Mrs. W. B. Sims visited in town during the week with relatives and friends.

Miss Emma Cowdon, of Portland, visited over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nash.

Mrs. Seese has made the sale of her property on Meridian street to M. McDonald.

Mrs. Josie Fields is having the barn on her property on Center street, worked over into a residence.

F. A. Elliott and J. H. Mills have just completed cement sidewalks along their property over near the college.

The district convention of the Christian church will be held in Newberg October 31st and November 1st, inclusive.

Mrs. J. M. Smith and two sons, of Portland, were guests, from Friday to Monday, of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitten.

Miss Pearl Durst, of Portland, visited in town Saturday and Sunday, with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hodson and other friends.

A very readable article will be found in another column from the pen of J. T. Rhoton, alias Tommy, giving a minute description of the Silver Lake country.

Mrs. J. A. Hughes went to Portland last Friday and on Saturday successfully underwent a surgical operation. She is reported to be getting along nicely.

Miss Hattie George, who has been nursing in the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland for the past year, came home Saturday, and will remain for some time, taking a much needed rest.

Mrs. J. W. Zibley, of Dayton, Washington, arrived Tuesday evening, and will spend the winter in Newberg. Mr. Zibley is expected in a week or so. Mrs. Zibley is a daughter of Mrs. Ruth Heston.

Wm. Rich made the sale of his grocery store, building and residence, last week, to J. L. Van Blaircon, of Shelburn, Linn county. Mr. Van Blaircon is reported to have had considerable experience in mercantile lines and comes highly recommended. Mr. Rich has given possession and has moved to property west of the public school building.

G. W. Range, who recently moved to Athens, Tennessee, writes that they arrived at their destination all safe and sound. He also says that as they haven't got settled, it doesn't "seem like home." If George will give us the date on which he expects to land at Newberg, we will make arrangements to have the brass band meet him at the depot on his return.

H. E. Palmer, who lived in the Chehalis Center neighborhood, died suddenly of heart trouble last Thursday evening. The deceased was born near Clide, Sandusky county, Ohio, November 2, 1842, and was married to Cyrene Smith, January 1, 1867. His wife and two sons are left to mourn a loving father. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Hamilton. Interment was made in Dundee cemetery.

Herman Bramer, who lived on Chehalis mountain in the vicinity of Middleton, met with an accident last Friday which caused his death on Monday. He was engaged in painting his house and was standing on a scaffold about four feet from the ground, when he accidentally fell, striking on his head and breaking his neck. He was taken to a Portland hospital and on the following day an operation was performed, but the fracture was of such a nature that had he lived he probably would have been paralyzed for life.

Rev. Geo. C. Ritchey, will preach at Crater's hall both Sunday morning and evening.

B. F. Heyland, of Portland, made a business trip to this city the latter part of last week.

Will Miles has returned from Rosedale where he has been drying prunes and entered college Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Newby have returned from Rosedale where Emmor has been assisting his father in caring for his prune crop.

Fred Crozier has bought a lot in the Edwards orchard, west of Milo Elliott's new house, but will not likely build until next season.

Mesdames Lizzie White, Olive T. Crumly and Maria Bowerman are attending the state W. C. T. U. convention at Eugene this week.

Harry Maxfield, of Quillayute, Washington, is back in college. This is Harry's senior year and we are glad to see him join the class again.

J. B. Parker has sold the property he purchased from F. A. Elliott, to a lady from Oswego. She expects to move here in the course of a month or so.

Mrs. Chas. Fairbanks left Sunday morning for Dodge Center, Minnesota. She was called there on account of the serious illness of her mother.

Clinton Bates, of Rosedale, brother of Roy, who was a student in the college last year, came down Saturday and entered college Monday.

A. O. Mills, who has been living on a farm across the river near St. Paul for the past year or two, moved back to Newberg the latter part of last week.

Mrs. E. J. Haworth and family leave here today for Boyd, Oregon, where they will make their home. Eli expects to join them as soon as salmon fishing is over.

Miss Ella Nelson and brother Horace spent Sunday in town under the parental roof. The former is teaching school near Castle Rock, Washington, and the latter holds down a good position in the baggage room at the union depot in Portland.

