Dr. E. P. Dixon came in from Grants Pass on business Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. F. Durst came up from Portland the first of the week for a visit with Newberg friends.

Bert Satchwell, of Medford, was in town a few days ago visiting with his mother and sister.

Jason Kellum has sold his property to George Sykes and will go to Iowa for a visit with relatives.

Hinchman Cooper and wife, of Estacada, were in town last Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mills.

Rev. H. J. Huguelett has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church, the same to take effect at the end of this year.

Maynard Redmond, in company with two of his young friends, George W. Ripley and C. L. Gould, respectively, spent last Sunday in town.

Miss Maybelle Edwards writes from Haviland, Kansas, that she is among a very hospitable people and that she is enjoying her visit among relatives.

Guy E. Metcalf was down from Eugene Sunday and Monday. Mrs. Metcalf and the children and her mother, Mrs. M. E. Allen returned home with him.

Mrs. D. H. Turner and daughter, Miss Carrie, Mrs. Dell Warren and Mrs. Miller came down from McMinnville Tuesday to attend the funeral at the C. A. Hodson residence.

Jasper Bales has gone to Bakersfield, California, to take the place of his brother, Ernest, as bookkeeper for an oil company, the latter taking heavier work with the same company at increased wages.

The meeting that was announced for Tuesday night to discuss the question of a free library for Newberg was called off on account of the illness of Miss Marvin of the state library association, who was expected to be present and speak. Further announcements will be made later.

In the matter of street improvements the weather has been favorable for gravel hauling and the work outlined at the beginning of the season has been completed. As the number of gravelled streets is increased the hauling during the winter season is better distributed and this helps the situation all round.

S. J. Madson, while out riding last Sunday evening in his auto, in company with Miss Lida Wilson and Mrs. C. B. Wilson and children, had an accident on the river road near the J. D. Gordon farm that was quite serious in results. Seeing some obstacle in the road he stopped the machine, alighted and went forward, when from some reason the throttle came open and the machine lurched forward, headed for the river. Miss Wilson understood how to steer the machine but did not know how to shut off the power. She succeeded in steering it away from the river but only to plunge it into some obstacle that stopped it with such suddenness and force that the occupants were thrown out. The children were more scared than hurt, but Miss Wilson was pretty badly cut about the scalp and one finger was badly lacerated, while Mrs. C. B. Wilson received some ugly cuts about the face which required medical attention. The machine was not badly injured. Mr. Madson is one of the most careful drivers who has operated an auto about Newberg and the report of the accident came as a surprise to his friends.

Mrs. J. B. Parker spent three days in Portland last week visiting with her friend, Miss Flora Snoville.

Mrs. Sarah Hollingsworth has been up from Sellwood during the week visiting with her son, W. W. Hollingsworth.

Mrs. Charles W. Madden and baby, of Rocklen, California, arrived here a few days ago for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Douglas, taking her by surprise. She will remain until after the holidays.

Morris Heacock has been in Portland during the week packing his household goods for shipment to Newberg. He has decided to return and take permanent work in the sash and door factory again.

W. J. Bennett, who bought the Illig property north of the college grounds some time ago for a home, left here Tuesday morning for Des Moines, Iowa, for a visit with his parents. He will be gone a month or more.

V. V. Willis is organizing a night school for teaching the commercial branches, and he announces that he will meet students for organization on Monday night of next week in the room over McConnell's barber shop.

John F. Heacock, who recently came here from Arkansas and who has been visiting with his sister, Mrs. Will Paxson, went to Portland Wednesday morning to take up work as city missionary for the Baptist church. Their home will be at Lents.

The basket social held at the Brutscher school house on last Saturday night is reported to have been a great success from a social standpoint, a large crowd being present, and the cash receipts amounted to $52.85 which will be used in the purchase of a bell for the school. Who said there was a shortage of currency in the country?

Harry Curtis, a plasterer by trade, and Clarence Haddicks, a painter and paper hanger, both from Warsaw, Indiana, and friends of S. E. Watkins, arrived here a few days ago and have decided to locate. Their headquarters will be with the Artificial Stone Company and they will be at home in Newberg as soon as they can get their families here from Indiana.

