Prof. and Mrs. E. R. Hadley are the parents of a daughter, born Saturday, June 6.

F. H. Caldwell attended the state democratic convention in Portland Tuesday as a delegate from Yamhill.

Mrs. Irene Everest Heater joined the old pioneers of the state at their annual meeting in Portland Tuesday.

J. W. Barcroft has purchased the Vantress place on South River street to which he moved the latter part of last week.

Rev. J. G. Knotts, of Albany, visited in town the first of the week with Rev. J. E. Blair, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

L. H. Shirley, who has been down at Chico, California, some time, arrived home Sunday evening, well contented with Newberg.

The Newberg Woodmen of the World will hold their annual memorial services at the cemetery next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

J. W. Baker took his little son to St. Vincent's hospital in Portland last week where a successful operation on the boy's throat was performed.

Nathan White has the biggest, finest looking strawberries we've seen this year. And, thanks to him, we can say their taste equals their looks.

W. W. Baker who some time ago bought a nice lot of Mrs. Bowerman, just east of her cottage, is improving the same by the erection of a residence.

Hon. J. C. Nelson, veteran of the Cayuse War of 1847, mingled with the Indian War veterans in Portland the first of the week at the annual meeting of the Oregon Pioneer Association.

Hugh Nelson has greatly improved the appearance as well as the comfort of his house north of the public school grounds, by the addition of a spacious veranda.

While at work at the Newberg Sash and Door Factory Tuesday morning, Walter Brown stumbled and in falling shoved his hand into the planer, the loss of two fingers resulting.

W. A. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. King, his sister, Miss Lou and aunt Mrs. O'Brien, and Mr. and Miss McPherson, drove out from Portland in their autos Monday morning and spent the day in Newberg.

It's wonderful what a few warm days will do in loosening up the rheumatic joints of that bad boy of Mr. and Mrs. Cupid, commonly called Dan. If you are skeptical just glance at the marriage license list in another column.

Mrs. E. A. Brownell, of St. Charles, Illinois, her granddaughter, Miss Etta Wilcox and Mrs. R. Pearson, of Tecumseh, Nebraska, who have been visiting in Portland with relatives, are expected here this evening to continue their sojourn. Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Brownell are sisters of J. W., W. B. and W. A. Baker.

The baseball youngsters about town have banded themselves into a three cornered league, the Westenders, the Southeastenders and the Northeastenders battling for supremacy. We are not able to hand out the dope in the way of percentage of games lost and won, errors made, batting averages, etc., but the Northeastenders appear to have the pennant cinched, not having yet suffered the sore pangs of defeat. Full particulars may be had from Frank Elliott, official umpire of the league.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Otis M. Welch, on Tuesday, June 9, a daughter.

Dr. Fred George, of Portland, spent Monday in Newberg calling on old school friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott visited at the county seat Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Turner.

John Atkinson and wife, of Goldendale, Washington, came down last week and are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Dave Vaughan was one of the successful ones who took the examination before the state board of dental examiners last week.

Miss Addie Cahill, of Portland, will give an illustrated health talk for women at the Baptist church Friday, June 12, 3 p. m. Admission free.

Miss Katie Dimond has given up her position in the Graphic office and left for Linn County Wednesday to begin her career as a book agent.

A. J. Hutchins and wife went to St. Johns Monday to see their daughter, Mrs. Etta Hall, who is ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Shaw.

A number of the Newberg Baptists have been at Amity this week attending the annual meeting of the West Willamette Baptist Association.

Jas. Hamnett Sr. has renewed the spirit of his youth by submitting his heavy whiskers to the ravages of the mowing machine of a local barber.

James Vestal spent Sunday in Portland with his son Will who was operated on two or three weeks ago. The latter's condition was very critical for a time but he is now improving.

The Newberg High School baseball team went up to Dayton Friday and after a game with the Dayton team carried home the short end of a 11 to 2 score. Pitcher Hadaway had-a-way that nonplussed the Newberg batters.

J. B. Bales late of Bakersfield, but formerly of Newberg, Ore., quietly slipped in on his sister, Mrs. J. H. Hutchinson of 121 South Washington Ave., yesterday. He intends remaining in Whittier a few weeks.—Whittier (Cal.) Register.

