Mrs. Sam Galbreath was up from Tualatin Tuesday visiting with her mother, Mrs. W. E. Howard.

Rev. A. J. Hunsaker was down from McMinnville Wednesday, making the trip on the first train over the cutoff.

Miss Ethel Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hall, was married last week at Oregon City to Oliver Vanoose.

Miss Bell Newhouse has been at home from Portland visiting for the past two weeks and—teaching her mother how to do fancy cooking.

It has taken a good while to get around to it but the water supply is sufficient now to satisfy the demands of the most exacting log driver and there seems to be more where this is coming from.

Charley Morris came up from St. Johns Saturday, where he is learning the jewelers trade, and on Monday he left for his Nestucca-claim where he intended to warm up his cabin or sleep on the dry side of a fir log for a few nights.

Mark Wolf, who will be remembered as a college student of a few years ago, who made his home with Jesse Edwards, was married to a Portland lady Wednesday. Several Newberg people received invitations to attend the wedding.

David Martin has bought the lots on First street where the old Levy fruit dryer has stood as an eyesore to the public for several years. This is a nice location and the public will rejoice to see it cleared of the unsightly rubbish and properly improved.

The eight year old son of Edward D. Ryner, who lives in the Moore property on Meridian street died last Sunday. The little fellow was sick when the family came to Oregon some months ago from Oklahoma. Funeral services were conducted at Friends church on Tuesday afternoon by the pastor.

On Saturday evening Miss Ruth Romig gave a very pleasant "game party" to the class of '06 and a few others. Lenora Parker received the prize for winning the most games. A novel feature of the evening's entertainment was the "baby pictures." Each person present brought a photograph representing their younger days and a prize was awarded for guessing the greatest number. Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room.

It is reported that some of the farmers near Butteville are bucking the electric line and say they will not grant a right of way through their farms. The Graphic does not assume to dictate what they shall do in this matter, but it is evident that they have not made a very close study of the subject or they would take a different view of it. All do not take this stand however for Mr. Maycock is reported to have said he would go to the trouble to move his barn for the line if necessary.

J. F. Taylor and wife arrived home from their extended trip Saturday evening. It had been twenty years since Frank had visited the scenes of his boyhood and he noted many changes. They had good opportunity to make a study of interurban car service as they spent considerable time between Dayton, Ohio and Indianapolis, a great stretch of country that is interwoven with electric lines, and they are free in their praises of the service and what it does for the country.

A delegation from the Parrett neighborhood on the mountain east of town was down one day last week interviewing our Board of Trade committee in regard to the route of the proposed electric line. The farmers in that community have an excellent section of country, they are prosperous and they are wise enough to see that an electric line tapping the neighborhood would not only be a great convenience to them, but would also be a potent factor in the further development of the country and add many dollars to the value of their farms. They suggested a route to follow the canyon which comes down near the Tom Parrish farm and said that after the Winters sawmill was reached the grade would be an easy one. They are so much in earnest about the matter that they propose to do some preliminary surveying to see what per cent the grade is. This is the proper spirit in matters of this kind and they deserve success.

Gilford Terry has moved to Portland where he is building.

Charles H. Hoberg, of Baker City was in town Monday visiting with his sister, Mrs. W. W. Nelson.

A new born son is reported to have made his first bow to Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Hanning Wednesday night.

Dr. Thomas Hester, who spent Sunday in Newberg, reports much building going on for the winter season at Lents where he is located.

The second basketball team went to Dallas Tuesday night where they defeated the second team of Dallas College in a score of 22 to 20. Friday night the first teams of both colleges will have a tryout on the same floor.

The Misses Gertrude and Mary Minthorn and Bernice Woodward will see the basketball game at Dallas Friday night, between the first college team and Dallas, and on Saturday they will go to Newport to spend a short vacation at the seaside.

Two parties who are advertising in the Graphic had inquiries last week from points as far south as Louisiana. Pretty good evidence that advertisements that are kept fresh and crisp are read by subscribers to local newspapers. Pretty good evidence too that if a business man wants plenty of time for deliberation without interruption he had better not advertise in a live paper.

The announcement of a public sale by J. M. Wright will be found in this issue. He has rented his property to Mrs. Addison for a year and is going to Ontario, which is located on Snake river near the Idaho line and on the O. R. & N. The company with which his son Ol is associated has come into control of considerable property at that point and he goes to assist in the management, expecting to be gone a year. Ontario promises to become a railroad center of considerable importance and lively times are expected.

Horticultural Commissioner W. K. Newell announces a county horticultural meeting to be held at McMinnville on Saturday, January 6. He hopes to have a good attendance from all parts of the county, expecting that many subjects of interest to horticulturists will be discussed. A county association will be formed if the attendance is satisfactory and sufficient interest is shown to merit it. Newberg, Springbrook and Dundee have a large number of people who are vitally interested along many lines of horticulture and this part of the county ought to send enough of this class to make a very interesting and profitable meeting if there were no others to attend.

In the flag voting contest the public school won out with a majority so large that all other contestants were distanced and the handsome silk flag now hangs in the hall at the new school building. Monday the teachers and students gathered in the wings of the long hall to do honor to the flag. Principal Kirk mounted a chair and made a few appropriate remarks in the course of which he told how the first flag was designed and made. The little tots coming from the hives of the Misses Crawford and Vaughan when the school "swarmed" sang songs and saluted the flag, the whole school sang "America" then they all filed out into the yard where three cheers were given for "old glory." The total enrollment has reached 496.

Mrs. Mary Negus, of West Branch, Iowa, who is spending the winter with her old time friend, Mrs. Mary Morris, was greatly surprised on last Friday on receiving a bunch of ninety-one letters, that being the seventy eighth anniversary of her birthday. This being more than one letter for each year of her life and all coming from brothers, sisters, sons, daughters, grandchildren and near friends, representing several states. Her granddaughter, Miss Ada Branson, who is here attending college arranged this unique surprise. Several poems were written on her long life of usefulness and self-sacrifice for the good of others. During the afternoon the following named ladies called leaving words of cheer and some tokens of esteem: Madames Etta Kirk, Esther Mills, Maria Bowerman, Libbie Gardner, Lizzie White, Ruth Heacock and Misses Erma Heacock, Ada Branson and Susan Kirk. On the previous day her brother Robert Coppack of Athena came, taking her by surprise and expecting to take her home with him for a visit but on account of a fall she was unable to make the trip.

A WISE MAN!

The fellow who applies a part of each month's wages toward the payment of a home.

You say it depends on the price to be paid. So it does.

The figures I am making on lots and blocks will surprise you.

ADRAIN BOWMAN.

L. H. Shirley has his new cottage over near the railroad north of the public school building enclosed and will be ready to move into it at no distant day.

The Choral Society will meet for practice on Tuesdays December 26th and January 2nd. After that, practice will be held on Mondays as already fixed. New members will be welcomed.

D. A. Norcross has sold his farm located two miles northwest of town to a gentleman named K. L. Tange who recently came from North Dakota. Mr. Norcross will return to California.

On Saturday night Christmas exercises will be held at the M. E. and Friends churches respectively, and on Monday night at the Baptist church. Arrangements may be made for others but they have not been reported at this office.

Trains are now running by way of McMinnville but with the present service one must stay over two nights and a day in order to do any business in the county seat. The morning train out of Portland which we are bidding for will make it all right.

J. M. Gilliland, who has been in poor health for some time on account of heart trouble, left home Wednesday morning, expecting to enter the Soldiers Home at Roseburg. He will receive good care in the Home and he hopes the change farther south will be beneficial to his health. If his hopes are anticipated he will remain there until spring at least.
