

IN THE NATIONAL HALLS OF CONGRESS

Saturday, January 20.
Washington, Jan. 20. — The cry of graft raised in the house of representatives this afternoon caused the defeat of an amendment to an urgent deficiency bill appropriating $10,000 to supply an express deficiency in the fund used for the payment of transportation charges on silver from the sub-treasury to trade centers. The amendment was proposed by General Kiefer, Rep., and was opposed by Representatives Tawney, Minn., Smith, Ia., and Hill, Conn. Representative Hill raised the point of order against it. He lost. Hill charged that the appropriation was a species of graft for the express company. Smith joined in the declaration that it was no longer necessary for the Federal government to continue the appropriation, and that if the transportation of silver was not made so profitable the coin would remain in circulation longer.

Washington, Jan. 20. — Murmuring are heard in the senate of a possible revolt by the beet sugar men against the Philippine tariff bill, taken up today by the committee of Philippines for consideration. The opposition of the beet sugar industry to the Cuban reciprocity treaty developed a strength among the Republicans of seven votes. This was enough to defeat the ratification, a two-thirds vote being necessary. The same strength could not defeat the Philippine bill, which only requires a majority.

Friday, January 19.
Washington, Jan. 19. — Reform in the matter of making deficiency appropriations agitated the house today, and the entire time was devoted to its discussion, with the exception of a sort speech for free hides by Perkins, of New York. The urgency deficiency bill was being considered under general debate order, and Littauer, of New York, in charge of the bill, set the pace by pointing out the failure of the legislation of last year to curb the heads of departments in their demands for deficiency supplies.

Thursday, January 18.
Washington, Jan. 18. — There was an echo of yesterday's stormy session in the senate today, when Tillman presented his resolution directing a senatorial investigation into the removal of Mrs. Minor Morris from the white house. The resolution provoked no debate, and Tillman contented himself with a brief statement, in which he said that he would not have introduced the resolution but for the taunt of Hale. When he concluded, Daniel moved that the resolution be laid on the table, and this disposition was made of it by a vote of 54 to 8. The remainder of the day was devoted to speeches on the pure food and merchant marine bills, McComber advocating the food measure and Mallory opposing the shipping bill.

Washington, Jan. 18. — After paying a tribute to the frigate Constitution today and ordering an investigation in order to ascertain the annual amount necessary to preserve the ship, the house devoted the day until 5:45 to the perfection and passage of a bill providing for the final disposition of the affairs of the five civilized tribes in the Indian Territory. With one or two minor amendments, the bill was passed subsequently substantially as it came from the committee. The bill provides for concluding the enrollment of Indians of the tribes and the allotment of land to them. The enrollment and allotment is made the subject of many restrictions and provisions.

Wednesday, January 17.
Washington, Jan. 17. — The recent forcible removal from the white house of Mrs. Minor Morris was made the subject of emphatic denunciation by Tillman in the senate today. His remarks called out remonstrances from Hale, Hopkins and Daniel, and led to the very abrupt closing of the doors and the sudden adjournment of the senate in the middle of the afternoon. The speech abounded in Tillman's peculiar expressions, and was characterized by many severe and exceptionally personally thrusts at the president. At times he wept over what he regarded as the indignities to the lady, and his voice and eyes were full of tears when he declared, in the face of protests from his fellow senators, that he would demand an investigation of the white house incident.

Washington, Jan. 17. — In response to the Sulzer resolution passed by the Favors Alaskan Home Rule.

Washington, Jan. 16. — Senators Piles, Lodge and Allison and unofficial delegate S. S. Ryan, of Alaska, today called on the president and elicited from him a promise that Alaska should have home rule. Lodge and Allison, the two strongest men in the senate, said they favored this move, and the president heartily promised to give it his support. As a cornerstone for the new regime, he promised to appoint an Alaskan as governor to succeed Brady, who will soon resign because of the indiscretions.

