Local Events.

The grade stakes are being set for the railroad cut-off at La Fayette. The line runs just back of the Burbank property and skirts the river on the north bank as it passes through town.

Early cherries are being damaged by cracking open and moulding occasioned by the cloudy, damp weather. A little more sunshine would also be of benefit to the strawberry crop.

Mrs. Edna VanDuyn, of Sumpter, has been in town during the week visiting with relatives and old schoolmates. Her father, Jesse Hobson, came from Portland with her Saturday evening and remained over Sunday.

Jesse Pressnall and C. E. Newhouse are representing the Newberg lodge at the annual gathering of the three linkers at Portland this week while Mrs. Will Nelson and Mrs. J. B. Mount are delegates to the gathering of the Rebekahs.

A. T. Blair was down in Columbia county last week on a fishing trip and the report is out that he came home with a new and well selected stock of fish stories, regarding the shooting of big carp with guns as they grazed on the pasture fields of the Columbia slough farmers.

The Polk County Observer says: A panther measuring six feet and four inches from tip to tip was killed by the farmers of the Upper Salt Creek neighborhood a few days ago. The big cat had been creating sad havoc among the sheep and goats in that vicinity for several weeks, the heaviest loser from its nightly raids among the flocks being T. S. Brown. John Robbins' dog tracked the panther to its lair, and it was soon treed and killed. The farmers say these animals are plentiful in the mountains this year.

The Juniors of the college banqueted the Seniors Friday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Romig, a very pleasant affair being reported.

Dr. G. W. McConnell, of Baker City, spent Wednesday night in town. He has rented property at Montavilla for the summer and will have the family there where they can attend the fair.

Sarg Britt is off for a vacation and is spending the time at home. He may not go back to the Willamette Iron Works when he takes up work again as he has other work in contemplation.

C. F. Moore has a new cherry, a seedling from the Royal Anne, which he thinks will prove a winner. It is earlier than the Royal Anne, it being now ripe, is fully as large, its meat is softer and it is a fine eating cherry. Charlie calls it "Moore's Early."

Mr. Will Lindsay and sister, Mrs. J. M. Barclay, of Oelwein, Iowa, are visiting in this vicinity with friends and relatives, Mrs. S. A. Lindsay being their sister-in-law. They like Oregon very much and may make it their future home.

J. A. Millsap has traded his farm situated a mile and a half northwest of town to George Weber for Ashland property. He announces a public sale of his personal property for next Saturday, June 10, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

At the council meeting Monday night bills to the amount of $880.48 were allowed. Of this amount $500 goes to A. Bowman for street grading. The bridge near the Hollingsworth property on Fifth street was ordered repaired. An ordinance was passed shutting out any more wooden walks on First street and requiring cement walks instead.

Dr. Edna Timms, of Portland, came up Saturday evening and spent Sunday as the guest of Mrs. C. J. Edwards.

Miss Mabel Edwards, who has been pursuing her musical studies in Indianapolis for the past year, arrived home last evening.

Ezra Nash, who has been at work on a Morrow county sheep ranch for two or three months arrived home Monday evening.

George H. Burrows, a lumber dealer of Buffalo, Minnesota, who is out seeing the country and the fair, is visiting in town with his uncle, N. E. Britt.

Tom Duncan returned home from Meadow Lake last week where he spent six weeks improving an eighty acre tract of land which he owns adjoining the lake property.

Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Bowers are moving into their fine new residence one block north of the Bank of Newberg on Meridian street, where their office will be located after tomorrow.

Last Thursday was dog and pony day in Newberg and a glad time it was for the boys and girls as well as for some older people. The parade of Cozad's Shetlands and dogs took place at noon and a very respectable parade it was. At least so thought some of the town urchins who were privileged to don the circus togs and drive some of the little ponies. The show, which took place in the afternoon, was very creditable and was well attended.

A meeting of business men and citizens was held Tuesday night to canvass the question of celebrating Independence Day here. The Ministerial Association suggested a peace demonstration in place of the conventional twisting of the eagle's tail, and the proposition was received with favor. Rev. H. T. Cash, who had been made chairman of the meeting, was elected general manager, with numerous committees working under him. It is the intention to have a big parade of the Sunday School children of the county led by the Goddess of Peace, two addresses on peace, a picnic dinner and barbecue, with a baseball game and amusements in the afternoon, and fireworks at night. Funds for the unique celebration are now being solicited.

Just a few suggestions about supplying roses for the county exhibit at the fair. Take nothing but the best and if possible have enough of one variety for a bouquet. One nice bouquet of this kind is worth more to the display than a bushel of roses made up of every shade and hue of the common varieties. Don't carry them in the hand, nor in an open basket if you can avoid it, but rather put them in a pasteboard box with a lid to shut the air out. A bunch of wilted roses is no good to the manager of the exhibit while a well selected bouquet of fine roses delivered fresh to his hands will bring joy to his heart. Everything goes by comparison at the fair and we must send nothing but the best and be sure that it is delivered in the best possible condition if we hope to run well in the race.
