Hankerchief Shower.

The Misses Ruth and Katherine Romig received a number of their friends at their home last Thursday evening at a handkerchief shower given in honor of Miss Maybelle Edwards. The lawn was beautifully decorated with Chinese lanterns while the house was gracefully festooned with red hearts. Those present were Mesdames Chas. Fuller, Geo. Larkin, W. S. Parker, Fred McDonald, Emmer Newby, C. J. Edwards, Jesse Edwards, and the Misses Ellen Brewer, Pearl Cummings, Sibyl and Bernice Woodward, Jessie Britt, Olive Stratton, Hallie Stukey, Emma Dorrance, Ione Hill, Anna Rogers, Lelia Littlefield, Anna Bashaw and Maybelle Edwards.

Desperate Encounter With a Female Bandit.

Early Wednesday morning of last week while Willie Wilson was moving G. S. Hoaglin and family to Newberg, a female bandit sprang from the fence corner and grasped the team by the bits, stopped them and demanded in a tirade of abuse what money they had before they could move. However the trio, having no wish to part with their doubloons, ordered her off, so she disappeared in the brush as quickly as she came, vowing all sorts of vengeance on her scared victims. We say scared, well we have not heard Willie whistle since.

DUNDEE.

Close of Pastorate

On Sabbath, August 30, Rev. Isom P. Wooton will preach in the Friends church upon the subject "Our Safeguard and Our Guide". With this service his relation as pastor of the church will cease. Those who have heard a part or all of his helpful discourses during the past year will no doubt want to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him again especially in his final message. The membership of the church are gratified to know that Rev. Wooton and wife will retain their residence here even though his health does not permit him to remain in active service. His wide experience in various relations of life, especially in the church work; his well-poised intellect, together with his spiritual insight, render his counsel very valuable and a great blessing to the church.

Rev. Abijah J. Weaver, a nephew of Rev. Wooton, will take charge as pastor of the church the first of September. A public reception will be given him and family early in the month, the exact date of which will be announced later. A MEMBER.
