Attorney A. King Wilson of Portland visited in town over Sunday with Howard Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, who are making a temporary home at Salem, with their family, spent Sunday in Newberg.

B. B. Cornell was stricken with paralysis the first of the week and his condition, considering his age, is looked upon as serious.

Earl Kenworthy left Tuesday to spend the summer at his home in Southern California, expecting to be back again in the fall to re-enter Pacific College.

Dr. Thomas Hester of Lents was in town one night the last of the week. He is making a very encouraging start in the practice of his profession.

Woodard Charles, who has a good position with the Metropolitan Printing Company in Portland, came up with his family the first of the week on a vacation and visit with his brother Luther.

Miss Carrie Turner of McMinnville and Miss Viola Patton of California have been visiting Miss Gussie Crawford south of Dundee and the three young ladies came down yesterday morning to see Newberg friends.

Albert & Robertson have this week moved their tinning and plumbing business from Main street down to East First into the new Bristow building and are now occupying the room made vacant by Wesley Boyes who last week sold his butcher business to the Newberg Meat Company.

A party of young ladies consisting of Miss Etta McCoy, her friend Miss Grace Silix of Kansas, Miss Carrie Haskett of Indiana, and the Misses Pearl Cummings, Mayne Elliott, Mabel Schwarzerer and Olive Stratton left Tuesday morning for Newport where they will keep bachelor girls' camp for two or three weeks.

Rev. John Henry Douglas of Pasadena, California, who was detained on the way up here by the serious illness of his brother Robert at Berkeley, arrived last week in time to get the last three days of Yearly Meeting. Robert Douglas is improving, and while disappointed in his purpose to attend Yearly Meeting is expected to come on a little later to visit Friends in Oregon.

On Monday following the close of Friends Yearly Meeting a number of the visitors were taken on the delightful drive on Chehalis Mountain and through the Red Hills west of the town. The atmosphere could not have been clearer or the day finer, and all were delighted with the ride. Visitors should not be allowed to depart without seeing our valley from the vantage point of the surrounding hills.

The cherry canning season has closed and the Springbrook Canning Company has this year put up fifty-eight tons of cherries for which it paid between four and five thousand dollars. An accident took place at the cannery Tuesday morning which caused no little annoyance. The large water tank above the building burst, letting a deluge of water down on the roof, breaking through and flooding things generally.

Dr. and Mrs. Erastus Test of La Fayette, Indiana, are in Newberg for a week or so as the guests of their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan White. Dr. Test, formerly of Earlham College of which institution both he and his wife are graduates, has for many years been a member of the faculty of Purdue University at La Fayette, the Indiana state agricultural institution. He made a trip to Oregon away back in the seventies at about the time Friends settled in this valley.

Miss Grace Christenson left Wednesday for a visit at Ocean Park, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Curl of Pasadena, California, are visiting here with the latter's uncle, I. K. Vantress.

Byron Barr arrived yesterday from Los Angeles to join his mother and sisters here in a visit with relatives.

W. R. Everest sent a fine collection of grasses to the fair Thursday to be placed in the county exhibit.

Phineas Roberts walked over from Moores Valley last week and attended the closing sessions of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

W. H. Hubbard went to Portland Thursday morning to meet his mother who comes from Montezuma, Iowa, for a visit.

Will Clemenson who is down from Clarkston, Washington, attending the fair, visited in Newberg with the home folks the first of the week.

Ray Snodgrass came down last week from North Yakima, Washington, to see the fair and came up to Newberg for a day or two to see old friends.

Oscar L. Cox, secretary of the Salt Lake City, Utah, Y. M. C. A., accompanied by Mrs. Cox, made a short visit in town the first of the week with his mother, Mrs. J. T. Osborn.

Prof. and Mrs. F. H. Buchanan leave this evening for Buell, Polk County, near where he will begin his annual summer's work as fire warden for the Southern Pacific Company.

Pres. H. E. McGrew, mother and family and his brother Benjamin McGrew and wife, the latter having arrived last week, leave this week on an outing trip to Yaquina Bay.

The family of N. C. Maris moved to Sunnyside the first of the week, as N. C. will be located in Portland for some months at work on the editorial staff of the Rural Spirit.

