The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will give their pastor and family a reception Friday evening, Oct. 9, in the church. Everybody invited.

Frank Nelson and family came down from Morrow county on Tuesday for a visit with relatives. He will return in three or four days but the others will remain for some time.

Miss Erma Brown, a fifteen year old girl, picked ninety-one boxes of prunes in the Thomas Prince orchard at Dundee in one day and Mr. Prince wants to know if anybody can cite a better record.

F. L. Gustin and a whole wagon load of Rex people arrived home from a fifteen days trip to the Nestucca beaches a few days ago, where they had splendid luck fishing. The weather was fine and they report a great time.

John Gilbert and family arrived here from Lewisville, Indiana, last week and are at home on the M. P. Elliott farm north of town where a new cottage was in readiness for them. They report an exceedingly dry season in Indiana and corn in the field selling as high as $40 per acre.

S. J. Madson has the distinction of owning the only auto of family carrying capacity in the community and his propensities as a ladies man are being rapidly developed. His latest date with the auto filled with members of the fair sex was on last Sunday when the Misses Lida Wilson, Emma Dorrance, Ione Woods and Lizzie Hibbs made up a party for the home of County Commissioner R. L. Booth on upper Willamina. They returned in the evening.

The Atkinson team driven by Mrs. Atkinson got into a mix-up one morning last week by one colt playfully kicking up in turning a corner and landing one foot on the wrong side of the buggy tongue. This frightened the other horse and a broken single tree made matters worse. They ran a short distance throwing Mrs. Atkinson out over the hitchrack along side of Mount's store and bruising her up some though not hurting her severely. The horses were cut up some about the legs and the buggy injured to some extent but it was fortunate that it was no worse.

F. H. Rogers received a souvenir postal card a few days ago from a friend in Nebraska showing a picture of the "Nebraska Cuckoo Clock" on the face of which is a picture of Bryan and below are the words, "Will run every four years if properly wound." Under "Setting the alarm" are these lines: "1906. Free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1—failed to go off. 1900. Imperialism. Continued hard times if McKinley is elected. No more 4th of July—failed to go off. 1908. Do the people rule? Bankers guarantee law. If the alarm doesn't work this time look out for 1912."

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. York left for their home at Elwood, Indiana, on Monday.

Rev. J. E. Blair goes to Ashland this week to attend a meeting of the Presbyterian Synod.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitten, the parents of Walter Whitten are over from Newport for a weeks visit.

A. R. Cumpston and wife were up from Sellwood on a visit with W. W. Hollingsworths last Sunday.

Walter Inman has a very nice seven room cottage almost completed in Edwards Addition on Fifth street.

C. J. Edwards and M. M. York went to Black Rock above Falls City last Saturday to take a look at the big timber.

Miss Gussie Crawford was down from her home on the farm above Dundee last Sunday visiting with Miss Jessie Britt.

Mrs. Oliver Vanoose was down from McMinnville a few days last week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hall.

Harold Vickrey, of LaFayette, who has a position in a Portland business house, spent last Monday in town, visiting at the college.

Fred L. Ames and family arrived home from their extended visit to Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota and other points a few days ago and report a splendid time.

F. A. and H. R. Morris arrived home Monday evening from their visit with relatives in Illinois and Indiana. They were gone about two months and report a very pleasant time.

H. C. Plummer, of Portland, will lecture at the Baptist church next Sunday at three o'clock in the afternoon. Subject "The Promises Made to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and Their Seed." All are cordially invited.

The Misses Ida and Mearle Woods drove to Butteville Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. R. Sheurer.

Mrs. C. P. Dobbins, of Portland, was here the first of the week visiting with her aunt, Mrs. J. F. Ridenour.

Rev. John Heacock and daughter have been up from Portland during the week visiting with his sister, Mrs. Will Paxson.

The German Methodist parsonage has been sold to C. W. Cook who came here recently from Oakley, Kansas, for $2400. A new parsonage is to be built near the new church.

A gentleman named Herbert Willard arrived here this week with a car of freight from Lewiston Idaho and is going on a farm four miles up the valley. Among the stock he brought are several head of full blooded Poland China hogs that are beauties.

Mrs. Haskell, the mother of Mrs. F. H. Browning, the photographer, came over from Ocean Park, Washington, Wednesday and will remain during the winter. Mrs. Haskell is not a stranger in the community as she lived on their farm a mile west of town for several years.

An itinerant showman, who walks a slack wire and does numerous tricks in a very clever way, and for remuneration passes the hat, played to a "good house" on First street in front of the Graphic office Tuesday evening. The small boys voted him a great success as an entertainer.

When it begins to be a little tame about town from a lack of excitement the ice man turns his team loose for a spell to relieve the monotony and they generally make good without much apparent effort. On Monday they hit the road, but by a little bit of reckless work in turning a corner at the Hinshaw cottage on College street the corner of the building was scarred a little too much to make the stunt satisfactory all round.

C. H. Green, a young man and a Hood River fruit grower who was visiting at the home of H. C. Paulsen in the Chehalem Center neighborhood last week, made a pleasant call at the Graphic office while in town. He has not been in Oregon long and this being his first visit in the Willamette valley he was very favorably impressed with the country about Newberg. We shall expect him back again ere long.

The college chapel was filled to the limit on last Friday night when the public opening of the college was held. The exercises were opened with music, Mrs. Hull giving a piano solo and Mr. Hull giving two vocal solos, much to the delight of the audience. Mrs. W. J. Reagan and Mrs. W. I. Kelsey each gave recitations acquitting themselves in a manner much more pleasing and effective than are the readings of some who come heralded with fulsome press comments. Prof. W. J. Reagan gave the address of the evening in which he outlined a number of things a college education should not stand for, and also dropped many hints along other lines of special interest to students. His address was well received and it is evident that his talks will be looked forward to with eagerness by the student body. President Kelsey made a few closing remarks after which he called for the college song which was given as a closing number with good spirit.

Their true piety, generous cordiality and earnest devotion merits our highest esteem, and we commend them to the full confidence of the brethren in their new fields, bespeaking for them a large success.
