Local Events.

Allen Craven, of Middleton, was in Newberg Monday.

Born on Sunday, March 4, at Springbrook, to Mr. and Mrs. Grant Heater, a daughter.

Elder G. C. Carl of Portland, who preached at Independence Sunday, spent Monday in Newberg on his way home.

Wm. Everest received a telegram last Thursday announcing the death of his only sister, Mrs. Anne Dennis, at her home at Junction City, Oregon.

Mr. Archie Bishop, of Sauk Centre, Minnesota, arrived Thursday evening for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bishop.

When up from Portland a few days ago, E. W. Hall made the sale of his home place out west of town to Frank Haskin, the consideration being $1520.

Mrs. Marion Cook, who has been visiting relatives here since Christmas, left Tuesday morning to join her husband at their new home near Caldwell, Idaho.

Mrs. A. Bowman went down to Portland Friday and visited for two or three days with her daughter Miss Carrie who is taking treatment at the hospital.

J. L. Hoskins attended lodge with the Dayton Odd Fellows last Friday night, going on to McMinnville afterward and staying over night with his son Hervey.

Samuel Hulit, a former student of the college here, who is now engaged with the Union Meat Company at Troutdale, was called to Newberg the first of the week by the death of his brother.

J. H. Rees went up to McMinnville Friday evening and on the following day attended a meeting of the deputy assessors, with County Assessor Hubbard, preparatory to taking the assessment.

Ernest Fleishauer, who sold his livery barn a few weeks ago, went down to Portland the first of the week where he contemplates taking a course in some business college. His many friends would regret to see him leave Newberg permanently.

J. C. McCrea suffered the loss of his fine driving mare Monday. He started out in the morning to spray his orchard when the animal took fright, started to run, and in jumping at a fence fell and broke a leg. The animal was shot at once and put out of its misery.

Hon. Chas. A. Johns, of Baker City, Eastern Oregon's popular candidate for the republican nomination for governor, spent Tuesday in Newberg in the interests of his candidacy. He made a favorable impression here as being of good gubernatorial timber. While in town he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Pickett, the latter being his niece.

Mrs. Mary Negus and her granddaughter Miss Ada Branson, both of Iowa, who have been spending the fall and winter here, left Tuesday morning for Pendleton, Eastern Oregon, where they will visit relatives for some time. Miss Branson has been attending Pacific College while here, and her classmates, who were up at the train to see her off, gave her parting cheer in a lively college yell.

Mr. Joy E. Hulit, aged twenty-six years, who had been sick for some weeks, died Tuesday morning. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hulit, of Laurel, at which place the funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon. Besides parents, and brothers and sisters, the deceased leaves a young widow, he having been married only seven months ago to Miss Ivy Zumwalt of Hillsboro. The stricken family wish to express their heartfelt appreciation to the people of Newberg for the many kindnesses shown them in the hour of their bereavement.

"All orchards smell alike to me," is the way it might be said these days.

Mrs. Jarret Todd, of French Prairie, visited here Saturday with her mother, Mrs. S. A. Deskins.

The college basket ball team is arranging to go to Chemawa tomorrow to try conclusions with the Indians.

E. C. Stone has traded his place northwest of town for a farm on Chehalis mountain to which he will move.

That smile on Charlie Lapp's face, which won't come off, is occasioned by the presence of a young son in his family who made his appearance on March 5th.

Eight year old Floyd Cullison, whose parents and teachers had found him to be incorrigible, was committed to the state reform school at Salem the first of the week.

Miss Katharine Kirk made her arrival here this forenoon at the home of Prof. and Mrs. R. W. Kirk. We suggest that the public school students be given a holiday in her honor.

Mrs. Geo. Austin left this morning for Detroit, Michigan, expecting to be gone some months. In the meantime Mr. Austin will look for another location somewhere in the West.

Mrs. J. B. Parker, who underwent a surgical operation at Pendleton recently, is at home again. Mr. Parker met her in Portland Sunday and they came up on the boat Monday forenoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Conklin, of Warrenton, visited east of town last week with the latter's parents, Rev. Joseph Hall and wife. They left Monday morning and will go back to Michigan where they will make a visit with Mr. Conklin's people.

With the advent of good weather again all the available spray pumps hereabouts have been kept busy in the orchards of the neighborhood, and the valley smells as it had been thoroughly disinfected. Here's hoping the San Jose scale will take the hint and move on.

Miss Marie Hanson, assisted by Miss Bernice Woodward, entertained a small company of friends Saturday evening. After a social hour at the home of the latter, the guests were escorted over to town and served with a delightful supper at Wilson's parlors.

Mrs. W. E. Terrell and children went down to Portland Saturday and remained until Monday evening with W. E. who is engaged in weighing mail at the Union depot. An eastern train came in Sunday morning bringing fourteen thousand pounds of mail, indicating that his job is no sinecure.

