Mary Farr.

Cucumbers for pickling may be had of Enos Ellis north of town. Mutual phone.

Miss Anna Rogers has been visiting at Dayton for a few days with her friend Miss Lena Spangle.

Cecil Hoskins, Dwight Coulson, Curt Parker and Marvin Blair are taking an outing at Newport.

Mrs. Kuykendall of Eastern Oregon visited in town within the past week with her niece, Mrs. M. O. Pickett.

Reports come from the harvest fields that the grain is not yielding well. The shortage is laid to the work of the green aphid.

J. W. Morris, an attorney from Panora, Iowa, with his wife and little one, was in town the first of the week visiting with Robert Grames.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Winslow of Pendleton, who are down attending the fair, visited in town the latter part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. John Larkin.

The new residence which M.
P. Elliott has erected on north Meridian street makes a very substantial and creditable addition to Newberg's attractive homes.

On entering the basement at C. K. Spaulding's residence Tuesday morning, J. T. Smith slipped and fell on the cement incline, breaking one of the bones of the right arm near the wrist.

C. H. Eggers, who has been carpentering at Montavilla, near Portland, was in town a few days ago, Mrs. Eggers returning with him to stay indefinitely.
He says he has steady work in sight until the first of the year.

E. C. Armstrong, formerly of Newberg, has been appointed fruit inspector for Marion county by the county court. His business will be to see that no fruit infected with scale or other pests is placed on sale by dealers. He is well qualified for the position.

Miss Bernice Mitchell, daughter of Prof. Andrew F. Mitchell of Bloomingdale, Indiana, who was here a few years ago, has been visiting in town this week with the family of her uncle, Geo. W. Mitchell. She has been in Los Angeles for two or three years and is now on her way home.

Prof. F. K. Jones and family left this morning for Tonga-noxi, Kansas, where they will spend a month visiting at his old home, after which they go east, Prof. Jones to enter Yale College for a year of advanced work. Newberg friends bespeak for them a pleasant and successful year.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cutter and daughter Miss Hattie of Whiting, Iowa, and Mrs. Hite and son Garfield of Progress, visited here the latter part of the week with Mrs. Dudley and daughters Anna and Grace, Mrs. Cutler, Mrs. Hite and Mrs. Dudley being sisters. The Iowa visitors were unstinted in their praise of Oregon.

The Misses Etta McCoy, Grace Sillix, Olive Stratton, Carrie Haskett and Mabel Schwarzer have returned from their camping trip to Newport within the past week enthusiastic over their outing. Two young ladies of the party, Miss Pearl Cummings and Miss Mayne Elliott, remained a few days longer.
Miss Haskett has returned home to Westfield, Indiana.

Roy Heater will go down to Portland tomorrow with his vaulting pole and enter the lists in the Lewis and Clark fair championship games. Vaulting against Dole of California and some of the crack eastern vaulters, he will find himself up against it good and proper as the boys say, but his friends count on him to make a good showing and one which may surprise his competitors.

A. B. Parker has moved from the Moore property to Mrs.
Yergen's cottage.

The paint brush is being applied to J. F. Durst's residence near the public school building.

W. R. Winans, a prominent Sunday School worker of the state was in Newberg over Sunday.

Harry Carpenter, wife and three children from Idaho came in on Monday evening's train and are visiting at J. H. Ingles'.

Mrs. Wm. Gibson from Wisconsin and her daughter Mrs.
Albert Lee from Portland are in town visiting with Mrs. Wm.
Rich.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hoskins of Gold Hill who had been visiting relatives in this vicinity for some weeks, started home Saturday.

Rev. C. E. Reynolds, of Seattle, a brother-in-law of Dr. H. A.
Cornell, who with his wife had been here for some time visiting left for his home Tuesday.

J. C. Duncan who has purchased the Mrs. McDaniel cottage north of the Bank of New-berg is having some needed improvements made on the building.

A. R. McLane and wife of Moulton, Iowa, visited in town last Saturday with the former's uncle J. T. Rorabaugh. Mr. Mc-Lane is a jeweler in his home town.

The building being erected for Fred Humphrey's machine shop is almost completed and the machinery is already on the grounds. In a very few days he will be ready for work.

C. R. Williams has sold his property to a gentleman named Hurford and has since bought a half block near Luther Newlin's home on River street, which was owned by Pacific College.

