Local Events.

Mass will be held in Duncan's hall Sunday morning, followed by a lecture in the evening.

Calvin Blair, who is connected with the Y. M. C. A. in Portland, spent last Saturday and Sunday with the home folks.

Arthur Heacock was up from Gresham last week visiting with W. P. Heacock and calling on his former Newberg friends.

Mrs. J. F. Taylor has been visiting with her sister at Hillsboro for the past two weeks. The latter has a new daughter.

Wm. Rich will leave this week for Coquille, Coos county for a visit of four weeks with his daughters. He will take the steamer Alliance from Portland.

Miss Lucile Christenson came up from Portland the first of the ents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Christenson, on the farm in West Chehalem.

Mrs. Isaac Vinson died at Salem last week and on Saturday the body was brought here for burial. The deceased grew up here, she being the daughter of Luke McKern, deceased.

The general executive officers of the Yamhill county W. C. T.
U. met at Dundee last week in the Methodist church, when an all day meeting was held and work planned for the coming year.

The annual Minnesota reunion will be held on New Years day in Crater's hall. All persons ever having lived in Minnesota for any period of time, and their families, are cordially requested to be there. Watch for program later.

There is nothing more fitting for a holiday present than a book if it is a good one. S. A. Clarke's "Pioneer Days of Oregon History" in two volumes may be seen at the Graphic office. Just the proper thing for anyone who is at all interested in reading up on Oregon history.

The Y. M. C. A. girls succeeded in swelling their bank account to the amount of $25.50 as a result of their candy and pennant sale held on last Saturday. The ladies of the Presbyterian and M. E. churches who held sales the same day report very satisfactory results and the receipts for the public school entertainments held on Friday and Saturday nights were all that could be asked for. The attendance at the ball game on Friday night was also good, all of which goes to indicate that there is no stringency in the local "money market."

On Tuesday Granville Everest was in town showing a limb of good size cut from an apple tree in his orchard that was covered with more San Jose scale than a man could count in a lifetime, as he expressed it. He said that on account of the start the scale had in his orchard and the difficulty that faced him in making an effort to eradicate the pests, on account of old bark and moss that formed secure hiding places where it was scarcely possible to reach them with spray material, he was cutting practically all the tops away and burning the limbs. With the growth of new tops he will spray in season and out of season and hopes in this way to get satisfactory results. This is adopting what might be termed heroic measures but it is the view that a lot of other farmers throughout the Willamette valley ought to take of the situation.

There will be a Christmas entertainment at the Chehalem school house, district No. 9 on Christmas night. Everybody cordially invited.

A part of the building being erected for the milk condensing plant was wrecked by the wind and rainstorm one night last week, but no great damage was done.

The Kings Daughters, of Chehalem Center, will hold a sale of homemade articles, candy and house plants at the schoolhouse, Saturday, December 21, from 3 p. m. until 9.

Wednesday morning for Pasadena, California, where he will Henry Douglas and wife.

Albert Heater and family of Springbrook, will leave for Whittier, California, on Friday where they will spend the winter with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Weed.

The Misses Sibyl and Bernice Woodward left Berkeley last week to spend vacation, visiting relatives and friends at Los Angeles, Pasadena and Whittier.
The university vacation covers about a month.

Instead of the usual prayer meeting services being held at the different churches in town on Wednesday night of next week, union services will be held at the Friends church when a Christmas sermon will be preached by Rev. C. L. Hamilton of the M. E. church.

Newberg people who have occasion to remain over night in Portland will find the Hotel St.
Philip, which is located on Burnside street between Fourth and Fifth, one of the cleanest and best kept hotels in the city.
Steam heat, hot and cold water

Pierce, proprietor.

W. R. Scott, who died on Thursday of last week, had been gradually going down with tuberculosis for several months and his death was not unexpected.
The deceased was born near Greensburg, Indiana, May 21, 1856. In March, 1894