Morris, Smith & Ferguson report the following sales in real estate: Max Wind's place of 43 acres and Mr. Vanderford's farm of 50 acres, also Mr. Geo. Stammerjohn's farm of 60 acres to S. C. Gockley of Colorado, a recent arrival from the sugar beet district of that state; H. E. Coveis' farm of 85 acres near LaFayette to E. C. Wyman, a young man from Wisconsin; Levi Myer's home of 1½ acres to Elder Vandye, the new pastor of the Brethren church.

The board of directors of the school district, at their meeting last Friday evening, voted to adopt the system of mid-year examinations, which has been under consideration for some time. This system is in use in all the city schools, and in many of the schools in towns of this size. While this will secure promotions twice a year it will not crowd the pupils ahead any faster than at present, but rather gives opportunity for a half year review to those who are hardly thorough enough to enter the next grade and still would learn habits of idleness by continuing a whole year in the work just passed over. As each teacher has her grade divided for the recitations, the grade hereafter will be in two divisions, one a half year ahead of the other. The directors also decided to allow no children to enter the latter part of the year, as they cannot finish the grade this year and they very seriously inconvenience the work of the teacher.

Miss Mary Williams went up to McMinnville Monday evening for a visit with her sister, Mrs. E. W. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Parker visited in Portland Saturday and Sunday with the families of N. C. Maris and Ervin Scott.

Fred Ames has moved from the Terrell house on River street to the Nevitt property on North Meridian street which he purchased some time ago.

Mrs. Mary A. Belmore and Miss Violet Whitman, of Muskegon, Michigan, arrived Friday evening and will make an extended visit with their daughter and sister, Mrs. James Comic and family.

Hon. J. J. Howser, of Blaine, candidate for the republican nomination for joint representative of Tillamook and Yamhill counties, is in town to-day. He is a genial, straight-forward gentleman, and has so far met no opposition for the honor he seeks.

A. P. Johnson, now a Corvallis merchant, was here the first part of the week looking after his interests. Andy says he has been around a good deal in the past two years and that Newberg now has the best business street of any town in the valley. So say they all.

Miss Amy Harger, who has been visiting for several weeks in Eastern Oregon and Washington, arrived home Monday evening. While at Goldendale she figured in a runaway accident in which she suffered a badly sprained ankle from which she has not fully recovered.

Newberg is getting some very beneficial advertising out of the recent visit of the Independence councilmen. They carried back a good report of our system of water works, a full exploitation of which was made in the Independence Enterprise, other valley papers publishing extracts. A pure water supply is a cause for particular congratulation when typhoid fever stalks abroad.

Miss Jessie Britt gave a surprise party to a number of her friends Friday evening. One of the most interesting features of the evening was a program rendered by the following guests: The Misses Etta McCoy, Maybelle Edwards, Clara Vaughn, Ella Crawford, Pearl Cummings, Mayne Elliott, and Olive Stratton. Miss Etta McCoy, rendering the most artistic production, was awarded a beautiful vase. After a sumptuous supper the guests departed.

The state oratorical contest, in which Pacific College will be represented by Paul Maris, comes off at Albany to-morrow night and twenty or more of the college people, with a good grist of college yells and enthusiasm in stock, take the boat to-day for the scene of conflict. The delegates to the business meeting are: Seniors—Mary Minthorn, Ernest Bales; Juniors—Ruth Wiley, Ralph Rees; Sophomores—Sara Knight, Lynn Clough; Freshmen—Eva Fletcher, Haines Burgess. Cecil Hoskins will give the toast at the banquet.

Talk about that fabled hen that lays two eggs a day! Newberg has an ambitious Pekin duck which relegates her to the "has been" class. It lays two eggs at once. No? Ask Mrs. D. M. Hoots out east of town who owns the valuable fowl. She found a large egg the other day measuring ten and one half inches around which she thought seemed pretty weighty, and when she broke it the egg wouldn't "run" as she thought it should. On investigating she found within the white of the hen fruit another perfect egg with regulation shell. Mrs. Hoots was exhibiting the curiosity in town Monday.

Members present at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday evening were Caldwell, Morris, Taylor, Harrold and Brouillette. The petition of business men asking that the marshal be made night watch and that another man be employed as street commissioner when necessary was voted down. A petition that Franklin street be grubbed and graded from Meridian west to its intersection with Blaine was acted upon favorably and the necessary ordinance was ordered drawn. Dr. H. A. Littlefield was elected city physician, Clarence Butt city attorney and C. F. Butler chief of the fire department. Eight ballots were taken for marshal, the first standing, Clemmens 3, Woods 2, the other seven, Clemmens 2, Woods 3. Neither candidate receiving a majority of the votes of the council, Britt being absent, adjournment was had without an election.
