Mayor's Proclamation.

The citizens of Newberg are hereby notified that next week, beginning Monday the 24th to Saturday the 29th, is specified as cleaning up week for the city of Newberg. All refuse and rubbish along streets and on vacant lots, or on any premises whatsoever, about old buildings, or otherwise, is directed cleaned up, and piled conveniently for loading on wagons.

All unsightly accumulations of goods boxes or other debris about stores, or other public buildings, should be removed. We hope with the assistance of the committee from the Board of Trade and also of one from the Ladies Auxiliary, and with the co-operation of the people of Newberg, that by the end of the week our little city will present a more healthy and sightly appearance.

JESSE EDWARDS, Mayor.

Local Events.

Mrs. H. J. Minthorn visited in Portland over Sunday.

Clean up next week and encourage your neighbors to do the same. Better still, begin today.

I. E. Holt, who is working at the carpenter trade in the city, spent Sunday here with his family.

The new building put up by Nelson & Hanson, the bicycle dealers, is very creditable to the town—almost as good as a brick structure.

Dr. E. P. Dixon of Grants Pass has purchased forty acres of land adjoining his Dundee farm, known as the Milton Hampton farm.

Rev. I. G. Knotts of Albany, who is engaged in the work of organizing Sunday Schools, was in this vicinity the fore part of the week.

Mrs. Jesse Cook, accompanied by her younger children, went over to Aurora this week to help care for her sister, Mrs. Roger St. Helens, who is hopelessly ill.

As a result of the late rains and frost, for the most part the wheat fields over the county present a tinge of yellow which speaks the need of more sunshine and warmer weather.

Evangelist John Naugle is conducting a very successful series of meetings at the Methodist church. His address to men, given Sunday afternoon, was exceptionally good.

The first issue of the Carlton Observer, dated April 15, and published by Herbert Graves, formerly of Newberg, has reached the Graphic's exchange table. It very properly begins business by booming Carlton.

C. K. Spaulding and B. C. Miles attended a meeting of Oregon lumbermen in Portland Tuesday, the object of which was to form a state organization in the interests of the lumber manufacturers.

Lee Wood, of Whittier, California, who spent last summer here, got back to Newberg again the first of the week. He reports another man from that place, named Hollingsworth, as being on his way here with his family.

On Sunday afternoon, April ninth, there took place in Tillamook the marriage of Miss Bessie Hunt to P. B. Vantress, well known here as the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Vantress of this place. The young people will make their home at Hobsonville, near Tillamook, where Phin has a good position as bookkeeper for the Truckee Lumber Company.

Eli Seese, whose critical condition was mentioned last week, died at the hospital in Portland Friday morning, the remains being brought up here in the evening. The funeral took place in the Evangelical church at Dayton on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. J. Bowersox of Portland, former pastor, and friend of thirty years of the deceased. The services were largely attended by friends and neighbors of Mr. Seese who was held in the highest estimation not only in that vicinity but in Newberg, his later home, as a man of worth and Christian integrity. Several people drove up from here and attended the funeral. Interment was made in Dayton I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gardner of Portland visited in Newberg over Sunday with relatives.

Mrs. Henry Moss was taken to the North Pacific Sanatorium in Portland Tuesday to undergo a delicate surgical operation.

The college athletes are training faithfully under Roy Heater, and the tryout will be held soon when the team will be made up. The team will be captained by Chester Hodson.

Prof. and Mrs. H. N. Wright left this morning for Owens Valley, California, the dry climate of which section it is hoped will restore the former to complete health. The best wishes of their many Newberg friends follow them.

Prof. G. N. Hartley has been spending the week at Salem and vicinity where he has been delivering his interesting lecture on "Palestine and Other Holy Lands." It is the expectation that he will occupy the pulpit of the Friends church here Sunday.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Board of Trade will meet at the home of Mrs. Clarence Butt Saturday afternoon at 2:30. This is a called meeting to discuss and settle some important matters, and a large attendance is desired. Please all be prompt.

Clyde Carey and Lewis Mills, who had been spending a few months very pleasantly at Whittier, California, arrived home Friday. They say they found several Newberg people there who, though very pleasantly located, would like to see Oregon again.

Thos. W. Hester, a graduate of Pacific College of the class of 1898, received a diploma in Portland Monday evening, with twenty-five fellow students, as a graduate of the State Medical College. He will proceed to pick out a location and enter upon the practice of medicine in which his friends predict for him every success.

Carl Nelson and H. O. Hanson were working at their brazing machine Friday when the rubber tube gave way letting out the gasoline which exploded with serious results. Carl received serious burns on hands and face, with which he is laid up, and Mr. Hanson was also burned in the face, though less seriously.

Frank C. Miller, an attorney of Ionia, Michigan, is visiting in town with his old friend, Geo. Sykes. He is the owner of a good deal of timber land in the Wolverine state, and before he leaves Mr. Sykes expects to take him into the Coast mountains west of McMinnville and show him some of Oregon's timber resources.

At the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clemmens, there took place a quiet wedding in Newberg Friday evening, in the presence of relatives and a few friends, when Miss Lena Huff of The Dalles was united in marriage with Mr. Fred Clemmens of Lyle, Washington, Rev. H. Gould officiating. A wedding supper followed, which, judging by the cake which found its way to the Graphic office, was all that could have been desired for such a happy occasion. The couple left the following morning for their new home at Lyle, where Mr. Clemmens holds an excellent position as agent for Columbia River Transportation Company.

The Graphic is contemplating instituting an accident column. Rev. Amos Kenworthy is conducting a series of revival meetings at Marion.

Several students from here attended the contest.

Geo. Sykes and W. C. Woodward took a trip the latter part of last week into the Coast mountains west of Carlton and North Yamhill to see a piece of timber land owned by the latter. They were hospitably entertained by Niels Nelson, formerly of Newberg, who has an adjoining claim and who by hard work is making of it a fine mountain ranch home.

The public school boys, accompanied by F. H. Buchanan, went up to Dayton Saturday and engaged the school boys of that place in a hot game of baseball. The score stood 13 to 12 in favor of Dayton, but the boys think they were beaten by a critical and very questionable decision by the umpire in the last inning which put them out with two men on bases. However the Dayton young people served them an oyster supper and sent them home feeling fine. A return game will probably be played here next week.

The steamers Grey Eagle and City of Eugene are now engaged towing logs out of the mouth of the Luckiamute to the Spaulding mills at Newberg. Tuesday the Eugene passed down half a mile in the lead of the Grey Eagle each with a big raft of logs in tow and the O. C. T. Co's Altona between. The procession gave quite a business-like appearance down at the Independence water front and was suggestive of what might and will be when the people are sufficiently awake to keep the river dredged out as it is capable of being.—Independence Enterprise.

Dr. Clara M. Davidson, who for a week had been suffering from blood poisoning, died at half past one o'clock this morning. Her parents, Hon. and Mrs. C. B. Montague of Lebanon, and her sister, Mrs. Courtney of Portland, had been at her bedside for several days and the other near relatives were summoned Tuesday, who were present when death came. The deceased was in her forty-second year and had practiced medicine very successfully in Newberg for about seven years.
