THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1906.

In the state campaign in New York the Hearst and anti-Hearst men are saying some very naughty things about each other, and the worst feature about it is that many of the charges appear to be well founded.

Taft seems to be having things pretty much his own way in Cuba. He is a big man physically and his work, both in the Philippines and in Cuba, is good evidence that he is a brainy man with good executive ability.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week a big fruit fair is billed to come off at Hood River. Since they never do anything by halves at Hood River it may as well be accepted as a fact that the show will be all that they are claiming for it. The attendance promises to be large and it will be well worth the cost of the trip.

The Graphic can't agree with the Gervais Star in the assertion that "Portland is building up at the expense of the balance of the state." Every nook and corner of Oregon would be infinitely better off financially if Portland was the equal of New York in population and commercial importance. Don't knock Portland, brother, but knock for your own town.

It is stated that the Oregonian has an exclusive franchise on the associated press news service, the same to hold until the population of Portland reaches a certain figure. Since the Journal is attempting to boost the census estimates and the Oregonian is striving to hold the figures down, it begins to look like the population might be crawling up pretty close to the danger line for the Oregonian.

The effort the ladies of the different churches in town made some time ago to check the use of profanity on the streets, by posting cards about town requesting people to refrain from the use of profane language, has been fruitful of good results, as there is a disposition on the part of many people to consider the wishes of those with whom they mingle, and any gentleman knows that it is unmanly to take the name of his Maker in vain when his attention is called to it.

A good deal has been said in the papers lately about a recent trip Homer Davenport has made to the land of the Turks for the purpose of bringing over to this country some Arabian horses. Possibly Homer may be a judge of horse flesh, but if he has not secured any better lot of horses than the old plugs he had on exhibition at the Lewis and Clark fair he is throwing good money away. Right here in Oregon any judge of a horse can pick up a hundred head of horses that will outclass anything he had in Portland last year.

E. Ralston, cousin of Jo Porter and J. T. Rhoton, who visited here during the summer at different times, has bought the West Side Enterprise. Mr. Ralston was in the newspaper business in South Dakota for several years and consequently he falls into the harness like an old plow horse. Independence is a growing town located in a fine farming country and since the Enterprise has the field it is no doubt a good paying proposition. The newspaper boys of the valley will extend to Mr. Ralston the glad hand.

It is refreshing to see a man in public life like Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, who does not hesitate to stand up before the people and boldly assert what he believes to be for the best interests of the people, regardless of the opinions of the old fossils in the senate who imagine they are the whole show. New blood of the La Follette type serves to start the circulation where it has long been stagnant. It is a good omen for the future of our country when men of the type of the gentleman from Wisconsin are being sent to Washington.

The Statesman very truthfully says: "The Oregonian has one serious trouble as a public utility. It cannot brook any criticism, no matter how good natured, without becoming abusive to the verge of silliness. The scornful manner with which it brushes other newspapers aside as 'paltry' and lacking in honesty is a little disgusting and subjects that paper to much deserved ridicule. The editor of the Oregonian must not forget that he is only human, because the rest of the craft all know it."

In commenting on the recent meeting of the state press association the Hood River News-Letter says: "The reason and the only reason, that newspaper men are up against so many adverse circumstances through unfortunate legislation, ill-disposed customs and unfavorable prejudices, is, that they have not come together, joined hands and worked for each other's good. It has been too much: 'Every fellow for himself and the devil for us all.' There is no better time than right now, to jar loose from the old ways and enter into a systematic, energetic, aggressive struggle for something better for the newspaper men." Any man can gain something by rubbing elbows with his fellows who are engaged in the same business as himself, and a few days off once or twice each year for a newspaper man to talk shop with the boys is time well spent. Let every newspaper man in Oregon join the association and work for the interests of the quill-pushing fraternity.

An Awful Cough Cured.

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Illinois. This remedy is for sale by C. F. Moore.

A Young Mother at 70.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at seventy. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Maine. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets stomach, liver and kidneys right, purifies the blood, and cures Malaria, biliousness and weaknesses. Wonderful nerve tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed by F. H. Caldwell & Co., drug store.

Nothing to Fear.

The question of injurious substances in medicines which has been agitating the minds of many people, does not concern those who use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers have no hesitancy in continuing to give it to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds and croup and can always be relied upon. For sale by C. F. Moore.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by C. F. Moore.

Danger From the Plague.

There's grave danger from the plague of coughs and colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. Mrs. Geo. Walls, of Oregon City, Maine, writes: "It's a Godsend to people living in a country where coughs and colds prevail. I find it quickly ends them. It prevents pneumonia, cures lagrippe, gives wonderful relief in asthma and hay fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off consumption, coughs and colds. 50c and $1. Guaranteed by F. H. Caldwell & Co., drug store. Trial bottle free.

MANY a $20 Watch

Is of no use because it needs a dollars worth of repairs. A watch in that shape represents money that isn't working, and money that doesn't work doesn't do its full duty.

If YOU own a helpless, useless timepiece, why don't you bring it to our repair department?

We are well equipped to change it into an article that you can again depend upon.

Of course we charge for this service according to the extent of the repairs that are necessary. But in any event the amount will be very small, very small, indeed, compared with the advantage of having a "stopped" watch turned into a reliable timepiece.
