Local Events.

Mrs. Jackson of Corvallis has been visiting in town this week with her sister Mrs. John Larkin.

Howard Gove and cousin Miss Clara Humphrey of Portland, visited in Newberg Sunday with the family of N. C. Maris.

W. E. Purdy lost a mare last week valued at one hundred and fifty dollars. Examination showed the animal to have lung trouble.

Carl Skelton, son of G. P. Skelton, has taken a position with the Spaulding Logging Company as book-keeper at the Luckiamute camp in Benton county.

C. W. Train made the sale Monday of his home property on south Meridian street to N. F. Byers. He expects to move with his family to Salem in a few weeks.

On last Thursday evening a company of his neighbors and friends went in on J. M. Rittenhouse and gave him a very pleasant reminder of his sixty-seventh birthday.

P. E. Parrent, who came here from Southern California a few months ago, left Tuesday for his old home at Tangier, Indiana. He likes this country and expects to return to the north-west.

Arthur Austin, who is wearing the cadet uniform of the Oregon Agricultural College, came down from Corvallis with the delegation last Friday and made a short visit with his father Henry and family.

Master Leland Kruger, who has been spending the winter with relatives at Manitowoc, Wisconsin, arrived home Saturday. He says he has had enough of Wisconsin winter, though the cold weather does not seem to have stunted his growth in the least. His sister Miss Rose remained and will not come home before summer.

The college debating team, consisting of Lewis Saunders, Ralph Rees and Ferris Strait, will debate with the Albany College team at Albany to-morrow evening. The Newberg boys have the affirmative of the proposition that reciprocity is a better system of governing international commerce than is a protective tariff. Rev. F. C. Stanard will accompany the debaters as one of the judges.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson of New Castle, Indiana, who are visiting at Marion with the former's sister, Mrs. Phariba Morris, came down to Newberg last week and spent a few days here with relatives and friends. They have spent a good part of the winter on the coast, having visited some time at Cement, California, with their daughter, Mrs. O. J. Binford, who was here on a visit last summer.

J. B. Forsyth, who might almost be termed the Nestor of Oregon sawmill men, went to St. Johns Tuesday where he has a good position, and a responsible one, in a big mill. His activity at the advanced age of seventy-two years knocks Dr. Osler's theory into a cocked hat. From present indications Mr. Forsyth will be a busy man when twice the age prescribed by Osler as marking the limit of accomplishment.

Clarence Butt went on a trip with C. K. Spaulding last Thursday to the Logging Company's camp on the Luckiamute river in Benton county, both arriving home Monday morning. There is now a force of thirty-eight men employed at this camp and they are said to be making things hum. The donkey engine, which has succeeded the ox team, is pulling monster logs out of the timber at the rate of from 75,000 to 100,000 feet per day, and all that is now wanted to make a successful season is water. If the delayed rains are not soon forthcoming the company will not be able to get their logs out.

Miss Carrie Turner, accompanied by Miss Hamblin, came down from McMinnville Friday morning, visited Miss Lucy Gause and attended the contest.

Miss Mildred Johnson of Lents attended the oratorical contest and visited her brother Orville and the Nicholson sisters over Sunday.

Demsey Smith returned from Crook county the first of the week. He took up a piece of land near which the town of Kline Falls has been started, and thinks he struck it rich.

The Newberg Board of Trade will meet in Odd Fellow's hall next Monday evening. The annual election of officers is to take place, and such important business to be transacted as will make a full attendance especially desirable.

Worth Coulson returned to college Tuesday after having been up to Caldwell, Idaho, where he attended the funeral of his brother-in-law Edgar Cox, who died of tuberculosis. Worth's sister returned with him to their Scotts Mills home.

Miss Edith Graves of Newberg and Miss Meyers of California, who are soon to sail as missionaries to China, will hold a farewell missionary service in the Free Methodist church, Sunday March 19, at 3 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Lessie Hunnicutt arrived here last week from Lincoln, Nebraska, where she was recently graduated from the Nebraska State Normal. Miss Hunnicutt will be at home here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hunnicutt, who are recent arrivals from Southern California.

G. A. Hurley of Independence, brother of Julian Hurley who represented the Monmouth Normal in oratory, attended the state contest Friday night. Mr. Hurley is president of the Independence Development League and is greatly interested in the agitation of better train service on the West Side lines of the Southern Pacific.

Newberg should pride herself on a good attendance at the meeting of the Yamhill County Development League which is to be held here Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. The principal speaker will be Hon. C. V. Galoway, who will address the people along the line of getting ready for the big fair. The subject of better railway transportation will also be considered. It is time to wake up and take an interest in these matters, if anything worth while is to be accomplished.

After the contest Friday night some of the Forest Grove boys went to the Commercial stables and ordered their team. They maintained that the team the liverymen brought out was not theirs and insisted on another, which was finally given them. McMinnville boys came in later, and drove away with the other team. The result—the Forest Grove horses went to McMinnville, and those from the county seat to Forest Grove. Connections were made at North Yamhill the following day.

O. H. Kiser, of the firm, Kiser Bros., official photographers of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, came up from Portland Friday evening and took a flashlight photograph of the Friends church after the contest, a reproduction of which appeared in Tuesday's Oregonian. The comment accompanying the picture says, among other things: Newberg, an intensely active and enterprising little city, is the home of Pacific College, the leading Quaker educational institution of the Pacific Northwest, and one of the best colleges in Oregon. It is progressive, and a gentleman recently visiting there, in commenting upon it, said: "They know how to use paint, and plenty of it, in Newberg." Oregon is especially proud of her superior schools and churches, as the illustration given will prove her right to be.
