Local Events.

Miss Hattie Sproule of Galena, Illinois, is visiting in town with her cousin, Mrs. W. W. Nelson.

The Yamhill County Livestock Association will hold its annual stock show in McMinnville on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

A party of Newberg business men, headed by Clarence Butt, drove up to McMinnville to-day to confer with the county court in behalf of the free ferry proposition.

Mrs. Margaret Latham, accompanied by her young son, arrived last week from Iowa and is making a visit with her brother President Edwin McGrew and family.

Mr. F. D. Woodard of Edgar, Nebraska, visited out west of town last week with the family of D. P. Strait, he and Mr. Strait being friends of twenty-five years standing.

Matthew Leeka and wife of Ohio, visited here last week with J. L. Hoskins. Mr. Leeka is a dairyman in the Buckeye state and was much interested in Atkinson Bros dairy, with the arrangements of which he was much pleased.

The Misses Myrtle Gause and Mary Minthorn left for Gearhart Park the first of the week to attend the first annual northwest convention of the Young Women's Christian Association. The states represented are Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

G. C. Carl has sold his home place in West Newberg to J. M. Glass, preparatory to moving to Portland. In the trade however he comes into possession of the Fortune property closely, a part of which he intends to hold as a location for a future home, thus testifying to his faith in Newberg.

N. J. Sykes came home the first of the week after having spent a couple of weeks or more at the capital city. He reports that the logging company is making things hum at its Salem mill, securing an average daily output of 50,000 feet of lumber as against 35,000 to 45,000 feet which the mill had been putting out under the former management.

Mr. Elmer Marr of Okeeny, Oklahoma, brother of C. A. Marr and Mrs. Josie Fields, has been visiting in Newberg a few days and taking in the fair. He has been looking over the country with the thought of locating somewhere in the west, and is well pleased with what he has seen. He thinks Newberg as nice a place as he has come in contact with. He left for home Wednesday morning with the intention of returning in the near future.

Prune drying begins this week, and while the crop is not heavy enough to justify the operation of all the evaporators in the valley, a good and very profitable run is anticipated by several. In some orchards the crop is very poor while in others it is good. The French prunes, often too small to be handled with profit, are larger this year and some growers are expecting to realize upon them. The Dundee orchards are yielding a good crop and the next few weeks will see a busy time in that prosperous neighborhood.

Mr. Thomas Prince, owner of the large walnut orchard at Dundee, becomes more confident every year, says the Agriculturist, that there is a large future for walnut growing in the Pacific Northwest. He will have several tons of nuts for market this year, and he is convinced from the verdict passed upon his nuts, heretofore grown, by good judges all over the United States, that they stand at the head of the best quality. He does not propose to bleach the nuts in any way, but will pack them in their natural color in handsome cartons, with a label which will show that the nuts are grown in Oregon and are not bleached.

Ray Pemberton and Miss Verda Crozer were down from Rosevale over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Henley of Carthage, Indiana, arrived last week and visited until yesterday with the family of L. M. Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Parker, and the latter's brother Geo. Winslow and wife of Indiana, returned the first of the week from a short outing at Newport.

Miss Mabel Gillette, daughter of Mrs. Sam Loyd, went to Carlton last week to take a position as bookkeeper in Howe's general merchandise store.

Carl Nelson and Miss Nettie Jones, of Newberg, visited Saturday and Sunday with the former's brother, Nels Nelson, of this place.—Carlton Observer.

J. H. Douglas Jr. and C. C. Smith have been attending the convention of the Photographers' Association of the Pacific Northwest, which is being held in Portland this week.

B. F. Arnold of Chico, California, editor of the Chico Daily Enterprise, who made a hurried visit to the fair last week, came up to Newberg Sunday evening, of which he said he had heard so much, and remained over night with Rev. H. T. Cash.

Roscoe Cahill arrived home Tuesday from the Eastern Oregon harvest fields where he has been spending his vacation profitably. His mother, Mrs. R. M. Cahill, is at present taking treatment at the Hot Springs at Collins, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whipple and little daughter of Seattle, visited in town a few days ago with Mr. and Mrs. John Hash. Mrs. Whipple who will be remembered by many about here as Ivy Washburn, took pleasure in looking up many of her old school mates about town.

The influx of Lewis and Clark fair visitors this summer is nowhere more noticeable than at the Sunday church services. Congregations which ordinarily summer very appreciably at this season, have this summer remained almost normal. One pastor reports that on last Sunday morning the visitors seemed as numerous as the regular attenders.

