Local Events.

Rev. C. L. Hamilton and family are enjoying a vacation at Newport-by-the-sea.
The Thos. Prince walnut orchard of Dundee is heavily loaded this year and will yield a heavy crop.
Prof. E. J. Hadley and family came up from Portland Saturday to visit his brother, Lon Hadley.

Dolan Kenworthy has bought C. A. Hodson's interest in the undertaking business which he will continue alone.

Mrs. J. R. Finley and daughter, Miss Grace, went over to Tillamook Tuesday for a three week's visit with relatives.

A. M. Hadley, of Portland, showed his Quaker raising by coming up Saturday evening and attending Yearly Meeting over Sunday.

Mrs. W. E. Wight and sons expect to leave for Heppner tomorrow for a visit of a week or two with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Whiteis.

Prof. J. S. Carrick has given up his music work for the summer and has gone to Rosedale, south of Salem, to look after his prune orchard.

Wm. Pool and wife, from Pleasant Plain, Iowa, have been in town for a few days the guests of Mrs. Maria Bowerman and other acquaintances.

Miss Lena Spangle, who is keeping house for her father at Dayton this vacation, came down to attend Yearly Meeting Sunday and Monday.

B. F. West and family, of Salem, visited in town a few days ago with Mrs. West's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fisher. Mr. West is connected with the Salem Statesman.

The Graphic subscription list is growing encouragingly. The best way by which newcomers may identify themselves with the community and become acquainted with their new neighbors is to subscribe for the local paper.

C. F. Moore and son Paul left on their annual pilgrimage to Newport Tuesday, to be followed in a few days by Mrs. Moore and Pearl. In Charley's absence his business will be well taken care of by Emory Hodson, a well known and experienced druggist. Dolan Kenworthy will also assist in the store.

Miss Clara Tebbetts, who is on her way home to Whittier, California, after having taken graduate work at Earlham College, Indiana, the past year, stopped off here the latter part of the week to visit relatives in the family of B. C. Miles. She resumed her journey southward today.

W. Lair Hill, of Seattle, attorney for the Weber, Bussell Cannery Company, was in town Friday and Saturday and completed the transfer of the cannery site property to the above named concern. The company gave bonds to operate the cannery five years, in case of failure to do which the property goes back to the subscribers. Work has been commenced clearing off the site. Mr. Bussell is expected to return from Seattle in a few days.

James Fletcher, who has the contract for the building of the two story brick, which is being erected by the Union Building Company, has the work well along in spite of some delays that have been occasioned by lack of getting material on time. The brick work is well along and the carpenters and plumbers are following closely with their part of the work. The remark is quite general that when finished this will be one of the best buildings in the valley.

L. B. Charles and family spent Sunday in Dayton with L. W. Charles.

S. W. Potter returned Monday from a pleasant outing of ten days at Newport.

Rev. Joseph Hall occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church of McMinnville Sunday.

J. W. Childs has been running his merry-go-round swing over at Woodburn for two or three weeks.

Mrs. P. J. Mann, of Portland, was in Newberg over Sunday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edwards.

Mrs. John Dunstan, of Beaver, Tillamook county, who had been in the valley a week visited Newberg friends over Sunday.

Dr. Wilkens and family, of McMinnville, also Miss Jessie Groth, spent a pleasant day with Dr. Bowers and family Sunday.

Ernest Hofer has been taking a vacation from his barber chair during which he is building a house on his property in the west part of town.

Mrs. W. H. Beharrel and mother-in-law returned home to Portland Tuesday after having spent a few days in town with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott.

Mrs. Laura Minthorn, who was out from Newport to attend Friends Yearly Meeting, said many houses were being built at that popular summer resort.

This is a fast age. Joseph Hall reports a Buff Orpington spring pullet that has already reached that mature stage where she has laid a setting of eggs and is ready for setting.

Attorney Clarence Butt made a professional visit to Hood River the first of the week as attorney for the Haskins heirs to an estate that is to be settled. He says it makes one gasp for breath on a hot day, to hear the prices named for Hood River dirt.

A long string of forty or fifty automobiles are expected to pass through town Saturday afternoon on their way back to Portland from a day's tour of the valley, having come out on the east side. Portland dealers are thus to make a test of the endurance of their machines.

