Born to Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Barrell, January 11, a son.

The Days at Crater's hall Saturday night. The best ever.

George Hailstone has been down from Walla Walla during the past week visiting with his Newberg friends.

On Friday evening the college basketball team is scheduled to meet the Willamette University team in the gymnasium. On account of the meetings that are in progress in town the game will be called at seven o'clock.

R. B. Linnville has been appointed justice of the peace in place of J. M. Wright who recently removed from the county. Mr. Linnville is not without experience in this work and will no doubt administer justice strictly according to law and evidence.

W. L. Robertson, who went to Baker County a short time ago came home last week to take a position at the electric light plant. While working with mining machinery some parts fell, catching him underneath and bruising him up pretty badly and he is still slightly on the "limp" but he will soon be as good as new.

The edict has gone forth from the postoffice department that the old soap boxes and tin fruit cans that have been in evidence on the rural mail routes throughout the country, must come down, and be replaced by regulation mail boxes that are on the list of those accepted by the department. The Bates-Hawley box which is one of the best on the market can be had at this office.

W. F. Hazenburgh, of Mount Tabor, who owns a ranch on Chehalis mountain was up last week looking after it and arranging to move up and take possession about the first of next month. He has been a reader of the Graphic during the past two years and while he was in town dropped in to renew his subscription and to remark that he liked to read a paper that had convictions and was not afraid to express them.

Hon. S. B. Huston, of Hillsboro, republican candidate for congress, was in town last Monday getting acquainted with the people. Mr. Huston was born and grew to manhood at New Philadelphia, a little village in Washington county, Indiana, one of the way stations of the "Morgan raid" during the war and although he was a small boy at the time he has a very vivid recollection of how his hair stood up at the sight of the "rebel band," when they entered the village, and he can tell a very interesting story in connection with those troublous times. In this county Mr. Huston is quite well known, he stands well with the people and the outlook seems favorable for his carrying the county by a good majority at the primary election. He expressed himself as being quite confident of the final outcome of the three cornered contest for the nomination.

B. S. Cook was up from Portland Monday night.

Willard Satchwell is down from Independence visiting relatives.

F. A. Morris hung out a shingle a few days ago, announcing that he was prepared to register voters, and business has been good from the start. It would save a lot of extra work and a great deal of annoyance on election day if voters would take time by the forelock and register.

The Drs. Bowers will attend the fourth annual meeting of the Oregon Osteopathic Association in the Imperial hotel, Portland, next Saturday. Dr. L. B. Smith, Portland, will discuss "Typhoid fever." Dr. G. S. Hoisington, of Pendleton, will give a paper on "Conditions of the Hip," and Dr. W. T. Mercer, Salem, one on "Tuberculosis." "Constipation" will be the subject of a paper by Dr. R. C. Hicks of Astoria. Association business will receive attention during the evening session.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Smith took their departure for Kaake Island, Alaska, last Monday morning where they will take charge of the Friends mission station which was established five or six years ago at that point, and which has been under the supervision of Silas Moon and wife. The work will not be new to Mr. and Mrs. Smith for they were both stationed there as helpers in the work a few years ago and they enter the field full of the true missionary spirit. Mr. and Mrs. Moon have been among the Indians so long they will no doubt feel almost out of place away from them but their many friends will be glad to welcome them back to civilization again for a time at least.

J. A. Jones is not given to boasting about his fine horses but he has reason to feel very much gratified over the success he has scored during the past season. Probably his greatest hit was the sale of the two year old stallion Vernon Jones, sired by Captain Jones, to J. Crouch & Son, of La Fayette, Indiana, the great breeders of horses who made a fine show of their stock at the Lewis and Clark fair. This colt was the first prize two year old, Junior champion and grand champion at the fair and the thought of some other fellow owning such a colt was too much for Crouch & Son. The fact that breeders from the Mississippi valley come west to buy stock makes a good showing for Oregon.

The executive committee of the Collegiate Debating League of Oregon met here last Friday, the different colleges being represented as follows: R. W. Rees, Pacific College, President; Gilbert Tilbury, McMinnville College, Vice President; J. C. Sturgill, O. S. N. S., Secretary; A. C. Marsters, Albany College, Treasurer. The question selected for debate was: Resolved that the Interstate Commerce Commission should be empowered to regulate railroad rates subject to revision only by the higher courts. On March 16, O. S. N. S. will debate the question with Albany College at Albany, the former taking the affirmative and the latter the negative. On the same night McMinnville College will meet Pacific College at Newberg, the former taking the affirmative and the latter the negative. On April 27 the winning team of the Albany-McMinnville debate and the winning team of the McMinnville-Pacific debate will have a tryout, the former taking the affirmative and the latter the negative.

The first number of the Lyceum course which will be given Saturday night in Crater's hall promises to be one of the best of the course. If there is any value to be placed on recommendations this will be one of the best entertainments ever given in Newberg. Don't miss it.

Delegates to represent the Newberg Board of Trade at the big Development League meeting at Portland Friday and Saturday have been named as follows: Jesse Edwards, Dr. Harrold, Dr. Littlefield, John Larkin, Henry Morris, F. H. Caldwell, B. C. Miles, F. A. Morris, L. M. Parker, Dr. Clough.

The stockholders of the Bank of Newberg held their annual meeting Tuesday at which the officers and board of directors were re-elected for the coming year. The First National Bank also held their election on the same date, the only change made being the election of John Larkin as director in place of Henry Mills.

Dr. H. B. Clough is going to change his location and he will be glad to have all who are owing him for services call and settle. He has bought a hospital at Sultan, Washington, situated in a milling and a mining district on the Great Northern railroad, twenty miles east of Everett. Much of his professional work will be on contract with corporations where large forces of men are employed, and he thinks he has been very fortunate in securing the location. We are sorry to lose the doctor and his family but hope they will find their new field a profitable one. They will go in about ten days.

Hurrah for No. 32.

The Literary society of District 32 which is being held at the Brutscher school is a promising success. We are glad to hear that there are some enterprising young girls and boys in the country as well as in town and hope they will continue the same.

New officers were elected for the next month who were: R. L. Jones, President; Ed Hepp, Vice President; Bessie Baker, Secretary; Geo. Hobson, Treasurer; Daniel Jones, Janitor.

The debate rendered Saturday by the young girls and boys was well worth one's time to go and hear and we are all looking forward to another similar to the last.