Mrs. J. W. Kramien has just recently returned from an extended trip through Illinois and Indiana. Most of her time was spent with her son, J. Aubrey Kramien in Bloomington, Illinois, where he is educational and religious director in the Y. M. C. A. She also visited with Mrs. J. A. Kramien's people at Shirley, Indiana, and spent a day at Earlham College. She reports a fine visit but is glad to get back to her home in Newberg again.

Thomas Prince, of Dundee, was in Dallas, Friday, showing some samples of the product of his walnut farm to the grocers of this city. The nuts were large and well shaped, and were packed in a most attractive manner, so that they appeared to a better advantage than the ordinary bulk stock that is shipped from the East. Mr. Prince has ninety acres of his farm planted in walnuts, fifty acres of which are in full bearing.—Polk County Observer.

On Friday evening, November 8, Miss Ida Woods entertained a few friends at her home in honor of Mrs. Lura C. Bogart. The rooms were tastily decorated with hearts and chrysanthemums. A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing the game of hearts, after which a delightful luncheon was served in the dining room. Mrs. Bogart was presented with a beautifully embroidered friendship sofa pillow by the hostess. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Mrs. Lura Bogart, Mrs. Maggie Littlefield, Miss Ellen Brewer, Messrs. L. B. Ferguson, Jim Daniels and Dr. Littlefield.

J. C. Saunders and son Lewis, of Corbett, were in town Wednesday.

W. S. Whitten, who has been visiting at the home of his son, W. H. Whitten, the past week, returned to his home at Newport Tuesday.

Ladies of the Christian church will hold their C. W. B. of M. meeting at the home of Mrs. T. H. Thorne Monday afternoon, November 18th, at two o'clock p. m.

C. B. Wilson arrived home from his trip to the sound country Wednesday evening. At Seattle he called on Edgar Hampton, F. H. Story and others of the Newberg colony.

The Wednesday club gave a reception in honor of new members last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Terrell. About thirty-five guests were present and spent a most pleasant evening. Light refreshments were served in the dining room.

As noted last week, George W. Range and family are back from their trip to East Tennessee and they are again residents of Newberg. Their many friends are glad to see them back and also pleased to see them so well satisfied with Oregon. George will take a place in the Chehalem Valley mills again.

The Sheridan Sun says: We wish to again call the attention of all to the fact that alfalfa can be grown successfully around Sheridan. Amos Bogue has just cut his fourth crop from the same ground this year. The crop was well matured and stood from 26 to 33 inches high. That is good enough for any country.

Richard Scott, of Milwaukee, Grand Master of the Jurisdiction of Oregon, made a visit to the local lodge of I. O. O. F. on Thursday night of last week, delivering an address that has been highly commended by the membership. Mr. Scott has long ranked as one of the progressive farmers and stock growers of Oregon.

While plowing in a field on the Eberhard farm across the river in Marion county recently, Henry Austin unearthed a medal, which in size is a little larger than a silver dollar. On one side is a very good profile and the name "William Henry Harrison," while on the reverse side a monument is represented which resembles Bunker Hill, and the words "Harrison Jubilee, Bunker Hill, September 10, 1840. The medal is well preserved and any one who may care to see this trophy of the "coon skin and hard cider" campaign of long ago, may have the privilege by calling at the office of the Newberg Land company.

Mrs. Walter W. Bruce, graduate of the Ott School of Expression, of Chicago, will give a reading in Duñcan's hall on Friday night, November 22, under the auspices of the athletic association of Pacific College. Mrs. Bruce was in Newberg a short time ago and gave some of her readings at the chapel exercises at the college and the students do not hesitate to give her work hearty endorsement. Congressman W. C. Hawley says: "I have heard Mrs. Walter W. Bruce many times and always with pleasure. She has a vigor and charm that never fails to please, and has excellent judgement in the interpretation as well as in the selection of her numbers." Many other favorable press notices are given which indicate that the entertainment will be first class.
