J. B. Mount who stands at the head of the list, he having been continuously in the same business a longer period than any other man in town, enters our list of advertisers and asks for a share of the holiday trade, not in the "cheap John" stuff but in the things that are of real value.

A very interesting game of football was played on the college grounds last Thursday afternoon when a picked team from town went up against the public school team. The boys were so evenly matched that no score was made, though the odds were slightly in favor of the school boys.

Atkinson Bros. have leased their creamery to the Hazelwood Creamery Company for a term of three years and the latter named company has placed a man named Keller in charge of the plant. Cream will be received here and after it has been pasteurized it will be shipped to their large Portland plant where it will be made into butter.

The steamer Eugene came down from the mouth of Luckiamute the first of the week with a large raft of logs and others will follow. It is expected that the sawmill will start up the first of the week, which will be a great relief to the large force of hands who are tired of enforced idleness occasioned by the low stage of water.

A Spiceland, Indiana, correspondent in the New Castle Tribune of November 30 said: "J. Frank Taylor and wife, of Newberg, Oregon, in the course of a wedding trip, have been here since Saturday evening. Frank is busy looking for his old tracks and the familiar objects of his childhood, boyhood and young manhood days, and in meeting the old timers and talking and laughing with them over the reminiscences of bygone days.
