J. B. David, of Portland, was in town Wednesday looking like the world was treating him well.

J. T. Crews and family, who went to Rock Creek a few months ago, have returned to Newberg.

The Misses Jessie Britt, Nora Parker and Elsie Mackie went to Portland Tuesday evening to hear Rosenthal the pianist.

Rev. C. L. Hamilton went to St. Johns Tuesday to visit his father and take a few days needed rest on account of an attack of the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Fuller came up from Portland Saturday evening and visited over Sunday with the latter's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Romig.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth A. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Lewis drove to Dallas last Saturday where they visited with relatives, returning the first of the week.

Allen Rhoten, brother of J. T. Rhoten, who spent several months in Oregon a few years ago, arrived here again last week with his family from Kansas.

John K. Wright, of LaGrande, came in on the train Saturday evening, departing the next morning without taking much time to shake hands with his former Newberg friends.

Walter Kenworthy, who, until quite recently was in the undertaking business at San Jose, California, was down from Salem the first of the week in company with his father, visiting with his brothers who are in college.

J. T. Smith, who had been in the postoffice as clerk for the past few weeks, has gone back to the handle factory. Emory Hodson, brother of J. C. Hodson, who has been in Seattle for several years, is here and has taken a place in the postoffice.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hoskins, Mrs. F. K. Jones and daughter, Mrs. D. J. Gilbert and Miss Cora Hadley went to Dayton last Friday to attend a birthday dinner made for William Macy, who is now in his eighty seventh year, but still well preserved for one of his age.

A letter received here a few days ago from Prof. R. W. Kelsey stated that a telegram had been received from Mrs. Kelsey's former home in Indiana, announcing the death of her father, who was killed by being struck by a railroad train while crossing the track.

Just before leaving for Twin Falls, Idaho, last week, W. A. Moomaw sold his residence in town to Mrs. J. H. Wood, and on Monday the A. R. Moomaw property was sold to a gentleman named Shearer from Tacoma, a relative of John Shearer. Both pieces of property are desirable, the cottages being new and of a modern style of architecture.

J. S. B. McNay, who came here from Kansas two years ago and bought the fourteen acre tract out northwest of town, formerly owned by Henry Cobb, has sold the place and on account of an invalid wife will move into town. The price he paid for the place was $2100 and he sold for $4000, which shows a nice profit on the investment. Mr. McNay has been a hustler from the day he set foot in Oregon and although he stated to the Graphic that he thought he would move into town and quit work for a while, "probably run a paper" he said, it can be depended upon that he will be on deck with the first chirp of the robins, ready to take a hand in the first thing that offers without waiting for something to "turn up." He is built that way.

Lee Grames made a trip to Newport last Saturday, returning the first of the week.

Subject of sermon at Baptist church next Sunday morning, "The relation of the Law and the Gospel," evening subject "Job's Triumph."

J. S. B. McNay has bought the G. P. Skelton property on north Meridan street, and also the Peter Bashaw property on the opposite side of the street.

C. S. Fling, a former resident of Newberg who has been residing at San Jose, California, for the past two or three years, arrived in town last Friday evening.

N. F. Byers returned from the St. Martin hot springs on the upper Columbia last Thursday, where he spent three weeks taking treatment for rheumatism. He came home feeling well and is profuse in his praise of what the hot baths did for him.

Miss Etta McCoy, who resigned her position in the Newberg public school with the intention of returning to her home at Lawrence, Kansas, yielded to the temptation to take a three months school at a salary of $60 per month, and she is now teaching at Gresham.

C. C. Ferguson has sold all his big horses at fancy prices and is ready to invest more money in the same kind of flesh when it is offered. The day when the bicycle and the chug-chug wagon shall distance the noble horse in the race for public favor seems still to be far in the future.

The editor and wife received an invitation a few days ago to attend the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Charles F. Coffin and wife at their home in Chicago on March 25. This elderly couple, now far past the average age of wedded life, formerly lived at Richmond, Indiana, and are well known to many readers of the Graphic.

