Local Events.

Miss Myrtle Gause went to Newport Monday for a visit at the beach.

H. A. Forcht is expecting to go over into Washington with his family to remain with their daughter for the winter.

Jesse Smith and family returned home from Willamina Tuesday morning where they spent a week visiting with relatives.

The party who bought the Elmer Bowman place got cold feet before the papers were signed up, forfeited $250 and took the back track for Oklahoma.

Frank Vestal arrived here direct from Deering, Alaska, Tuesday evening after spending more than 20 days on the road. He has been away four years this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Heacock arrived home from LaGrande Monday where they went to spend a short honeymoon. Down out of the airy clouds and on earth again.

Charles K. Spaulding left last Saturday evening on a business trip to San Francisco. Mrs. Spaulding and daughter Beulah going with him for a visit of a week with relatives in the city.

Sheriff Henderson was in town Wednesday tripping it off with an unusually elastic step and the scribe was at a loss to know whether to attribute this youthful attitude to the cool breeze or the probable scent of an absconding debtor.

Mrs. Martin Downs went to McMinnville Monday to interview School Superintendent Belt regarding a new school district that is being petitioned for in the neighborhood on the side of Chehalem mountain directly north of town.

The members of the Newberg colony in Lake county appear to be keeping up the record as makers of civilization. A news note in "Fort Rock Breezes" in the Silver Lake Leader says: "All parties who have promised to help on the new schoolhouse can leave their offerings with Wm. Giles."

A Newberg man who was in a Washington county town on business one day this week says he saw the wife of the local minister standing on the walk toward the rear of a saloon drinking beer, and he came away feeling that "personal liberty" had not been interred with to any great extent in that territory.

Along in the month of June our genial station agent, George Washington James conceived the idea that it would be the proper thing for him to take a lay off a day or two along in September and go to Salem to mingle with the throng at the State Fair and see the big roosters and the merry-go-round, and consequently he so informed the big moguls of the S. P. Co. Much to his chagrin, however, his written appeal has apparently been lost in the shuffle at the Harriman headquarters and he is doing time as usual this week at the old stand.

On Monday the mail brought to the editor a box of papaws, sent by our friend Milton Newlin, who with his wife returned recently for a visit with relatives and friends in Illinois and Indiana. To a fellow who, when a lad, belonged to the one-gallus brigade that kicked the autumn leaves along the banks of the White Lick streams in the old "Hoosier" state hunting possums and papaws, there is no such thing as being mistaken in the aroma coming from a basket of this luscious wild fruit, and when the box was taken from the post-office we knew at once that some friend had remembered our weak spot.

Edward Morse, brother of Asa Morse, arrived here from Chicago the first of the week.

Miss Laura Blair visited with her brother Calvin at McMinnville last Sunday.

Prof. R. W. Kirk removed to Independence this week to be on the ground ready for the opening of the public school.

C. W. Peckham, who lives in Rose Park addition, has been elected janitor for the public school the coming year.

Omer Gause, who has been working at Rosedale during the summer, was down Sunday visiting with the home folks.

J. M. Stone is in Salem this week exhibiting his vetch separator and is also expecting to attend the big fair at Spokane.

Bert Miller has given up his place in the King & Bennett hardware store and is expecting to attend McMinnville College.

Cecil Brown, a young man from LaGrande, has taken a place as salesman in the dry goods department at the Parker Mercantile Co. store.

The young daughters of J. A. Ruble, who lives a mile west of town, returned to Eugene Monday where they make their home with an aunt and attend school.

Miss Lina Langton, who has been clerking in the Parker Mercantile Co. store, went to McMinnville Monday where she has accepted a position in Miller's store.

Elmer Hodson was down from Willamina a few days ago visiting with relatives. A cave-in in the clay bed which covered up some of the machinery gave him an opportunity for a short lay-off as engineer at the brick plant.

Albert Benson, whose home is in Oklahoma, is here with one of his sons looking for a location. The son will enter college at the opening of the year and the remainder of the family who are still in Oklahoma will probably be sent for in a short time.

At the beginning of the season it looked like there would not be much building done in Newberg this year but conditions changed and this has been one of the busiest seasons Newberg has ever seen in the way of building, and it is gratifying to note that the class of buildings erected gets better all the time.

The unusually elastic step of our friend S. B. Moffitt when in town the last few days has been the cause of a good deal of speculation but it is easily explained. He is not eating his own cooking any more. Mrs. Moffitt and daughter Ella have returned home from their extended visit in Seattle.

Rev. Silas Perkins, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hayburn, Idaho, has been in town during the week visiting with Rev. J. E. Blair, the latter when a youth of eighteen back in "Old Kaintuck" having been a member of a church with Rev. Perkins as pastor.

The steamer Leona is advertised to make regular runs on the Willamette and Yamhill runs between Portland and McMinnville, leaving McMinnville on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a. m. and leaving Portland Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 6:30 a. m. It seems unfortunate for the keeper of the locks at LaFayette to be awakened from his long sleep.

P. N. Skinner, proprietor of the Imperial, has traded his four hundred and fifty acre dairy farm on Chehalem mountain to the Parkers for the Parker Mercantile Co's. stock of general merchandise, but it is understood that the stock will not be invoiced and turned over until some time in December. The farm was turned in at $19,000. Charley Butler is an asset to go with the stock of course. At least that has been the custom in the past when changes in ownership have been made in this store. The change will afford an opportunity for L. M. to get back close to nature again.

Rev. F. C. Stannard was a visitor at the county seat Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Newhouse drove up to Brooks Tuesday for a visit with the A. M. Aspinwall family and will attend the big fair at Salem.

Prof. Jas. A. Lyman and family, of Springbrook, who return to Portland this week where Prof. Lyman will resume his work as instructor in Portland Academy, visited in town Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Skinner at the Imperial.

Reception to Pastor.

On Thursday evening of last week the Friends church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and roses in honor of Rev. A. J. Weaver, the new pastor, who with his wife and young son Harold were given a reception on that evening.

REV. A. J. WEAVER.

While many of the members of the church were out of town the attendance was good, there being many present from the other churches in town. The reception was very informal and consequently was the more enjoyed by all present on account of it.

Mrs. J. H. Douglas made an unusually happy little talk, by way of welcome on behalf of the church, Rev. J. E. Blair spoke for the ministerial association of the city and Rev. Weaver followed with a short response. The music was furnished by Mrs. Eva Hummer Hull and Alexander Hull, the former at the organ while Mr. Hull sang two solos, much to the delight of the audience. Light refreshments were served at the close of the exercises.

The new pastor is just in the prime of life and enters the work here with promise of great success. He is a "Hoosier" by birth and at one time attended Bloomingdale Academy with Dr. Nelson Morrison. His first pastoral work was done at New Castle, Indiana, where he remained for five years, after which he went to Glens Falls, New York where he resigned his work as pastor to come here after having remained there five years. Mrs. Weaver's maiden name was Trueblood and comes from a family well known to many here.

A woman entered a bar room and advanced quietly to her husband who sat drinking with three other men. She placed a covered dish on the table and said: "Thinking you'd be too busy, Jack, I've fetched it to you here." Then she departed. The man laughed awkwardly and invited his friends to share the meal with him. Then he removed the cover from the dish and found it empty except for a slip of paper on which was written: "I hope you will enjoy your supper. It is the same your wife and children have at home.—Ex.