Every newspaper wants to publish the news. The better the paper the more prosperous it will be. Local news items are hard to run down, especially at this season when there is little going on. If our readers will call us up on the phone or drop us a card whenever they know of a news item they will help in making the paper better and will earn our everlasting gratitude.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cobb, their eldest daughter Fanny was married at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening to Mr. Nelson Brouillette, Rev. T. Brouillette, uncle of the groom, officiating. Relatives of the parties and a very few friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Brouillette will spend the summer out on the coast between Newport and Siletz holding down a timber claim which he has taken.

Having accepted the offer of the presidency of Whittier College, California, Professor Thomas Newlin, who with Mrs. Newlin has been spending three weeks most pleasantly here with old time friends, is making arrangements looking toward taking up his new duties at the beginning of the college year. They left here for the East yesterday, the arrangement being that Mrs. Newlin will visit her father in Indiana while Pres. Newlin returns to North Carolina and prepares for their removal. They expect to be in Whittier by the first of September. Our sister college of the south is to be congratulated on having secured as its president one of the very strongest men and ablest educators in the Friends church anywhere. The best wishes of his many, many Newberg friends go with him as he assumes his new responsibilities.

J. C. Porter and family are members of the Newberg summer settlement at Newport.

Miss Emma Dorrance is spending her vacation at the popular summer resort on Yaquina Bay.

Mrs. Clarence Butt and sons Ralph and Dale departed for an outing at Newport Wednesday. Attorney Clarence expects to follow them up later.

W. C. Woodward and sisters Sibyl and Bernice expect to leave in about ten days for Berkeley, California, where they will spend the school year at the University of California. They and Prof. and Mrs. R. W. Kelsey have a house rented in common.

Rev. W. S. Lowry, who has lately succeeded in establishing a Presbyterian church at Woodland, Washington, was in town again this week. He has accepted a good position as evangelist pastor over two presbyteries in California, with headquarters at Oakland, and he will make his home either there or at Berkeley with his family.

L. R. Alderman, county school superintendent, sends in this announcement: On Saturday, August 3rd at 2 p. m., I will meet at the school fair building the representatives of the various school districts for the purpose of selecting a place for their school exhibits. If no place is selected I shall reserve a place for each district, but by coming to the above mentioned meeting you will get a choice of places.

A young man about town wished last night to spend the evening with his "steady" but thinking perhaps she might have another date, wrote her a note and asked her permission. He called a boy, gave him the note and a dime, and told him to bring back an answer. The messenger returned shortly, handed back the dime and said: "She said it would be all right—you can come, but she don't need the money."

A well ordered but lively run-away took place Tuesday afternoon. One of the Ornduff teams from the mountain started east on Hancock street from the laundry, and turning neither to the right nor to the left, kept a clear, consistent course until it reached the canyon in the rear of J. B. Parker's house. It went through the Parker premises without hitting a post or tree and just missed several hundred glass jars which were piled close beside the private roadway. No damage done except to Mrs. Parker's cabbage patch which the runaways made their terminus.

The awful disaster of the steamship Columbia off the Mendocino coast of California, late Saturday night, in which nearly one hundred people were lost, is brought nearer to this community through the loss sustained by a Newberg home. Miss Elsie May Stone, daughter of J. M. Stone connected with the Chehalem Valley Mills, is among the missing. She was a nurse of San Francisco and was on her way north on the ill fated Columbia to care for her brother of this place who was going to a Portland hospital for treatment. The distressed family have anxiously scanned the papers hoping against hope that word of her escape may be found, but the name of daughter and sister is still given in the list of the missing.

Soren Nelson, who had been a great sufferer for some time past, died Saturday evening in the Chehalem Center neighborhood. After a very bad attack he laid his head back with the words, "I feel better now—I am going to sleep," and he slept the sleep that knows no waking. Rev. John Shires conducted the funeral services on Monday after which interment was made in the West Chehalem cemetery. The deceased was a native of Denmark and was in his 79th year. Before failing health came on he made his weekly market trips to town with such regularity that he was widely known as "Tuesday" Nelson, and no disrespect was attached to the name either. In his own home community he was affectionately known as Grandpa Nelson.
