Those who love Roosevelt because he is a fighter will take to Taft for similar reasons before the campaign has progressed far.

Thaw has the stomachache! So said the press dispatches the other morning. The public has had it every since the Thaws stepped into the lime light.

The Oregon Journal continues to demonstrate its idea of an independent, non-partisan newspaper. What would the Journal be if it should decide to turn democratic? Horrors!

Many a man, says an exchange, now successful in business, dates the doubling of his self-respect and the trebling of his determination to succeed from the day he opened a bank account.

Our British cousins haven't proved any better losers in the Olympic games which have been in progress in England, than they did a century and a quarter ago, when the stakes in the game were greater.

Yamhill County is being advertised as never before. To accomplish this hundreds upon hundreds of dollars are being expended and much hard work done. Every responsible and public spirited citizen should ask—"What am I doing to make this possible?"

At last in response to inquiries about Newberg and Chehalis Valley, we have some printed matter to send out. Everyone should have a few of the leaflets to enclose in letters to friends. You are welcome to them by calling upon the secretary of the Newberg Commercial Club, at the Graphic office.

Judge Grosscup, who is held largely responsible for the reversal of Judge Landis' ruling against the Standard Oil Company, was formerly anti-corporation in feeling but says he has gained wisdom with age! Under the circumstances the people can hardly be blamed for suspecting that this doesn't enumerate all his gains.

A perusal of the Oregon newspapers indicate that politically there is going on a general maneuvering for position and the throwing out of skirmish lines preparatory to the real battle of the campaign which will come with cooler weather. Of course this doesn't apply to sundry non-partisan, unprejudiced sheets such as the Journal.

Who can guess the final development of the Oregon cherry? The new Giant cherry, a cross between the Lambert and the Bing, created a sensation in the Portland market last week. There were some specimens that measured an inch and a half in diameter. Some years hence we will be serving half a cherry as a breakfast relish a la grape fruit. And it will be enough more relishing too.

The subscriptions which have been made for development league work have made possible the sending out of thousands upon thousands of pages of literature descriptive of the resources and attractions of Yamhill County, Chehalis Valley and Newberg. And it is going to the people we want most to reach—the desirable homeseeker. The returns are certain and will be commensurate with the efforts put forth and the funds expended.

A woman named Begin has begun divorce proceedings against her fifth husband, and an exchange suggests that she ought to go back to Begin and begin again.

A country merchant of Iowa decided to break away from the old-fogy spirit which had affected him and his fellows for some time. Daringly he spent $100 in advertising a special sale. The first day of the sale the store took in almost $1,000; and the next six days averaged over $400 each. The advertising bill amounted to 3 per cent of the business he did. He found that it paid.—Oregon Tradesman.

There is no reasonable excuse for any man to live in a town if he doesn't like it. If you have no word of commendation to say for your town, its institutions or people, emigrate. You won't stop the town clock by going away. The church bells will have the same musical ring, the little dogs will play just as well in the pure air, bright sunshine and sparkling water will have the same health-giving properties. Speak a good word for your neighbors if you can; if you can't, don't everlastingly enlarge on their faults. If you have become thoroughly disgruntled move away; go some where, where things will suit you.

Sometimes local newspapers are accused of giving more mention and notoriety to some class or classes of people in a community than to others. It may be to some order or to some part of town, the members of a certain church or even to those of some special political or business affiliations. Such accusations may be deserved at times, but generally they are not. The editor is more anxious than anyone else to make his paper desirable to all, and gladly publishes all the legitimate news items he can get hold of. It is natural that he knows most about the people with whom he is most thrown. Regrettable as it sometimes is, an editor is not quite omnipresent nor omniscient. Wouldn't it be better, instead of criticising the newspaper man for not publishing something which he hadn't learned, to see that he gets the news item in question? As far as the Graphic is concerned, it takes it as a favor and a mark of friendly co-operation when a reader thus favors us—which isn't any too often.