Hop picking comes but once a year but when it comes it brings good cheer—to those who follow the aroma of the festive hop and join in the annual hejira. To those few who stay by the stuff the sensation is rather one of bereavement than cheer. Wagons have been rolling out of town in all directions this week for the hop yards, the passengers gay with the anticipation of health, pleasure and a little ready cash.

Charlie Mackie, who has been operating Mackie & Miller's thrasher, closed the season's work last week, having had the poorest run he has ever known, he declares. He estimates the grain crop at about a one half yield. He says they threshed more grain than they did last year, but that while the amount of straw would indicate a bumper yield, appearances had to be discounted about three fourths. It's hard on the farmers and no better certainly for the threshing outfits.

A mail package from the Philippine Island addressed to Mrs. M. F. Bardon, was received at the postoffice last Monday, bearing the legend, "Supposed to be liable to duty." As was proper, Postmaster Eckman unrolled the package to examine the contents, but he didn't carry his investigations very far. On discovering that the package contained the skin of a huge snake, he immediately concluded that it was non-dutiable and with all due haste released it to the person to whom it was addressed. The snake skin is 14 feet in length, and is beautifully marked. The looks of it in spite of its beauty is enough to make an ordinary man take the temperance pledge and keep it a week.—Telephone Register.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Price of Portland were visitors over Sunday with the family of F. A. Elliott.

Miss Lena Spangle of Dayton was in town Saturday making arrangements for re-entering college the latter part of the month.

Mrs. J. H. Wood left this morning for Wenatchee, Washington, where she will visit with a daughter.

Miss Grace Butler returned home from Portland Monday evening after a visit of a few weeks with her aunt, Mrs. A. W. Rees.

Mr. W. O. Bowen of San Diego, and his brother Ed Bowen of Upland, California, are in town, the guests of Miss Lizzie Hibbs.

Mrs. Verona Nelson of Newberg, and Mrs. Eva Millsap, of Lebanon, visited this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoberg.—Telephone Register.

Prof. and Mrs. R. W. Kirk came in from Newport last Friday where he has been assisting Dr. Minthorn at the sanatorium this summer. Miss Mary Minthorn came with them.

Miss Julia Reinwand, a milliner from Minneapolis, Minnesota, has purchased the stock of the Hutchens Sisters and is adding a full and complete stock of the latest fall styles which were selected under her personal supervision and which she will be glad to have the public call and inspect.

The Duncan store building on First street has been completely restocked with a general line of house furnishings within the past few days, the formal announcement of the proprietors, Savage & Cone appearing in the advertising columns of the Graphic this week.

H. L. Pittcock, manager of the Oregonian, and F. W. Leadbetter, proprietor of the La-Camas paper mills, who are stockholders in the Spaulding Logging Company, came up to Newberg Tuesday evening to look about. On the following day B. C. Miles took them up to McMinnville to inspect the planing mill and sash and door factory of which the company is part owner.

O. A. Wheeler, foreman at the sawmill, was the victim of an accident Monday forenoon which was thought at first to be fatal. He had gone down on the first floor where he was stooping over and looking after some detail of the equipment, when a set screw of a moving shaft caught him by the blouse and drew him up solidly against a post. Before the machinery was stopped and he could be released he was nearly choked to death, being insensible for some time. No serious injuries were suffered however and Wheeler is steadily recovering.

It will be of interest to many who heard the great African missionary, Willis Hotchkiss, at the Friends Yearly Meeting held at Newberg in July, to know that an organization has been formed here which has for its object the support of Mr. and Mrs. Hotchkiss in their work in Africa. The local organization has in mind to raise $650 this year for that purpose. When here Mr. Hotchkiss stated that what funds he had raised would go toward establishing his new industrial mission and that as no means for their living had been arranged, they would have to live off of the general mission fund and come home when that was exhausted. With this fact in mind, the "Hotchkiss Substantive Mission Association" has been organized, to which anyone may belong by purchasing at least one share of stock for five dollars, payable quarterly. It is counted no small privilege to support such a man in such a cause, especially as he has agreed to send quarterly reports of the progress of the work to the association here. Anyone desiring to know more of the work in hand should consult with the president, Dr. H. B. Clough.

When you buy a Wagon
because
The Rushford is built for sturdy use, of the right stuff and in the right way—the wagon for the hardheaded farmer who rightly wants full value for every dollar. It's a wagon that stands the racket—has more real strength and wear than you ever saw for the same money; and yet a Rushford Wagon is neither over-heavy nor clumsy.
Four years have gone to the making of the Rushford Wagon's reputation—you'll see why that comes if you'll look over ours. Want to show you a Rushford—come in and look—today.
