meeting of the Prohibition Alliance is called for Monday evening the 17th at the Baptist church. Everybody interested in carrying the county for prohibition is invited. F. C. Stanard, President.

Walter Inman took his departure Tuesday for his home at Westfield, Indiana, where he will remain for a time with his mother who is in poor health. His parting assurance was that he would register a good Hoosier vote for Roosevelt next month.

Give the Willamette Roller Mills a trial. King of the Valley flour only $3.90 a barrel, satisfaction guaranteed. I also have bran, shorts, midlings, oats and wheat chops, rolled barley, corn, and linseed meal for sale at the lowest prices. Located near Neuman's Landing. T. J. Werth.

Special services were held at the Brethren church Friday and Saturday, continuing over Sunday, at which Elders Eby and Stover of Washington and Deacon J. P. Beckwith of Idaho, were in attendance. "The members of the church are contemplating establishing a mission in Portland."

T. D. Snodgrass writes that they arrived at their new home at Nanton, Alberta, the last of September to find an immense crop on the place, with spring wheat four feet high and oats five. In that country, he says, men are plowing, sowing, mowing, stacking and threshing at the same time.

What is more indicative of a prosperous agricultural community than substantial and up-to-date country residences? And we do not hesitate to say that this thought was "fetched to our mind" by the sight of the new home of Zimri Mills in the Springbrook neighborhood. It is a commodious house of modern pattern and would be very creditable, indeed, in any community. A drive in the vicinity of Newberg shows a very marked general improvement in country home building.

C. F. Johnson was up from Portland visiting with his family this week.

On Saturday, October 22, one day only, special prices on about 250 woolen and cotton blankets. Patterson, Jones & Co.

Wanted—A good team of horses, weight about 2500 lbs. Also wagon and harness. C. C. Elliott, Dundee, Oregon.

M. Motschenbacher is a new arrival with his family from St. Paul, and is occupying the old Hunt property on Fifth street.

Mrs. E. A. Ellis left Tuesday morning with her two youngest children to make a visit with her parents at her old home at Yuma, Colorado.

Farmers, we invite you to be present next Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15, at our Sanders Disk Plow exhibit. A. R. Moomaw & Sons.

Mrs. J. C. Clemenson went down to Portland Saturday and visited over Sunday with her son James and family in their new home. She was accompanied by her grandson, Arlie Evans.

Cap. H. H. Herrick and wife of Gary, South Dakota, arrived last Thursday and are visiting here with their daughter, Mrs. Lewis Chrisman. They may remain if Oregon looks good to them.

Charlie Barton, who has been learning the undertaking business in La Grande, was in Portland last week taking the state examination which he passed successfully. Before returning he spent a few days in Newberg.

C. S. Calkins of Mackie & Calkins has sold his interest in the feed and implement store to H. G. Miller who recently moved to town from West Chehalem. His future plans are not sufficiently mature for publication.

November is a good time to set out cherry trees. For good, clean, well-rooted sticks, see Porter Skinner, Springbrook. Trees true to name. Grafted with scions taken from bearing trees. Prices less than nurseries charge.

The Graphic's star subscriber is John Hutchinson of Oilcenter, California, who remitted the other day, paying up his subscription until near the close of the year 1906. Such substantial "tokens of esteem" make a fellow feel that his efforts are really sometimes appreciated.

D. W. Emmerson and sister, Mrs. Lottie Decker, left the first of the week for a visit at their old childhood home in far away New Brunswick, which they have not seen since they left it as mere children forty-nine years ago. They expect to be gone about two months.

County Judge Rhodes of McMinnville and Commissioner's Booth and Waddell of Willamina and Whiteson, respectively, were down here Monday inspecting some of the roads in this end of the county. Commissioner Booth is said also to have inspected the River street highway on his own hook and found it very satisfactory.

Dr. E. P. Dixon came in from Grants Pass the latter part of last week to look after the interests of his Dundee farm and looked in upon his Newberg friends. His favorite recreation in Southern Oregon is deer hunting and he came north with pockets well filled with pieces of dried venison which he handed out among the boys. They made very acceptable and toothsome souvenirs.

The Newberg Meat Market has this week changed hands, Stanley, Bond & Gilbert having sold out their retail business to H. J. Austin and Wesley Boyes, who will hereafter be found at the old stand weighing out meat for a hungry public. As business men the new proprietors need no introduction. They understand the butcher business. They will deliver purchases and ask their patrons to get orders in early in the day. The former proprietors will now give their attention solely to their wholesale and ice and cold storage business.

Miss Ruth Roberts of Woodburn is visiting out north of town with her cousin Miss Belle Newhouse.

New shipment of gents' hats, eastern styles; also neckties and shirts. Just received at Porter & Larkin's.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Jenson of Portland visited in Newberg the first of the week with their cousin J. C. Porter and family.

A. E. Moore and family moved to town this week and are occupying the McDaniel cottage north of the Bank of Newberg.

For Sale—Span of horses, with first-class set of harness, at a bargain. Enquire of Claud Ferguson, Geo. Westerfield or F. A. Crawford. 48-4t

W. E. Purdy is furnishing the new hotel by the depot with seventeen hundred dollars worth of furniture, and is about ready for business. He says he will open up next week with a banquet to the business men of Newberg.

John Dunstan writes from Trask: The weekly visits of the Graphic are a great pleasure to us, as we note the rapid progress in development of Newberg. We have a very high opinion of the "home city" and its way of doing things. We have strong hopes of closing the saloons in Tillamook county this fall.

The county convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the Baptist church in Newberg Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15, commencing at 10:30 a. m. Friday. The State President, Mrs. Helen D. Harford, will be in attendance throughout the convention, also Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, national lecturer and organizer. Saturday afternoon Rev. Gould will address the convention on the subject of Local Option. Bring lunch and spend a day for temperance.

It would be hard to please anyone who was not delighted with the entertainment given last Thursday evening by the Misses Ethel Lytle and Florence Walton, of Portland. As a soloist the former is just simply hard to beat. Her taste in selection is unimpeachable and the expression which she puts into her numbers, supported by a voice of unusual volume and quality, gives her work a tone which is not often found. She has on three occasions sung in Newberg and the third time was certainly the charm. To one who gets heartily tired of the gush and bombast of the average "reader" who comes and goes, it is a relief to listen to Miss Walton, unaffected and sincere in her work. Her selections are new and well chosen, and adapted to her style of delivery. Her insight into human nature, especially of her own sex, is one of her strongholds as seen in her inimitable rendering of "The woman in the shoe shop." The young ladies appeared before a fifty dollar house, the ladies of the Friends church, under whose auspices the entertainment was given, clearing twenty-five dollars.