Mrs. Ira Mills, sister of Will Bond, arrived here from New Providence, Iowa, Monday evening, a little daughter coming with her. The family left here about eight years ago, after having resided in Newberg for several years.

The sound of more than twenty hammers have been making music at the new school building during the past two weeks, with results that are beginning to tell in shaping the big structure.
When completed it will be the largest and best equipped school building in the county.

Colon Eberhard, of McMinnville, who spent last year in the law school at Valparaiso, Indiana, made a pleasant call at this office Tuesday morning.
He has been visiting with his grandfather O. H. Cone for several days and in the meantime making himself useful by wrestling with a binder.

Rev. Robert Douglas, although quite feeble on account of his recent illness, preached two excellent sermons at the Friends church last Sunday, much to the edification of his hearers. He had intended to spend some time in church work in Oregon and Washington but feeling that he was unable to undertake the task he left for his home in Ohio Monday.

Vereus Reynolds a carpenter and contractor of Whittier, California, who was on his way to Indiana and North Carolina visited in town Sunday with Henry Morris, Charley Butler, J. S. Rees, E. H. Woodward and others whom he knew in other days. He spent four days at the fair and was very free in his praise of what he saw there, the greatest show to him being the forestry building.

H. O. Warren, wife and little one returned from Seattle the first of the week and after spending a little time at the home of Mrs. Warren's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Hall, they left Wednesday for a trip through California, after which they will go to Topeka, Kansas, where Mr. Warren will engage in business, he being an agent for a large New England whip manufacturing company.

Seth Mills and family started on an overland trip to the coast last Friday.

R. B. Hunnicutt has moved into the McDaniel cottage, recently purchased by J. C. Duncan.

Mrs. D. Estle and children have gone to Newport to join her husband who has been there for some time. They will remain two or three weeks.

The electrical disturbance of the elements early Wednesday morning was sufficient to remind many of what they had left behind back in the states.

A. M. Hoskins returned from Hood River a few days ago where he spent several days, calling on Cy Vaghan, J. L.
Davies and other former residents of this community.

Mrs. Anise Clough and her cousin Miss Clara Brown returned from Suver, Wednesday evening where they camped out and visited for several days with Mrs. Clough's father John Brown.

The Woodmen of the Northwest are having their inning at the fair the latter part of this week. The Newberg Woodman band, and many members of the local lodge, went down this morning.

The Commercial meat market is the name of a new shop opened on Main street in the building formerly occupied by Albert & Robertson. The proprietors are Skowron & Johnson who solicit a share of your trade.

The city water was shut off at five o'clock last evening to allow the putting in of a new hydrant on North Meridian street. As a result the electric light plant ran out of water about ten o'clock which left the city in darkness for a few hours.

Nelson Sykes returned home Tuesday from a trip up the river to the Spaulding Company's big log drive which is on its way to mill. He found it between Beuna Vista and Independence, making good, steady progress, with a likelihood of reaching Salem in about ten days, which will probably bring it past here the first of September. There are some 26,000 logs in the drive which scale about nine million feet.
One and a half million feet will be held here for the Newberg mill, the remainder to go to the pulp mills at Oregon City.

Rev. F. C. Stanard will soon close his work as pastor of the Baptist church here and will in September begin a three years' course at the Rochester, N. Y., Theological Seminary. His resignation as pastor was accepted Sunday morning. He expects to leave the state early next month and will be followed by his family sometime near the holidays.
He has already been offered a pastorate near Rochester, and although he has not made definite arrangements, he expects to do some pastoral work while he is taking his course. Rev.
Stanard has always stood high in the estimation of Newberg people and while friends of the family regret the departure they are glad of his opportunity to further prepare himself for his work. His successor here has not yet been elected.

As will be noticed in the advertising columns of the Graphic, Mark Heacock, the popular jeweler, has sold out his business to James H. Mills, a young man who comes from Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Mills arrived here a few weeks ago, and were so captivated by the town and valley that they determined to remain, the sale being the sequel. Mr.
Mills is highly recommended as an efficient workman. Mark will take a vacation and visit his mother and brother and sisters at Gresham for a few weeks after which he expects to go east and take a course in optics. Eventually he intends to return to Oregon or Washington and establish himself in business again. In his two years of business life in Newberg he has made very many friends who wish him success in future work.