Proposes Assay Office.
Washington, Jan. 16. — Senator Fulton today introduced a bill authorizing the establishment of an assay office at Portland. The bill provides for an assayer and melter at $2,350; chief clerk at $1,400, and authorizes an annual expenditure of $15,000 in payment of salaries to assay employees, including the officials named. No specific appropriation is made for the office, as it is customary to make these appropriations in regular appropriation bills.

house Secretary Metcalf, of the department of Commerce and Labor, today sent to the house the report of Special Immigrant Inspector Marcus Braun, which deals at great length with the character of the immigrants coming to this country and the attitude of the European governments upon the matter. Mr. Braun declares that he has incontrovertible evidence that, while the number of aliens shipped to this country who are legally inadmissible due to disease is diminishing, immigrants inadmissible for other reasons are constantly brought into the country in large numbers "by the concerted action of some European governments and steamship agencies, by bankers and schemers of all sorts."

Tuesday, January 16.
Washington, Jan. 16. — The Philippine pine tariff bill was passed by the house today substantially the same as it came from the ways and means committee. The vote was 258 to 71. Rice was made subject to the same tariff as sugar and tobacco — 25 per cent of the Dingley rates — and one or two changes were made as to the language.

Washington, Jan. 16. — Unexpectedly the senate today found itself considering the railroad rate question, which was precipitated by Fulton's taking the floor to make a brief speech in explanation of an amendment offered by him to the Dilliver bill, giving to courts of justice authority to modify orders of the Interstate Commerce commission imposing an unreasonable rate. He had not proceeded far when he was switched from a general explanation of the terms of the provision to a defense of the principle which it seeks to establish, and a general debate of the bill followed.

The merchant marine bill was then laid before the senate and Gallinger urged early attention to this subject. Scott spoke in support of the bill. The pure food bill was then taken up and a number of committee amendments were agreed to. Hepburn gave notice that after the conclusion of the routine morning business tomorrow he would ask the senate to fix a day for taking a vote on the bill.

Monday, Jan. 15.
Washington, Jan. 15. — Senator Bacon today succeeded in securing an open discussion of the Moroccan question by the senate. This result was accomplished by the introduction of a resolution making a declaration against interference on the part of the United States in any controversy among European nations concerning their internal affairs. The broad scope of the resolution relieved it from the point of order made on the Moroccan resolution, and, notwithstanding that Bacon referred freely to the Moroccan conference, no effort was made to put him off. He spoke at length in opposition to the policy of interference in European internal complications, pointing out the possibility of disastrous consequences, and his address brought out a number of questions and interruptions to relieve the proceedings of the characterization of a set speech.

A number of senators made short speeches against the resolution and in the end it was referred to the committee on foreign relations, and the merchant marine bill was laid before the senate. Gallinger offered a number of amendments to the bill, which were agreed to. The amendments related principally to the naval militia proposed by the bill.

A bill introduced by Smoot, giving to homesteaders on the recently opened Uintah reservation an extension until May 15, 1906, to establish residences was passed.

Washington, Jan. 15. — General debate on the Philippine tariff bill was concluded in the house today, having been continued daily since January 4. The bill will be taken up for amendment under the five minute rule tomorrow, and put on its passage either tomorrow or the next day.

Preceding the debate today, the statehood fight made its appearance on the floor for the first time, in the form of a personal explanation by Babcock, of Wisconsin, credited with being the leader of the opponents of the joint statehood forces. Babcock denied that his course in opposition to the bill was dictated by any feeling of revenge because he had not been made chairman of the appropriation committee. He also took occasion to state his position in favor of tariff revision.

Stevens Testifies on Canal.
Washington, Jan. 16. — Chief Engineer Stevens, of the Panama Canal commission, appeared before the senate investigating committee today. He talked of conditions on the isthmus, discussing sanitary, labor difficulties and questions of like character, dealing with the administration of canal affairs, with greater detail and freedom than in his published report. He denied the stories being circulated of alleged importation from the United States of women into the canal zone for immoral purposes.

Newlands Aims His Scheme.
Washington, Jan. 15. — The senate committee on interstate commerce met today, but there was not a quorum present, and, after an informal discussion, adjournment was taken until Tuesday. Senator Newlands, occupied most of the time discussing his plan for incorporation of railroads under a national law instead of the conflicting laws of 45 states. He said capitalization would be limited to honest valuation and actual investment.