A Washington correspondent says the Chicago ticket is the weightiest ever put out by a national convention in the history of the country. Secretary Taft and Jas. S. Sherman would make the scales register close to 500 pounds, exceeding by nearly 100 pounds the combined weight of any ticket ever nominated. Up to this time the record was held by the democrats when they nominated Cleveland in 1892. At that time Mr. Cleveland weighed about 275, while his running mate, Adlai Stevenson, pulled down only 150 pounds, making the total physical weight of the team about 425 pounds. McKinley and Hobart nominated by the republicans in 1896, made a pretty heavy team, but not up to the democratic record. President McKinley weighed about 180 pounds when nominated, and Vice President Hobart about 200 pounds, giving an aggregate weight of about 380 pounds to the ticket.

TAFT'S STEAM SHOVEL UNION BADGE.

No man living is better qualified than Mr. Taft to be a member of the International Society of Steam Shovel Men, and his election to this labor union as one of its honorary associates is in line with the precept to render honor where it is due. Mr. Taft has accomplished a great deal to show the power of the steam shovel in cutting the most difficult and costly ocean link ever attempted. At Panama the steam shovels are nearing an excavation of 3,000,000 cubic yards of earth a month. They are opening at each end of the canal at the sea level a ditch 45 feet deep and 500 feet wide, with a combined length of 12 miles. For the remaining 38 miles the passage of ships will be at the height of 35 feet, reached by locks.

On this higher level there will be three dams retaining a lake formed by the Chagres river, and these dams also represent a part of the work of the steam shovels. The largest dam will be more than a mile and a half long at the base and 135 feet high. In the Panama Canal the world will witness one of the greatest achievements of the United States and a striking proof of its friendly attitude toward all commerce on equal terms. Under the direction of Taft as Secretary of War the government engineers have advanced in this vast undertaking until its completion within a few years is in sight. The steam shovel men can rest assured that their services will be needed in other big projects. They will all be of one mind when they initiate the distinguished new member into their union.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Who Said Rain?

"Who Said Rain," is the latest advertisement issued by Manager John H. Hartog, of the Eugene Commercial Club. A Eugene belle is photographed three times, standing in glasses, each of which contains the rainfall for one year, one in Eugene with 38 inches, and the girl's face has a happy expression; New York City with 45 inches, and that expression becomes doubtful, while New Orleans, with 62 inches, makes her cry for help. The leaflet quotes from report of United States Weather Bureau that during 1907 Eugene had 205 days without any rain and 70 days when it rained less than one-tenth of an inch.

Vinson, said minor above named.

You Bet, We're Proud of it.

The Yambillers are so proud of that $150-prize cup they received for the best county exhibit of cherries at the late Salem fair that they are exhibiting it in various towns, and after the circuit is completed it will be kept at one of the McMinnville banks until the fair of 1909 when it must be contested for again. In order to retain permanent possession of it Yamhill must take the blue ribbon three times more.—Salem Statesman.

The cup is now on exhibition out at Springbrook and as soon as all have admired it sufficiently in that community it will be placed on display for a time in Newberg.

"In choosing his men," said the Sabbath school superintendent, "Gideon did not select those who laid aside their arms, and threw themselves down to drink; he took those who watched with one eye and drank with the other."

Notice to Water Consumers.

Sprinkling hours: Lawns, 6 to 6:30 a. m., 6 to 8 p. m.; Streets, 7 to 8 a. m., 12 to 1 p. m. Garden sprinkling prohibited. Any person caught violating these rules, water will be shut off, and a fine of $2.00 imposed. BY ORDER OF THE COUNCIL.

General Jones.

I have purchased the grand young stallion General Jones, No. 41747. He is by Captain McKinney, by McKinney 2:11½; 1st dam Daisy Q. Hill, by Altimont. He is royally bred and has a right to be as fast as his sister Bellemont 2:09¼. He won first premium at the recent Vancouver, B. C., Horse Show. His brother Chehalis won first in his class at the Lewis and Clark fair. He is large, handsome, and will make a horse of 16 hands, and 1150 pounds. He can be seen at my stable at Newberg. C. C.
