Local Events.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Guddot, on last Friday, a son. Roy Gardner was up from Portland last Saturday and Sunday.

A. J. Palmer arrived home from Illinois last week where he spent the winter visiting with relatives.

C. F. Moore has engaged Emory Hodson, a druggist of fifteen years experience, as regular help in his drugstore. Mr. Hodson takes the place the first of the week.

Arthur Hill, who held the position of principal of the school at Molalla, Clackamas county during the school year made a trip over there last week to give the eighth grade examination, and to serve as a member of the county board of examiners at Oregon City.

The graduating exercises of the Newberg public school will be given by the eighth grade, this being the only class graduating from the school this year. The exercises will be held in Duncan's hall on the evening of June 12th. Out of a class of twenty-nine, nineteen passed the state examinations and nine received recorded grades.

A large shipment of cement drain tile was received here last week from North Yamhill where it is manufactured. It is in different sizes ranging from twelve inches up to two feet and it is to be used on the public roads to replace the old wooden culverts. If it is properly put in it will no doubt prove to be an economical investment for the county.

John Shearer, who made a recent trip to the Hood River country says he camped there when he came to the country years ago and he could have taken up land only a little ways back on the hill above the present site of Hood River, but it didn't look good to him and he came on to the valley. He was much impressed with the thoroughness of everything done in orcharding at Hood River and he came away with some ideas which he proposes to put into practice. The man who is unable to get some new ideas when he goes away from home, which he can profit by, is either a blockhead or one who is entirely too wise for this day and generation and the Hood River fellows are always ready to show anyone who is interested in apple growing.

J. L. Haworth has plans matured for building a new nine room residence on his fruit farm above Springbrook. The location selected is a site on ground a little lower than his spring and he will pipe the water to the house in order to have all the modern improvements in the way of hot and cold water and baths. John Rush, who lives on an adjoining place is also getting ready to build a new residence. The prosperity that has come to the fruit and berry growers and the evidence of it that is being shown in the new improvements being made is a reminder of a story. A plain old plodding farmer had daughters whose company was not sought by the city chaps, until later when oil was discovered on the old man's farm and he was placed in the rich man's column, when the young fellows who wore fine clothes and drove sleek horses suddenly became interested in the farmer's daughters, but they said: "Not much, Daddy's struck ile." For several years the outlook seemed rather gloomy to the small rancher about Newberg but conditions have changed and more than one man has "struck ile."

Emory Hodson returned from a trip to Seattle Monday.

Dr. George Larkin was up from Portland a day or two last week.

Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Harrold are taking in the fleet festivities at Seattle.

Mrs. P. M. Edwards went to Corvallis Tuesday to spend a week visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Mary Hurley was up from Portland Monday visiting with her mother, Mrs. R. Pettyjohn.

P. M. Edwards is visiting the scenes of his boyhood days in far off Connecticut and will remain for some time.

R. H. Braden, the father of the Braden brothers, of Newberg, arrived here from Ogden, Utah, a few days ago.

Guy Heater spent last Sunday in Dallas visiting with Roy Wassam, who is holding down a good job in the hub of Polk county.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Sutton and Mrs. Townsend, the mother of Mrs. Sutton, were up from Portland last Sunday visiting with relatives.

Rev. C. L. Hamilton will speak on temperance at the Friends church at Rex next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and in addition a short program will be given.

John T. Haworth, who recently arrived here with his family from Indiana, is located for the present on the farm of his brother, J. L. Haworth, above Springbrook, and will take a little time to get his bearings before buying, although he came to remain a resident.

In order that good citizens may be reminded to do their duty at the polls promptly on Monday, the Oregon Anti-Saloon League has sent out letters to the pastors of churches suggesting that all the church bells be rung for fifteen minutes between the hours of eight and nine a. m. and twelve and one p. m. Oregon expects every man to do his duty, is a free translation of what the bells will say.

Ed Blum, who lived in Newberg several years ago, shot and killed a Mrs. Hickey in a Portland lodging house last Sunday and then turned the gun on himself, inflicting a wound from which he died a little later. Blum married the oldest daughter of J. D. Carter and for two or three years he followed teaming about Newberg. They had two children, the oldest a son now being eighteen years old. Domestic trouble caused a separation, Mrs. Blum caring for the children and giving them an education without any aid from him. She and the children have been living at Baker City for several years. The woman killed left a husband at Troutdale a few years ago and followed Blum to Portland. The warning, "They that sow to the wind shall reap the whirlwind," seems to have been verified to the letter in this instance.

After months of earnest work the Newberg Library Association is now ready to offer to the reading public a choice selection of books. The library will be in the Y. M. C. A. rooms and open on afternoons from 3 o'clock for two hours and evenings for one hour from 8 o'clock on Tuesday and Friday of each week. Shipments of additional books will be arriving next month, and the Association extends a cordial invitation to our citizens to patronize the library as all books are furnished them free. It is intended to supply books covering an extensive line of subjects such as ethics, psychology, religions, sociology, economics, law, electricity, science, inventions, art, humor, travels, biography, history, fiction, poetry and drama. The endeavor of the association will be to furnish literature that will broaden the conception of higher standards of life, refining and uplifting the tendencies of the readers.

Attorney Clarence Butt made a business trip to Dallas today.

Mrs. F. A. Morris visited for a few days the latter part of the week with Mrs. John Grimes above Dayton.

Rev. John F. Hanson, of Portland, held two services at Dundee last Sunday, speaking on the subject of peace and temperance.

A union temperance meeting will be held at Friends church on Sunday evening under the auspices of the various pastors of Newberg.

O. K. Edwards passed through town toward Portland on the train Wednesday morning and said their big pressed brick plant at Willamina started up successfully Tuesday.

John Wortman, W. T. Macy and Walter Hembree, of McMinnville, and M. O. Lownsdale, of LaFayette, made an auto tour of this end of the county Wednesday in the interests of the Yamhill County Development League.

Carrol E. Kirk, who with his wife has been spending the year in a New York training school for Christian workers, has accepted a position as superintendent of the boys department of the Y. M. C. A. at North Yakima.

Ralph, alias "Buck," Starr of Dayton Prairie, who won his nom de plume when he used to hit the line as a member of the Pacific College football team, attended the county field meet Saturday and cheered the Dayton lads to victory.

The residence of Sanford Goodrich above Dayton was consumed by fire one evening last week. The fire was caused by the explosion of gasoline while one of the sons was filling a lamp. Little furniture was saved and the loss was heavy.

Prof. F. G. Boughton, of McMinnville College, will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 o'clock—subject, The Magnet on the Cross. This is an illustrated sermon and very interesting, especially to children. Come and hear Prof. Boughton.

The Misses Richmond, Esther and Edna Andrews and Freda Gist enjoyed a week-end house party as the guests of Miss Elizabeth Kirk at the latter's home north of town. The company, with Miss Nellie Paulsen, spent Saturday "at large" on Chealem mountain.

The Presbyterian church and the lot on which it stands has been sold to Mrs. F. H. Browning, of Portland, who is a daughter of Mrs. Haskell who formerly lived in the country a mile west of Newberg. Mrs. Browning is a photographer and she expects to convert the building into a photograph gallery and open a studio. She is also arranging to build a bungalow on the Haskell farm west of town this season.

The Florsheim SHOE

The graceful lines of a FLORSHEIM SHOE, the smooth texture of its well-tanned leather, the precise, glove-like fit—all attest the superb workmanship back of it.

The Florsheim

rivals the custom-maker's production. Place it on your feet and it will look just as slightly as in the show-window. It is pre-eminently for the "Man who Cares."