The Graphic has received an enthusiastic report of a recital given at Scotts Mills a few evenings ago by Miss Myrtle Hannon, reader, of Willamette University. Miss Hannon is a daughter of Mrs. Hannon, the capable matron of the college boarding hall here, and the success made by the young lady in this, her first public recital, speaks well for future efforts.

Prof. C. E. Clemenson of South Dakota, who has taught school successfully in this vicinity for two or three years as principal of the Springbrook and Dundee schools, but who for the past year has been devoting attention to his South Dakota farm, has been secured to take charge of the Chehalem Center school next year. Miss Mabel Rush of Springbrook has been elected as his assistant.

J. C. Colcord, Jesse Edwards, F. A. Morris, A. C. Seeley, N. J. Sykes, Prof. W. A. Newlin and W. C. Woodward, representing the Newberg Commercial Club, drove out to Springbrook Tuesday evening and attended a Development League meeting. M. O. Lownsdale, of LaFayette, president of the county organization, and John Wortman, Elsie Wright and son, C. C. Murton and Mr. Wheeler of McMinnville were present, the former taking charge of the meeting. Interest was indicated in the work of the League as manifested in short talks by J. H. Rees, C. E. Newhouse and Joseph Hall of Springbrook, seconded by Messrs. Lownsdale, Wortman, Edwards and Morris of the visitors. The representatives of the local Springbrook League agreed to get in and help push and to that end a meeting was called for Saturday night by the president, I. M. Pollock.

Mrs. H. Cooper, of Estacada, and her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Gabel, of Portland, visited Monday with Mrs. F. C. Mills.

Guy Heater has given up his job as salesman in Parker's store, his place being taken by Miss Langton. He talks of going to California.

Tom Blalock and Chester Dimond, who are attending Willamette University, rode down from Salem on their wheels the last of the week visiting at home over Sunday.

The Misses Anna and Grace Dudley arrived home Friday from Coquille, Coos county where they have been teaching. They have concluded that two years of isolation is enough for them and they will not return.

The annual district school meeting will be held at the public schoolhouse next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when a director and clerk will be elected and other usual matters of interest attended to. J. C. Colcord is the director whose term of service has expired.

Prof. R. W. Kirk has reconsidered the offer of the principalship of the Independence public school at the urgent request of the Board and has accepted the same. His principal objection to going to Independence was removed on June 1st when the saloons were voted out of Polk county.

Photographer C. C. Smith drove up to the John Crawford place above Dundee Monday afternoon and took pictures of Mr. Crawford's fine big field of alfalfa, which was being mowed. The picture tells its own story and will send to the tall timber the fellow who declares that alfalfa can't be successfully raised hereabouts.

R. M. Wooden, of Astoria, visited in town a few days ago with the family of J. L. VanBlaricom. He is an old pioneer and says he bought up cattle in Chehalem Valley in 1859, but had not been back here for many years. He went from here to attend the pioneers' meeting in Portland. He is a veteran of the Rogue River Indian War of 1855.

J. A. Jones of Springbrook has bargained with J. T. Smith for the purchase of a one hundred foot lot off the southwest corner of the block on which Mr. Smith's house stands in North Newberg. He is contemplating the erection of a house thereon this summer, it being his intention to move his family to Newberg to enjoy our school advantages. He has chosen an excellent building site.

The students and faculty held a farewell jolly up meeting at the college Wednesday morning, when short speeches were made and funny stories told by the faculty and by Harold Vickrey, Eula Hodson, Russel Lewis and Nathan Cook representing the college classes and by Chris Smith and Richard Williams for the academy. The "man of the hour" was Prof. Hadley whom the students had just found out to be a fond papa. He bore off the honors with becoming modesty.

Mildred Forsyth, eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Forsyth, died at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland, Sunday evening after a week's illness from diphtheria. Her death resulted directly however from heart trouble as she had passed the critical stage of the aforementioned disease and was convalescing. Indeed, two hours before the message came here to the parents announcing her death, they had received telephone message that she was improving rapidly and was sitting up. The little girl had been in Portland for about two months with her aunts, her mother being sick at home. Short funeral services were held at the Newberg cemetery Tuesday morning, where interment was made. The stricken family wishes to express appreciation for the kindnesses shown them in their bereavement.
