Local Events.

Mrs. J. C. Nesbit, of Chicago, arrived a few days ago and is making a visit with her son J. H. Mills, the jeweler.

While engaged at the sawmill Monday loading lumber onto a car, T. J. Huff got a knee severely crushed by a falling timber.

Rev. Oliver Kenworthy, of Salem, has been visiting here this week with his mother and sons, Dollon coming up from Portland.

Mrs. Ella Oliver, of Manitoba, is visiting out north of town with her sister, Mrs. S. W. Newhouse, and expects to remain for the summer.

Mrs. Will Allen, accompanied by young son Wayne, took advantage of the excursion rates and came down to Portland from Eugene with Will last week, coming on up to Newberg for a visit of a day or so with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott left on a ten days' California trip Monday. Frank went on a business trip to San Francisco connected with the land department of the Southern Pacific Co., and Mrs. Elliott will visit friends in Berkeley.

Jas. Duncan has been making things hum down at the furniture factory and has been turning out lots of work, with plenty more in sight to keep all hands busy. He intends to increase his force the first of the week from eleven to fifteen hands.

While at work at a little variety saw at the furniture factory Saturday W. W. Baker had the end of a thumb clipped off. Jas. Duncan says they purchased the machine between two and three years ago since which time seven men have got their hands in touch with the buzz saw.

D. H. Turner and G. W. Jones, county recorder and clerk respectively, and both candidates for re-election on the republican ticket came down from the county seat Tuesday morning to look after fences in this neighborhood. Mr. Turner was accompanied by Mrs. Turner who visited with friends.

Mrs. Mary E. Allen came down from Eugene Friday to remain some time at her home, though just how long she does not know. Her daughter, Mrs. G. E. Metcalf, who had the typhoid fever recently, is recovering nicely now, and is rather expected here, with her little daughters, some time next month for a visit.

G. H. Robinson received a letter from his daughter, Mrs. M. H. Preston, at San Jose, the other day in which she says that they had experienced forty-three distinct shocks there since the great earthquake, and that as a result people were living at a pretty high nervous tension. The Prestons would not be altogether adverse to trying Oregon again, thinks Mr. Robinson.

The Carlton Observer, established and published by Herbert Graves, has suspended publication, being the latest of the many acquisitions made by the newspaper bone yard of Yamhill county. We do not know the findings of the post mortem examination, if one was held, but suspect that a "profundity of approbation" on the part of the public was lacking.

Alden Chamberlin, who has been serving an apprenticeship with the Southern Pacific Co. as engineer since moving to Portland, has been making many "student runs" over the different roads, coming out on this division Friday evening and spending the night with his sister, Mrs. R. W. Kirk. He will be put on a regular run in the near future, with emoluments attached.

John Green, who is located at McKinleyville, California, where he owns a chicken ranch, came north on a business trip some days ago and will start back by the overland route with team the latter part of the week. McKinleyville is one hundred and eighty miles north of San Francisco and John says the shock from the earthquake was vigorous enough there to shake him out of bed.

Dr. Edna Davis Tims, of Portland, came up Friday evening and addressed the Wednesday club at the home of Mrs. C. A. Hodson. The club has been studying Germany for some time and Dr. Tims spoke on "A Year in Vienna," giving her very interesting observations on the different phases of German life as she found it. The ladies of the club invited their husbands out to hear the speaker and a very enjoyable and profitable evening was spent. While in town Dr. Tims was the guest of her friend, Mrs. C. J. Edwards.

Born, on Monday, May 28th, to the wife of Ola Martin, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Craven, of Middleton, attended the Decoration exercises here yesterday.

J. T. Brooks, of Forest Grove, visited an old friend here this week in the person of D. P. Strait.

There is a recent arrival in the family of C. E. Newhouse out at Springbrook in the person of a fine daughter.

Ode Hatfield and family and Mrs. Wm. Macy, of Dayton, attended Decoration Day exercises here Wednesday.

The public will take notice that, beginning with Monday, June 4th, the stores of Newberg will close at 7:30 in the evening.

Miss Flossie Bass, who has taught her second term of school in the Brutscher district east of town, closed the same last week and will spend the greater part of her vacation with her parents in Newberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Vaughan and child, of North Bend, who had been visiting for several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Vaughan, returned home the first of the week. Will has a good position at North Bend as bookkeeper for the Simpson Lumber Company.

Miss Winona Seiter, of Tracy, Minnesota, who is just beginning her summer vacation after taking a course in music at Seattle, is spending the week at the Bass home and at the home of J. P. Durst. Mrs. A. T. Behnke will accompany her to Portland Friday, where they will visit friends a few days after which Miss Seiter departs for her home in Minnesota.

Everett Heacock was in Portland Tuesday and received the contract for the Newberg Sash and Door factory for furnishing the doors and windows for a new five story brick building being erected in the city. The pressed brick for the same structure is being furnished by the Newberg Pressed Brick Company. Watch Newberg get to the front.

