Local Events.

Rev. Oliver Kenworthy and wife are down from Salem, visiting with the parents of the former.

R. B. Linville began making daily trips to Portland this week where he has entered the real estate field with W. E. Purdy.

Miss Etta McCoy will leave in the morning for Southern California, where she will spend the summer vacation with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Robertson gave the members of the choir of the Friends church a pleasant social evening at their home last Friday.

At the request of the attorney for the defendant, Alpheus Mills will go to Seattle this week as a witness in the Mitchell murder trial.

Walter Spaulding went down to Portland Saturday where he joined his father C. K., both leaving in the evening on a trip to San Francisco.

Tom Hodson and daughter Miss Eula, who have been making their home in Southern California for two or three years, arrived the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Nathan White went down to Portland Friday and in the evening attended the Commencement exercises of Portland Academy, her grandson Melvin Ogden being a member of the graduating class.

G. J. Saunders and family came overland from Corbett, to attend College Commencement. Their son Harvey graduated from the Academic department and Lewis from the regular college course.

L. S. Hill and family, of Eugene, arrived last Friday for a visit with friends and relatives. Lon remained over Sunday, an unusually long visit for him, leaving Mrs. Hill and Esther to remain longer.

Harry Maxfield and Leonard George left last Friday for Gearhart Park, where they are representing the Pacific College association at the annual Northwest Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association.

G. T. Tolson, professor of Biblical History in the Pacific Theological Seminary of Berkeley, California, gave his old college friends here an unexpected pleasure by arriving Tuesday evening to be present at Commencement.

Prof. R. W. Kirk, principal of the public school and W. C. Woodward, who will have a place in the college faculty here next year, will leave in the morning for Berkeley to spend the summer in the University of California. They will be joined by Prof. H. F. Wilson, principal of the McMinnville schools.

On last Thursday evening, preceding her marriage, the girl friends of Miss Lulu Youngs gave her a kitchen utensil shower, those participating being the Misses Grace Nash, Mabel Blaylock, Eva Smith, Leora Buchanan, Alverta Meets, Katherine Dimond, Florence Versteeg, Leila Evans, Blanche McNay, Mary Duncan and Erma Heacock.

There was a good attendance at the school meeting Monday afternoon, indicating that there is no lack of interest in Newberg school matters on the part of patrons. Interest centered principally in the election of a director. J. W. Forsyth is the retiring officer and the fact that his business calls him from town a good share of the time made it feasible to select another. There were several receptive candidates, but there was a feeling that a capable woman on the Board would be a good thing, the result being that Mrs. Clarence Butt was elected. Those best acquainted with her think an excellent choice has been made. W. W. Nelson was elected school clerk for the next year with little opposition. The adding of the eleventh grade work to the curriculum was championed by J. A. Pike, and voted upon affirmatively.

Emmor W. Hall was up from Portland the first of the week looking after business interests.

Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends church, held in Newberg, will open on Friday July 6, and continue one week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Atkinson and daughter, of Goldendale, Washington, are visiting relatives here for a few days.

Mrs. C. L. Blum, of Baker City, arrived the last of the week for a visit of a week or so with her sister, Mrs. H. R. Morris.

Since selling his interest in the implement business H. G. Miller has been taking a look at the country east of the mountains.

With the favorable turn in the weather which came the first of the week, the farmers lost no time in getting busy in the hay fields and a big crop is promised.

Smith Gilliam, an old pioneer of the early days on the coast, was in town the first of the week visiting with J. C. Nelson, the two living the old times over again for a few days together.

Harry Walther, a former student who is now engaged in the hardware business with his father at The Dalles, came down to see college friends and attend Commencement.

N. C. Maris, associate editor of the Rural Spirit, has been up this week dividing his time between Commencement exercises and some of the fine stock farms of the county.

Mrs. Oliver Brown of San Francisco, who has been with her sister Mrs. Archie Campbell at Sherwood since the earthquake, is spending the week in Newberg with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris.

Master Ralph Butt departed for Dayton Saturday, immediately following the close of the public school, to spend his summer vacation as a general purpose man on the Dayton Prairie farm of Mrs. Nancy Crawford.

