$1.50 Per Year in Advance.

THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1908.

A WORD TO SUBSCRIBERS.

A short time ago notice was given that under a new ruling of the postoffice department after April 1 weekly papers could not be mailed to subscribers who were in arrears for a year or more, unless a 1-cent stamp was affixed to the paper, which no publisher can afford to do, and consequently the only thing left to do is to drop the names of those who come in this class and put the accounts in the hands of a collector for settlement.

We have always endeavored to make the Graphic worth the money charged for it and the subscription is due in advance, but we have gone out of our way to accommodate a number of subscribers in the past who have neglected to pay up promptly. To this class this appeal is addressed and we hope that in the next two weeks we shall hear from them by way of hearty response.

No attempt is made to force the paper on any one and in fact we would prefer that any who may not appreciate the Graphic would come in, pay up and have their names taken from our books rather than to have them take it grudgingly. This is not a charity shop and we only want those to subscribe for the paper who can appreciate it, but in the future we shall expect those who take it to pay for it promptly.

We shall regret to lose any of our subscribers, but the post-office department has issued the edict that must be obeyed and the matter is up to you if you are on the tardy list.

Better get busy.

GREAT IS GRAFT.

Two weeks ago a big two hundred and twenty-five pound husky came leisurely into the Graphic office, laid down his card introducing himself as a deputy for O. P. Hoff, Commissioner of Labor for Oregon, handed the proprietor a blank to be filled out, saying it was all a mere matter of form, took one glance about the room without taking one step in the direction of the machinery and then departed.

On Tuesday of this week a demand came from the office of Mr. Hoff for the payment of a fee of $5 for the inspection of this office, citing a section of the law passed by the last session of the legislature making such payment imperative. We also take notice that the fellow who is supposed to do the inspecting is allowed $4 a day and expenses.

If there was ever a graft perpetrated in the state of Oregon here is one that is being worked to a finish. The big overgrown specimen, the happy-go-lucky who dropped into this office made no pretense at all toward an inspection of the plant. We rather liked the appearance of the fellow. He was big and fat, had a pleasant grin on his phiz and was considerate in not taking up much of our time. He was honest enough to admit that his visit to the office was a mere matter of form, which was an easy way of getting around the usual term of "graft" and he let it go at that.

The law calls for a charge of $10 for the inspection of all manufacturing plants employing people in excess of five, while those employing not to exceed five people are charged $5. For instance, the big corporation with a million dollar investment and employing 1000 hands pays into the state treasury $10 a year for having its big plant inspected, while the man who has one lone little water motor running in his print shop for the purpose of running a cylinder press a part of one day in the week to get off his paper, and a little jobber at intervals as occasion demands, pays just half as much to his shop, yawn and stretch his limbs, drop his card on the table and admit that he is being paid to enact a farce and work a graft in the name of the great state of Oregon.

This graft was worked off on the small fellows at the last session of the legislature, when we were told that the election of a United States Senator was disposed of at one gulp early in the session, thus giving the members time to devote to a careful inspection of all bills introduced. What they would have given us if the election of a senator had been long drawn out is simply beyond conjecture.

In this instance we are inclined to be charitable and concede it was a case where they did not know any better.

A news note says D. M. Watson has taken a four months lease on some oil land near Dallas, giving a guarantee to begin work in eight days. A number of Newberg people have some interests in a greasy looking hole in the ground out some four miles up the valley that they would be pleased to call Mr. Watson's attention to when he is at leisure. No special hurry, to be sure, but if he desires to invest in a good prospect we can show the goods.

In our candidates column will be found the announcements of S. L. Parrett, of Dundee, who is a candidate for county clerk, and J. H. Rees, of Springbrook, who aspires to the office of recorder of deeds. Mr. Parrett was born and reared in Yamhill county and Mr. Rees has spent twenty-eight years of his life in the county. Both are progressive, public-spirited men who are in every way worthy of the confidence and support of the people.

At least four good men from this part of the county are out asking for the support of the voters at the primary election. Samuel L. Parrett, of Dundee, is a candidate for county clerk, R. B. Linville, of Newberg, and J. H. Rees, of Springbrook, are out for recorder, and Prof. F. K. Jones is a candidate for representative to the legislature.

THE FIRST GUN.

First fire of the political campaign of 1908 was drawn in Newberg last Tuesday night at Duncan's hall, when Hon. H. M. Cake spoke to a good sized audience on the political issues of the day.

Mr. Cake is a candidate for the nomination for the high office of United States Senator and he is making his canvass as a supporter of Statement No. 1, and consequently he spent much of his time in giving his view of this much mooted question which is in the mouth of every politician in Oregon just at this time. He stated that the people could be

For Recorder.

Having been a republican voter of this county for 28 years and always taken an interest in public affairs and tried to do my full part toward the upbuilding of this country, I respectfully appeal to the Republican voters of Yamhill County for the nomination for the office of County Recorder at the primary election April 17, 1908.

Yours Truly,
J. H. REES.

trusted in all other political matters and he could see no reason why they could not be trusted to select the senator to represent them in congress. At the primary election to be held in April it will be a tryout between candidates of their respective parties and the men who receive the highest number of votes will be the candidates at the June election. For instance, if Smith receives the highest number of republican votes he will be the republican candidate and if Jones receives the highest number of democratic votes he will be the democratic candidate for senator.

There is a general demand all over the country for a change in the constitution of the United States allowing the election of senators by direct vote of the people, and since the two dominant parties will each have a candidate up at the June election this gives the voters an opportunity to express their choice. Exactly the same method is pursued in the election of representatives to the lower house of congress. First the nominations are made at the primary election when all the weaker candidates are eliminated and in June each party has one man pitted against a man on the opposite side.

Mr. Cake's statement of the situation was clear and concise and it must be admitted that when he was through, there was not much ground left for the man to stand on who has been clamoring for the election of senators by direct vote of the people and yet has been opposing Statement No. 1.

A glowing tribute was paid to the patriotic administration of President Roosevelt, especially in his fight made in the interests of the people and against the grasping combinations of the great railroad corporations, and he also commended him for the interest he has shown in irrigation legislation which is doing so much for Oregon.

Mr. Cake is a man of fine appearance, forceful and convincing in speech without making any attempts at oratory. He does not waste time in telling stale campaign stories but says something worth hearing when he speaks, and he made a favorable impression on his hearers Tuesday night.

J. B. PARKER.

It is funny what a hard time a man generally has in finding any merit in his neighbors.

Unless the delicate, exactly adjusted parts of a watch are kept clean and lubricated, they are certain to become worn to a greater or less extent and the movement will surely lose its accuracy. Tiny particles of grit are bound to work into the best protected movement; the oil will become gummed in time and these combined will serve to cut and grind the pivots and cause friction.

Every watch should be thoroughly cleaned and oiled at least once in eighteen months, and if yours has not been cleaned within that time, it should have immediate attention.

We will clean your watch precisely as it would be done in the best watch factories—take the movement entirely apart, clean each wheel, cog and pivot separately, assemble and regulate it—and when you get it back you may depend upon it being in "perfect shape."
