Mrs. C. J. Leavitt

Local Events.

J. A. Clemenson and family, of Portland, visited Newberg relatives over Sunday.

A. R. Cumpston, of Sellwood, came up to Newberg Saturday evening, remaining two or three days.

J. F. Durst and Bert King are working together over at Vancouver, Washington, at the carpenter trade.

Clarence Dailey, who has been working through the winter near Cazadero, spent Sunday at home with his parents.

Roy Heater has been engaged by the athletic association of Willamette University at Salem to train its track team this season at a good figure. He will begin work at once.

Mrs. E. A. Soper, of Portland, visited friends here the first of the week, previous to going to Spokane, Washington, to remain for some time with her daughter, Mrs. F. C. Jackson.

C. J. Leavitt says he can feel the mining fever taking hold of him again and cannot withstand it much longer. He is arranging to leave soon for Southern Oregon to do some prospecting.

Will Prather has reconsidered in regard to locating at Klamath Falls, Southern Oregon, and has instead made arrangements to open up a blacksmith shop at Sherwood, where he sees a good opening, and moved down the first of the week. Sherwood gets a good, reliable man and a capable workman.

Miss Anna Shaw, of Philadelphia, national president of the Women's Suffrage Association, will give one of her popular lectures in Duncan's hall Tuesday evening, April 10, at eight o'clock. Miss Mary Anthony, sister of the late Susan B. Anthony, will accompany Miss Shaw. Come and hear these women of national fame. No charge for admittance.

Attorney O. L. Price and family, of Portland, have been visiting relatives in town this week, during which time Ore has been getting busy with his Yamhill county friends in behalf of his boss, Hon. H. M. Cake, republican candidate for United States senator. Having been associated with Mr. Cake so long and so intimately, O. L. knows he is working for a good man.

The Sunday School workers, who attended the county convention the latter part of the week at Amity, report live, interesting sessions. Among those in attendance from this vicinity were, J. F. Taylor and Mrs. J. C. Hodson, president and secretary of the association, respectively, Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Howard, Mrs. T. E. Wright, Mrs. N. F. Byers, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Miss Ione Hill, Mrs. F. E. Walling, Prof. E. Partington and Lewis Mills.

On Thursday night April 12th, there will be given in Crater's opera house an entertainment which will merit the patronage of all. It is to be given by Prof. Carrick and the music department of the college, and will consist of duets, solos, readings and some sketch work in Negro dialect. Prof. Carrick will himself sing, which fact will doubtless meet hearty approval as Newberg has had little opportunity of hearing him. Admission 25c, all children 10c. Reserved seats at 35c will be placed on sale at the drugstores Saturday morning. This is the first concert of the kind which the department has given for a few years and should be heartily received.

All the members were present at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday night. Five votes were taken to elect a marshal, all resulting alike—Clemmens 3, Woods 3. The final ordinance was passed directing the signing of the deed for the sale of the Illig place southeast of town, purchased last year for cemetery purposes, whereby the city comes out whole. Howard and School streets were ordered graded in accordance with petition introduced. A petition by Nelson Brouillette for the reduction of billiard table and pool license so it would not be prohibitory, was laid on the table. An ordinance was ordered drawn imposing a fine of five to ten dollars upon boys under eighteen years of age found loafing about the bowling alley. A remonstrance being presented against the Council's bonding the city for $15,000 for the extension to the water works, the recorder was ordered to post notices calling for a general election on the question to be held Tuesday, April 17th.

It is next Thursday evening, April 12th—the concert to be given by Prof. Carrick.

W. H. Hubbard has been made boss of the La Fayette section on the local division of the S. P.

Mrs. F. A. Morris went down to Portland Wednesday to attend the state Women's Suffrage meeting.

College opened up in good shape Wednesday after a short vacation for the last term's work of the year.

Orville Johnson of Lents, has entered college for the spring term, for a special commercial course. He will be a good acquisition to the track team.

Just bear in mind that Lou J. Beauchamp, the noted humorist, poet and philosopher, appears here on the evening of the 14th, under the auspices of the Newberg Lyceum.

At a meeting of the school directors held the first of the week the entire corps of public school teachers was re-elected for the following year. It is not known whether all will accept.

The city marshal would remind those who have been throwing trash and rubbish in the streets that there is an ordinance against such which they will do well to observe if they would avoid unnecessary trouble.

If the festive trout bit so readily Sunday because he imagined the fishermen would be at church he was never more thoroughly April fooled. Many were the lines dangling in the streams about here and there seemed to be fish enough for all.

"Minchin he of old P. C." is still gathering up oratorical laurels. On the evening of March 26th in the third annual inter-collegiate prohibition oratorical contest of Southern California, held at Los Angeles, he easily won first honors for Whittier College and will therefore represent that district in the Pacific Coast contest.

A dispatch from Juneau, Alaska, states that Fred Sepp was drowned in that vicinity recently when out hunting, his companion on the hunt sharing a like fate. Mr. Sepp was connected with several Newberg people in the Kaak Development Company of Alaska, and made an extended visit here a few years ago.

