Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bagy, on February 1, a son.

Daye Coyl was up from Portland Tuesday night visiting with his sister, Mrs. J. B. Mount.

Maynard Redmond, D. D. Coulson and Clarence Eldridge spent last Sunday in town.

Landlord Perkins, of the Imperial hotel announces that he intends to give regular Sunday chicken dinners.

F. A. Elliott and family, who have been visiting about their old home at Vermillion Grove, Illinois, during the past month, are expected to arrive home in a few days.

C. F. Williams, son of C. R. Williams, announces himself as a candidate for your painting and paper hanging in the advertising columns of the Graphic this week.

D. D. Coulson, who was thrown out of a position by the failure of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company in Portland, has secured a position with the East Side Bank in the city.

President W. I. Kelsey expected to leave Chicago with his family on last Monday morning and they will reach Newberg Friday evening if trains are on time. He expects to take up work in the college as soon as he gets his family settled.

At the council meeting held Monday night J. W. Forsyth was elected acting mayor, Wm. Clemmens street commissioner, Dr. H. A. Littlefield health officer, N. E. Britt surveyor, C. J. Clemenson water superintendent and Clarence Butt attorney.

Mrs. Nellie Webster was married on Wednesday of last week to Frank Speary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cummins in Newberg, Rev. Van Dyke, pastor of the Brethren church officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. C. Matteson and was formerly known in Newberg as Mrs. Nellie Jones.

We had a little touch of winter last Friday and Saturday, the mercury falling to six to eight degrees below the freezing point, and on Monday we had a fall of a couple of inches of snow, but the wind veered around to the southwest again and we are back to normal conditions. Enough is enough and we are easily satisfied with just a little breath of winter.

Since the ushering in of leap year such heavy demands have been made on the bachelors about town that a calendar of carefully kept dates has become a necessity, and life has become so strenuous for some of the fellows that they are said to be looking forward with fond hopes for the first sweet notes of the meadow lark, that harbinger of spring-time, when they can get away on an early vacation for needed rest.

M. O. Lownsdale, of LaFayette, will address the fruit growers of this community on Wednesday afternoon of next week on behalf of the Willamette Valley Fruit Growers Union. A. C. Goodrich, the county fruit inspector will also be present at the meeting. Mr. Lownsdale is not only one of the largest apple growers in the state, but he is taking the lead for the union in a worthy effort now being made to interest growers in the very best methods to be pursued to rid the orchards of pests and restore the Willamette valley apple to its proper place in the markets of the country. This is an important meeting and it should be well advertised and largely attended. Mr. Lownsdale has some suggestions to offer to those who own old apple trees that are well worth bearing.

Jo Cook was up from Portland last Sunday visiting with his parents.

Miss Kate E. Ball from Portland has rented the building on First street formerly occupied by Miss Reinwand, where she will open millinery parlors.

Arrangements are being made to hold an athletic meet by the High School students of the county in May, and it will probably be held in Newberg.

Mrs. Alden Chamberlain, who was up from Portland the first of the week visiting with relatives called in to pay a year's subscription on the Graphic.

On Saturday night the High school basketball team will play the "Awkward Squad" team at the college gymnasium. Admission fifteen and twenty-five cents.

Theodore Webber, who came here from Kansas some time in the early part of winter, died at his home in Miles' new addition Wednesday afternoon of heart trouble.

The regular quarterly meeting of Friends church will be held here on next Saturday and Sunday. A temperance meeting is announced for Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

The Wednesday Club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Behnke. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in the study of Sir Walter Scott and some of his works. The hostess served dainty Scotch refreshments.

Those who heard the Williams-Original Dixie Jubilee Singers last year will be pleased to know that they are to be here again the 27th of this month. They are without question among the best jubilee singers of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Moore, who were the proprietors of the Gazelle store on the corner of First and Main streets until they closed out their stock, have removed to Portland where they own vacant property which they propose to improve.

Mrs. Anna K. High, the youngest sister of E. G. Fendall, died at her home in Salem and the remains were sent to Newberg the first of the week by boat and conveyed to the family burying ground on the old home farm up the valley and laid to rest.

W. C. Woodward and sisters write from Berkeley that they have had with them twenty or more visitors from Newberg since going there, the company of all of whom they have enjoyed, and the questions they have plied them with have been numerous.

The state Christian Endeavor convention will be held at Eugene February 20 to 23 inclusive, when the societies throughout the state which number between two and three hundred will send delegates. A number of good speakers have been engaged and a profitable convention is expected to be held. The railroads have granted the usual rates of one and one third fare.

Paul V. Maris, who graduated from the college here last year, has been making his headquarters at Berkeley, California, for some time, while working the territory out from there for the Rural Spirit. He visits the stock farms, solicits subscriptions and writes up a few cow columns each week for the paper in a way that can't fail to interest the readers of the Rural Spirit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allison gave a social one evening last week in honor of the seventeenth birthday anniversary of Miss Myrtle Atkins. The evening was spent in taffy pulling and playing games. Pie and cake were served and a pleasant evening's entertainment was reported. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Atkins and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, Roy, Frank and Louis Caster, the Misses Carrie and Myrtle Pearson, Curtis Pearson, A. Barcroft, Warren Moores, Miss Louise Cutts, Elmer Banks, John and Daisy Comer, Enoch and Charley Co-ville.

The ground hog has no doubt returned to his hole in disgust.

J. H. Douglas is at home again from his visit with relatives in Southern California and reports a very enjoyable vacation.

E. W. Stanley, from Tillamook, and Horace Stanley, from Steele, Idaho, have been in town during the week visiting with their brother Nate.

School Fair.

Dear Teacher—I sincerely hope that you will keep in mind the coming Annual County School Fair, and urge your pupils to take an active part. Your school should be well represented. There is nothing that will arouse interest in your school like work of this character. Cooking, sewing and agriculture will be emphasized in the exhibits of the schools throughout the county. As a teacher, you will appreciate the value of such industrial training, and I believe it is your duty to give the fair your earnest and hearty support. Encourage the children to do work of this nature, and you will be teaching the lesson of "dignity of labor." Give this a "second sober thought" and do something.

Whom do you recommend in your district as a person likely to be interested in our school fair? I shall appreciate an early reply to this question, as we are anxious to make up an executive committee composed of a member from each of the districts in the county.

Yours for larger and better fair,
H. H. BELT,
Superintendent.

Chehalis Center.

There has been a good deal of sickness among different ones of late, but every one is now on the mend.

Mrs. Cook, of Newberg, visited a few days this week with her niece, Mrs. Etta Shires.

Mrs. Whitaker, of Independence, made Mr. and Mrs. W. R.

THERE'S ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW

Some particularly desirable ideas each season in every line. The reason why we show them earliest is that our stock is always in condition to receive them—we keep it thus by rapid selling—by lowest prices. Hence the public relies on the stock—they have confidence in the prices and the qualities, and they always feel an assurance, that no matter what the item, they are securing what is best and newest.