Miss Grace Rea of South Dakota is a recent arrival who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Bert King. She finds Oregon very different from her home state but is very much pleased with what she has seen.

Mrs. Ervin Scott and little daughters, accompanied by Miss Scott, Ervin's sister of Southern California, came up from Portland last week and visited for a few days with relatives and friends.

Owen Maris gave up his position with the Parker Mercantile Company yesterday to take a job for the summer as fire warden for the Southern Pacific Company. He will be located north of Scappoose.

Oscar Cone of the Butteville neighborhood, was in town yesterday and announced that on the previous day he had sold his hops at 16 cents after having been offered 30½ last fall. Naturally, he was not in a very cheerful frame of mind.

Dr. Rose of Fargo, North Dakota, who has been in attendance at the national meeting of the American Medical Association in Portland, visited in Newberg the first of the week with his brother-in-law, Dr. R. W. Harrold.

Sarg Britt has just received the appointment, at the hands of the Secretary of War, as draftsman in the ordinance department and will leave next week for Washington, D. C., to take his place in the office. It is a civil service appointment and comes as a reward for close application as a student.

The Christian Endeavorers of the Friends church gave a delightful picnic supper on the church lawn last Thursday evening to visiting Endeavorers and friends who were present in attendance at Yearly Meeting. About one hundred partook of the bounties provided and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all.

John Gilbert is expecting a brother out from New Castle, Indiana, next week for a visit.

Your cousins, aunts and uncles will all want a copy of the Graphic special. Don't forget them.

Willie Dodge died Thursday morning at the home of Martin Downs and will be buried Friday afternoon.

The baby page in our souvenir edition must be seen to be appreciated. Don't fail to let your friends "back east" see it.

Those who can't get away to go to Newport this summer can do their agate hunting among the pebbles on First street.

Fruit cans may now be had at Mount's hardware store by those wishing to can fruit for the Friends Alaska mission.

Mrs. W. W. Nelson went to Portland Thursday to attend the fair and distribute souvenir postal cards for the ladies auxiliary.

Chas. W. Seidel, representing the Sanborn Map Company, of San Francisco, is in town making a survey for a new insurance map of Newberg.

A lady named Flura from Jacksonville who was here with her daughter ten days ago looking at the country, has bought ten acres of the Nierendorf property near town on the northwest.

D. C. Atkin, an old time subscriber writes, "I must congratulate you on the 'get up' of your souvenir edition of the Graphic". He also enclosed sixty cents for mailing copies of the edition to his friends.

Rev. A. M. Bray and Rev. Marion George, the former from Boise, Idaho, and the latter from Laidlaw, were down last week and both were enthusiastic in speaking of the possibilities of their respective sections.

A. B. McGuire, a prosperous farmer of Dayton, Washington, who was a schoolmate with N. C. Christenson at McMinnville, is down with his family seeing the fair and during the week has been visiting with his former schoolmate.

J. M. McNay of Columbus, Kansas, accompanied by his wife is visiting in town with his brother, A. T. McNay, whom he had not seen for almost a quarter of a century. Mr. McNay is an old newspaper man and of course dropped around to see the Graphic.

John Green has sold out at Dayton and expects to move to Medford this week. He came in Wednesday to renew his subscription for the Graphic and incidentally remarked that he had been a reader of the paper for several years and supposed he would continue to read it the remainder of his life.

Rev. H. T. Cash and family will go up to their Chehalis Mountain farm home this week to spend a month or more. However Rev. Cash expects to fill his pulpit here on Sundays through August. It is expected that President C. E. Tebbetts of Whittier, California, will occupy the pulpit of the Friends church next Sunday.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the Abernathy place southeast of Newberg at noon yesterday, when Miss Hattie Mildred Jungnickel was married to Mr. Guy V. Abernathy, Rev. Jesse Edwards officiating. Miss L. May Greenman and Mr. Chas. Meyers of Portland stood up with the bridal couple. A sumptuous wedding dinner followed the ceremony to which the guests did ample justice. A very flattering report of the decorations is given, and the fact that a Newberg young lady figured prominently in the preparations for the happy event leads the Graphic to suspect that it will have a similar announcement to make in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Abernathy will live at the old homestead.