Attorney Van Pelt, of Portland, state's attorney for the Anti-Saloon League, addressed a good sized audience out at Springbrook last Thursday night on the status of local option in Oregon. Wishing to see Newberg, of which he had heard a good deal, I. M. Pollock brought him in to see a little of the town next morning before train time. The Graphic acknowledges a pleasant call.

The April number of McClure's Magazine contains a very readable article on common dietetic delusions by Dr. Woods Hutchinson, brother of Mrs. J. H. Douglas Jr. and well known here. His policy is to follow nature's instinct and eat anything you want, the greater variety the better, in the advocacy of which he will never lack for devoted followers. He pays particular respect to the vegetarians, the breakfast food agitators and the anti-meat enthusiasts. In fact the violence of his defense of meat diet, pork especially, would lead one to suspect that the doctor was writing for the Armour's, Swifts et al, were it not that McClure's is such an anti-trust magazine. Written in his characteristic, fluent style, the contribution is one to challenge attention.

A large audience greeted the Portland musicians in Duncan's opera house Saturday evening, the entertainment netting the Baptist ladies between forty and fifty dollars. The concert was of a high order and well received. Mr. Monteith, the baritone soloist, proved very popular. He was in poor voice from a bad cold, but the audience admired the nerve with which he gave all his numbers and without apology. The pianists proved accomplished musicians. For an eight year old Miss who has had but one year's training, the little Wilson girl may well be considered remarkable, her expression being admirable. And no less appreciated was the work of little Miss Barksdale, who is but few years older, and who showed superior ability. Discerning music lovers speak in the highest term of the playing of Miss Thomas, who from her place on the program, did not meet the reception which her work merited. There was too much of the technique in the vocal work of Mrs. Perkins to suit a popular audience. Her readings were better received.

The Parks boy, whose skull was crushed last week, is getting along nicely.

W. F. Edwards and family came up from Portland last evening for a visit of a few days.

Mrs. Robert Howie is reported as being at the point of death at the home of her husband's parents, north of Newberg.

Will Heston moved his family back here from beyond Carlton last week and is occupying the Hadley house on River street for the present.

A. O. Mills has rented a farm across the river in the St. Paul neighborhood for three years and will move his family to it the latter part of this week.

A debate is being arranged for between the high school and the academic department of the college. The tryout to select the high school team was held last Thursday evening, when the judges, Prof. Kirk, Miss Gould and W. C. Woodward, decided upon Miss May Mitchell, Lindsay Dudley and Frank Moore, with Miss Florence Heston and Tom Higgins as alternates.

With the prospect of a baseball league made up of the towns of the county, with one or two other neighboring ones, Newberg sports are arranging to organize a team. Its make-up is not decided upon entirely, but the Parrett tribe will be drawn upon for three or four men, and Si Hamnett, W. E. Mills and Fred Kincaid will probably hold down positions, leaving two or three men to be secured. The Ramsey grounds will be put in shape at once. Many lovers of the sport, who would like to see some of the games, would welcome a change from a Sunday to a Saturday schedule.

A team belonging to Liveryman Williams of North Yamhill, was left standing a moment on West First street Tuesday afternoon, took advantage of the fact, and though the driver ran and caught up the reins, pulled loose and went tearing down the street. They made a clean run until coming opposite Potter's jewelry store in front of which stood a horse and buggy belonging to Taylor Needham. Dr. Snapp saw the runaway and pulled the horse up on the sidewalk but the team crashed into the buggy, badly demolishing it, and turned in at Moore's drug store where they were caught. Mr. Williams drove over the following day and arranged to make good all damages.

The opening gun of the coming state campaign is to be fired in Newberg on the evening of April 13th, and by no less a personage than Governor Geo. E. Chamberlain, who will probably be accompanied by Judge T. G. Hailey, Hon. C. V. Galloway, democratic candidate for congressman, and other celebrities of the followers of Thomas Jefferson. Coming as it does a week before the primaries will be held, the rally might be termed a little previous, but as Gov. Chamberlain is the only democratic candidate to succeed himself he is sure to be it. He has expressed a desire to speak in Newberg and he has no open dates following the primaries. Newberg has been visited often by congressmen and United States senators, but only once before by the governor. Governor T. T. Geer addressed a mass meeting in Crater's hall in the summer of 1900 during the beet sugar excitement.

JESSE EDWARDS.

Republican Candidate for the Nomination of State Senator for Yamhill County.

For twenty-five years Jesse Edwards, of Newberg, has been recognized as one of the representative citizens of the county. He has always been progressive, has stood for the best interests of Yamhill county, and has had no little part in the development of its various resources. He is the organizer and president of the Newberg Pressed Brick Company operating the pioneer plant in this line of industry in the Pacific Northwest. In his work along educational and moral lines he has always stood for the highest type of citizenship. A life-long republican, he has never held office, this being the first political honor to which he has aspired. Residing in a part of the county which has not been honored with the senatorship for nearly a quarter of a century, his friends believe his candidacy should receive general favor. If nominated and elected he pledges his best efforts to the general welfare of Yamhill county and the state of Oregon in general.
