In union there may be cleanliness as well as strength. Let all help toward getting Newberg thoroughly cleaned up next week.

White paint and good white-wash and plenty of it used about a town, not only on buildings, but on fences, trees and telephone poles, work wonders in its appearance. Freshness in appearance and attractiveness are very important assets of an ambitious town, and white paint speaks for cleanliness. Spare not the paint brush.

The Rev. Dr. Gladden, who has come into prominence by objecting so strongly to doing missionary work with Rockefeller's money, will be one of the prominent speakers at the Lewis and Clark fair. His attitude toward the policy of using ill gotten gains to carry on religious work, will give him receptive audiences.

If you have not already done it, get some land plaster and sow on your clover fields at once. Fifty pounds to the acre does not show much when sown and one who had never seen the result would think it could not affect much, but when haying time comes you will find a wonderful difference in the yield. The returns are big for the investment.—Rural Spirit.

Yamhill county farmers seem to be taking more interest than ever before in cleaning up about their places. Old shacks are being replaced by new buildings, and dingy appearing houses are being fixed up. Fence rows are being cleaned out, and many old rail fences are being replaced with wire. The value of such work cannot be measured by the effort and expense for which it calls. If the approaching fair is responsible for the awakened interest in this direction, it has already accomplished much good.

Lewis and Clark Centennial Notes.

Sites have been selected for the Philippine village and the Homer Davenport pheasant farm. These will be located near the experimental gardens and the Grand Esplanade.

The experimental gradens at the Exposition have been abandoned, inasmuch as the remarkable demand for exhibit space necessitated the utilizing of this tract for buildings.

Hundreds of magnificent vases have been profusely scattered about the grounds. In these have been placed beautiful palms which will be in full bloom by the opening day.

A test has been made of all electric lighting effects at the Exposition. This proved exceedingly satisfactory and after a few minor details have been attended to, the Exposition will be ready for public inspection.

Reports from Wisconsin would indicate that the legislative body of that state is making haste to reconsider its action in killing the Lewis and Clark Exposition appropriation bill. An allotment of $24,000 is now assured.

The enormous Ionic columns for the Oregon state building have been placed in position. The building now presents a very imposing appearance. Work upon all the other state structures is progressing with much rapidity.

Work upon the Hungarian chadra has commenced. The structure is situated on the east side of Lakeview Terrace in front of the Utah, Idaho and New York state buildings and faces the Grand Esplanade.