Newberg people should make use of the belfry or cupola on the new public school building when they have friends from a distance visiting them. As good a view of the town and surroundings cannot be obtained elsewhere.

Owing to the condition of the health of John Dunstan, he has found it necessary for him to give up the business in which he recently engaged and has transferred his interest to Claude Calkins. The implement and feed business will be continued at the old stand under the firm name of Calkins & Wright.

Rev. Amos Kenworthy arrived home from Seattle a few days ago and has since sold his residence in town to Rev. James Price, of Salem, the exchange of property between them mentioned a few weeks ago, having failed on account of the Price property having been sold to other parties during his absence.

Jasper Hammer, of Ottumwa, Iowa, visited a few days the first of the week with his brother Samuel north of town. He has been railroading in the freight department in his home city for several years and he is now looking over the coast country with a view of getting a position in the same kind of office work. He is much pleased with Oregon.

E. Ralston, cousin of Jo Porter and T. J. Rhoten, is in town with his wife and daughter visiting. Sixteen years ago he came to Oregon from Kansas with Mr. Porter but later on went to Bellefourche, South Dakota, where, until two months ago he has been engaged in the newspaper business. Having sold out he is again in Oregon looking for a business location.

B. E. Starr, brother-in-law of Geo. Mitchell, came up from Portland the first of the week to get his little children who have been given a home in the family of G. W. Mitchell, with the intention of taking them up to Seattle, where Mitchell's trial begins June 25th. It is probable that H. R. Morris and J. J. Woods will be subpoenaed to appear at the trial as witnesses in behalf of the defendant.

D. R. Jackson has gone to St. Johns for a two month's visit with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Braden.

Mrs. Stanhope Pier came up from Portland Monday evening and is spending the week with Miss Pearl Cummings and other friends.

Paul V. Maris will spend vacation traveling and attending the fairs as subscription agent for the Rural Spirit, his father being associate editor of the same.

A. E. Moore is getting material ready to build a new fruit evaporator on his place west of town and expects to be ready to take care of his share of the big prune crop this fall.

Parties desiring to express a choice for a young lady to represent the Goddess of Liberty at the celebration on the Fourth, will find ballot boxes at the stores of C. B. Wilson and F. H. Caldwell & Co.

As we go to press we learn that Miss Ruth Harger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Harger, was married to Elza Hadley at the home on First street, Wednesday evening at nine o'clock, Rev. Herbert T. Cash officiating.

The Pacific Exhibition Panorama of San Francisco, showing the city before, during and after the earthquake, at Duncan's hall Thursday and Friday nights. Moving pictures and stereoptical views. The show is well recommended.

Arthur Wilson, student in the college and trainer of the basketball team expects to return next year and take up the same work. His work during the year was very satisfactory and a good team may be looked for next season.

Programs are out for the Chautauqua assembly to be held at Gladstone Park July 10 to 22 inclusive, a reading of which shows that the management has been very fortunate in securing good talent to make up each day's entertainment.

Marvin Blair, who has been in Penn College, at Oskaloosa, Iowa, during the past year, writes home that he has gone down into Oklahoma with some of the students to help harvest some of the big five hundred acre wheat fields of that section.

Heacock-Youngs Wedding.

"Some days must be dark and dreary," says the poet, and even occasionally a wedding day, as was the case last Friday, but outward conditions had no "dampening" effect upon the ceremony which was performed in the early morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Youngs, when their daughter Lulu was married to Morris M. Heacock, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Heacock. By the lavish use of evergreens and roses the Youngs home was converted into a veritable bower of beauty, in the midst of which the happy young people were made one in the presence of assembled relatives.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Heacock made their way to the depot to take the train for Rainier. They were met at the station by a company of interested friends, and the shower of rice which took place clearly indicated that they did not intend to be outdone by Jupiter Pluvius at his best. The bride and groom will make their home at Rainier, Columbia county, where Morris is establishing a factory in connection with the Newberg Sash & Door factory, which he will operate.

Morris has proved himself to be a reliable, able and energetic young business man, dependable, and well qualified to assume responsibility, and is deserving of the general confidence in which he is held. His bride has lived in Newberg but two or three years, sufficiently long however, to win her many warm friends for her many womanly qualities and high Christian character.