G. E. Johnson, of the firm of Biglow & Johnson, who conducted a music store in Newberg some eight or ten years ago, passed through on the train Friday evening. Mr. Johnson now lives near Vancouver, Washington where he is teaching school.

John L. Dodge, of Salem, came down to Newberg the first of the week, taking home with him Miss Anna Jeffrey, who had been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hoskins. Mr. Dodge says that Newberg shows more signs of improvement in the way of house-building than any other town he has visited in the Willamette valley.

The postoffice at Whiteson is to be discontinued October 31st. Patrons of the office will receive their mail through Route No. 1 of the McMinnville office, or through the Dayton or Amity postoffice, as seems most convenient to their location. This is the third postoffice discontinued since Mr. Eckman took charge of the office at this place. —News Reporter.

John Weedman, who had been visiting in this vicinity for a week or more returned to his home in Lincoln county the latter part of last week. He has been a resident of this locality for twenty-seven years up till three years ago, and notes many changes and improvements during his absence. He is now engaged in dairying, and says they get good returns from their cows from pasturing on the range without any extra feeding. He says cows demand a high price and that they are liable to be still higher, as farmers in that country as a general rule, sell the calves for veal, and that cows shipped in are handled at a loss for a year, as they have to become acclimated.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gardner, of Portland, spent Sunday in town visiting with relatives.

D. W. Coyle, of Portland, visited in town this week with his sister, Mrs. J. B. Mount.

Chris Smith returned from Sheman county Sunday, and has enrolled as a student of Pacific College.

The permanent organization of the Y.M.C.A. was effected at the meeting held in Odd Fellows Hall Monday night. Full particulars will be given in next week's issue.

J. C. Gregory, who recently came to Newberg from Lebanon, is contemplating putting in a stock of bronze monuments in the building he recently purchased of Van Leavitt, on First street.

Hugh Lawer, the little horse tamer, made a side trip to Newberg Friday and stayed over night. Hugh says he hopes to be able to make Newberg his home permanently, if he can so arrange his affairs.

In the suit brought against Sam McVey by Mrs. Nellie Barr for giving liquor to minors, the former was acquitted at the trial held on Wednesday morning, Judge Linville not finding evidence sufficient to bind the accused over to the grand jury.

Zep Gossett, of Fairmont, Indiana, made a side trip to Newberg Saturday evening and visited until Sunday evening in the family of Joseph Wilson, they being old acquaintances years ago in old Hoosierdom. From here he went to Gold Hill, Southern Oregon, where he is interested in mining property.

On Sunday, October 13, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Christenson celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary. A number of relatives and friends were present and partook of an excellent dinner. In the afternoon a trip was taken through the country in an automobile, and the guests on leaving wished Mr. and Mrs. Christenson forty years more of holy wedlock.

At the Wednesday club this week the subject of Home Economics was discussed. Two papers were read about the proper combination of foods. The members answered to roll call with a favorite household receipt. At the close of the program Mrs. Harrold, the hostess, served delicious refreshments. The state federation of clubs meets in Salem next week. Newberg will send two delegates.

Invitations have been received here to the golden wedding of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Armstrong of Whittier, California. In addition to the card of invitation is another card containing the photos of the bride and groom then and now. And it is interesting to note how, as the years have passed they have gained in strength of character as is depicted in their faces. The writer has known this elderly couple for many years, and knows that theirs has been a life of usefulness and self-sacrifice. May they live many years yet together is the wish of their many Newberg friends. It will be remembered that Rev. Armstrong served the Friends church here as pastor four years ago.

John Keller, who has had charge of the Hazelwood Creamery business at this place for the past two or three years, has been transferred to Chehalis, Washington, where the company has installed a new plant. Mr. Keller says that for the first six months of his residence in Newberg, he did not like the town, but that the longer he has lived here the better he likes it, and now it seems the most like home of any place he has ever lived. Mr. Keller is a practical dairyman and a good citizen, and has made many friends during his sojourn in Newberg. The milk route will be left in charge of Dave Irelan, who will make the daily rounds for cream and ship it to Portland.
