

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS.

A BONFIRE PARTY.

The students of the college, accompanied by several members of the faculty, had a royal time last Friday evening as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Craven at their pleasant home a mile north of town. It was an outdoor party, and the absence of stiff formalities, together with the cordial hospitality of the host and hostess, made it impossible not to have an enjoyable time.

Mr. Craven had drawn up some big logs into the yard and on them was built a monster bonfire, in the light of which the young people played games and made merry generally. The refreshments were in entire keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Hastily contrived spits were produced and each took his piece of beef steak and cooked it over the burning logs. It was a striking picture—the sight of the young people crouching on either side the fire for a distance of some forty feet, enthusiastically engaged in the attempt to get their steak done to as good a turn as were their faces. A good old fashioned taffy pull followed. The evening was rounded off with singing, the sound of the choruses being wafted in to town. With three cheers for their host and hostess, the young people took their way homeward at a late hour.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

It is not often that a jollier company meets to celebrate any occasion than did a crowd of about fifty college students which gathered at Dr. Littlefield's barn last Saturday on the occasion of Halloween. The decorations were one of the most pleasing features of the evening. Fir boughs, maple and mistletoe were everywhere, cozy corners added their usual charm, while faces of jack-o-lanterns lent their usual smiling approval. The young men came in a body "all in white" and it was their first duty to guess who the strange apparitions before them might be. The prize for guessing the greatest number was awarded to Orville Johnson.

Refreshments suitable for the occasion were served, after which all went to the Gypsy tent to learn their fate. In many a chapel talk has the expression "Your future is before you" fallen on the ears of the young, but never has that future been so revealed as it was by the Gypsy maiden. Pres. and Mrs. H. E. McGrew and Prof. and Mrs. H. N. Wright chaperoned the company in a manner which showed that they too enjoyed such occasions. Mrs. J. H. Douglas showed much skill in manufacturing a fate for each one present.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

On the evening of October 27th a farewell reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larkin of west Dayton. As the shades of evening fell there were many silent forms quietly making their way towards Unity School House, well laden with baskets of good things.

Promptly at eight o'clock guests to the number of seventy quietly took up the march to the Larkin homestead, of which they took full possession.

To say Mr. and Mrs. Larkin were surprised does not half express it. Mrs. Ella Taylor in a neat little speech informed them of why they had come—to say farewell—and to wish Mr. and Mrs. Larkin much happiness in their future home in Newberg. Music, recitations, followed by a bounteous supper, took up the time all too fast until the wee small hours of Friday morning, when all turned their faces homeward, wishing they had it all to do over again.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

A very pleasant surprise party is reported as having taken place over at Tillamook Saturday, October 22, at the residence of Cap. W. D. Stilwell, that day making the seventy-first birthday anniversary of Mrs. M. E.

Stilwell, whose many Newberg friends wish her many happy returns, as did the Tillamook friends and relatives who gave her such a pleasant evening. Games and social chat were enjoyed after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Stilwell was the recipient of many birthday gift tokens.

HER THIRTEENTH BIRTHDAY.

Fifteen of the young friends of Miss Frances Mitchell were made to realize Saturday evening that the number thirteen is not necessarily unlucky, for on that occasion they had a jolly time assisting her to celebrate her thirteenth birthday anniversary. Enjoyable games were indulged in, after which refreshments were served. Miss Frances was presented with several dainty birthday tokens.

GHOST PARTY.

The members of the Circle invited the Woodmen to a ghost party Monday night, the result of which was an evening of very spooky enjoyment. Fun and hilarity reigned supreme, and not even the icy water pressure with which some of the ghosts were assisted up the stairs, served to dampen their ardor altogether.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Georgia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and become acquainted with its remarkable qualities and you will never wish to be without it. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co.

Mothers Praise It.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by F. H. Caldwell & Co.

Lady—Really I don't know, but I wouldn't take a million dollars for him.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at F. H. Caldwell & Co., Druggist.

Life's Working Rules.

Edward Everett Hale, the venerable chaplain of the senate, has boiled down the receipt for life's working rules into three sentences:

"For your health, keep out in the open air as much as possible."

"For your religion, keep faith in your neighbor."

"For your mental advancement, keep up the practice of engaging in conversation each day some one whom you know to be your superior."

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by C. F. Moore & Co.

You don't pay any more for your goods with chairs than you did without them at Porter & Larkin's.

A Good Complexion.

"Sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks restored by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers," so writes S. P. Moore of Nacogdoches, Tex. A certain cure for billiousness, constipation, etc. Small pill—easy to take—easy to act. Sold by F. H. Caldwell & Co.