Mr. A. G. Beals, of Tillamook, republican candidate for joint representative of Yamhill and Tillamook counties, spent last week in Yamhill and was in Newberg Friday. Finding everything safe and solid in this neighborhood however he had not cause to tarry long. Mr. Beals is one of the leading men of his home town and county, where he has resided for fifteen years, and is looked upon with general confidence as a man worthy to represent the people in the state legislature. He owns and manages a dairy farm in his county, and is manager of the Tillamook Lumber Co., being thus well calculated to represent both the agricultural and the business interests of his district.

Newberg boys continue to get to the front wherever found. Word comes that in the western interstate oratorical contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, held at Whittier, California, on last Friday evening, Elwood S. Minchin, representing Southern California, received first honors. There were four other speakers representing Texas, Oregon, Washington and Northern California, coming out of the contest in the order named. It was easy picking for Minchin, he winning three firsts on composition and three firsts on delivery. On June 22nd Elwood will represent the western interstate league in the national contest at Minneapolis, Minnesota, which was won two years ago by Walter Miles of this place. It is possible that he may stop off here on a short visit on his way to Minneapolis.

One of the finest addresses to which a Newberg audience has ever had the privilege of listening was delivered before a union mass meeting in Duncan's opera house Sunday evening by Paul Rader, superintendent of the Oregon Anti-Saloon League. It was delivered from a plane which even reform speakers very seldom reach, and that it met with hearty appreciation is indicated by the fact that Mr. Rader said that he had not had so attentive an audience anywhere in the state in the present campaign against the proposed amendment to the local option law. Mr. Rader is a young man, who, shortly after his graduation from Harvard, was called to the pastorate of one of the pioneer churches of Boston, which he held until last fall when he broke down in health. Coming to Oregon, he soon recuperated, and his energy and ability being readily recognized, he was pressed into the service of the anti-saloon league, where he is doing a grand work for the state.

Rev. T. Brouillette delivered a memorial address in the Baptist church Sunday morning before the members of the Grand Army.

Miss Belle Newhouse came up from Portland Monday evening for a visit of some length at home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hevland came down from Dallas Wednesday morning and observed Decoration Day with Newberg friends.

Mrs. Libbie Newhouse went through here from Dayton on Friday morning's train on her way to join her husband at Centralia, Washington, in a short visit.

The W. O. W. and Circle will hold memorial services at the cemetery Sunday afternoon. All members are requested to meet at the First National Bank at 2:30 o'clock and march in a body to the cemetery.

Some citizens here have given expression to a desire to contribute something toward a fund for the defense of George Mitchell, the slayer of the infamous Creffield. They say that in so doing they do not wish to condone the killing, but considering the mitigating circumstances, and the fact that this is his old home, they feel that some help should go to the boy from here. It is possible that the matter will be taken up and a subscription paper circulated.

The Shakespeare club gave its annual banquet Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Butt, the Shakespearians having the members of the Wednesday club present as guests. Toasts were responded to as follows, F. A. Morris being toastmaster: "The Chambered Nautilus," Mrs. Gould; "French Art," Mrs. C. J. Edwards; "Shakespearean Depravity," Mrs. Butt; "Literature of Austria Hungary," Mrs. J. T. Smith; "Shakespearean Frailties," R. W. Harrold.

The eighth grade graduating class of the Springbrook public school entertained their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harnden Tuesday evening, May 29th. Those present were: Florence Rees, Benlah Newlin, Myrtle Newby, Myrle Wilson, Winnie Wallen, Clarice Newlin, Ester Wallen, Stella Hubbard, Mae Whitlaw, Myrtle Burke, Ola Heater, Florence Mills, Daisy Newhouse, Lelia Whitlaw, Glenn Harnden, Virgil Mills, Claude Lewis, Alva Heater, Fred Hutchens, Victor Rees, Earl Hutchens, Paul Lewis, Lisle Hubbard, Ross Newby, Claude Calkins and Joseph Austin. At an early hour ice cream was served and all went home wishing that the eighth graders might graduate soon. A Guest.

There wasn't much to the ball game played here yesterday afternoon between the Honeyman hardware team of Portland, known as the "Red Diamonds," and the Newberg ball tossers, the latter winning out by a lead of 22 to 0. The feature of the game was Springer's work in the box for Newberg, he proving a slab artist of the first magnitude. He retired seventeen men at the bat and didn't allow a single hit, but two of the visitors reaching first base, one on being hit by a pitched ball and one by an error. The players, according to Newberg's batting order, follow:

Newberg	if	Portland
Mills	c	McFall
F. Parrett	2b	Hefty
J. Parrett	3b	Nally
Hamnett	ss	Wall
A. Parrett	sb	Black
Springer	cf	Jorgensen
Kincaid	pf	Dempsey
C. Parrett	rf	Van Orsdal
Groth	lf	Johnson

Lombard, umpire.