W. E. Fortune returned home from his trip to Missouri last week where he spent several weeks visiting with his father. His brother, Lemuel Fortune and a brother-in-law of the latter named Hall Hopkins, came with him with a view of locating here if they are satisfied with the country and of course they will be.

Alfred Wheeler, the veteran tinner and plumber, has closed up his shop and he and Mrs. Wheeler will leave here this week for Morgan Hill, California, a town of five hundred inhabitants and situated in the Santa Clara valley, where he has a position with a hardware firm for a year. They hold their property here and expect to return.

Lindley M. Carey arrived home from Marion, Indiana, last week where he spent most of the winter visiting with relatives. He says he enjoyed the visit very much but found the same old changeable climatic conditions prevailing in "Hoosierdom," which were too much for him and he wears a smile that won't wear off since his return.

W. C. Meats died at his home in Newberg on Friday evening of last week, after several days of illness from pneumonia, at the age of sixty-nine years. The deceased was born in England but spent the greater part of his life in this country. He was a Grand Army veteran, he having spent three years in the service as corporal in Company K, Illinois Volunteer Cavalry. He came from Philomath to this community with his family several years ago and last season sold his small farm near town and built a home in town. He leaves a widow, two daughters and one son, Mrs. Frank Cummins, of Newberg; Mrs. John Andreas, of California, and Wm. Meats, of Rainier. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon under the management of the local G. A. R., the religious services being conducted by Rev's C. L. Hamilton and W. S. Lowry. Deceased was a member of the First Day Adventist church.

C. C. Ferguson has bought the Milt Nicholson livery barn.

Mr. Hem Flett, of Olex, Oregon, spent Sunday at the home of Miss Emerette Harger.

Mrs. Sam. Gardner has been up from Portland during the week visiting with her sister, Mrs. B. C. Miles.

At a meeting of the city council held on last Monday night, E. R. Horton was elected as a member of the council from the third ward in place of F. H. Caldwell, who resigned, and Wm. Clemmens was employed as street commissioner.

Wm. Eggers and wife, the former a nephew of C. H. Eggers, have been in town visiting during the week. Mr. Eggers is a Portland carpenter and he is taking advantage of enforced idleness on account of the strike at the lumber mills, to see Newberg and make a visit.

James Buckley, who recently sold his place near Rex, has bought C. B. Wilson's confectionery business, but will not take possession until he returns from a trip to Puyallup, Washington, where he with his family went to visit with relatives. C. B. has not announced his intentions regarding his future in business.

At the close of the services at Friends church last Sunday morning, Rev. Herbert T. Cash, the pastor, made an appeal for aid to save the thousands in the interior of China who are starving to death on account of a famine, resulting from the destruction of crops by the overflow of rivers. A very liberal collection was taken.

President McGrew, who went to Boise, Idaho, for a short visit, was detained there longer than he had expected to be, on account of the death of his brother which occurred last week. The deceased brother, who was a prominent business man in Boise, and a man held in high esteem by those who knew him best, had been in very poor health for the past two years.

The permanent board of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends church met in Newberg on last Friday night, members being present from Portland, Scotts Mills, Salem and Rosedale, when it was decided to change the date for holding the next Yearly Meeting, making it one week later. The change is made on account of the date of July 9, the time fixed for the opening, being in conflict with the date of the holding of the International Christian Endeavor convention which will be held at Seattle. The date set for the opening is July 16, when the first business session will be held at two o'clock in the afternoon.

John S. Richie, who came over from Scotts Mills last Friday to attend a church committee meeting, remained over until Monday visiting with friends in the community. He stated that a company of experienced coal men had become interested in prospects for coal at Scotts Mills, basing their conclusions on information given them respecting coal deposits found there a few years ago, when a well to the depth of some three hundred feet was bored by the citizens. This company has secured leases on most of the land in the vicinity and will go to considerable expense in prospecting to determine whether or not there is coal there in paying quantities.
