Local Events.

F. A. Elliott and Roy Wood have gone down into the Siuslaw country to inspect some timber.

The water set given as a prize at the Bijou last week was won by number 687 which was held by Miss Vesta Kramien.

I. A. Hanning is slowly recovering from the fall he received at Willamina some time ago in which one leg was broken below the knee.

Mr. Plummer will lecture in the Baptist church next Sunday, 3 p. m., subject "The Kingdom of God." Daniel 2:44; Acts 1:6. All are invited.

A gentleman named Richards from Paonia, Colorado, who is well acquainted with Rev. Herbert T. Cash, formerly pastor of Friends church in Newberg, is here taking a look at the country.

Mrs. J. V. Rynearson from Peoria, Illinois, is in town visiting with her nephew J. S. B. McNay. Although she is seventy-three years of age she is in good health and goes about the country with the ease of a much younger person.

J. S. B. McNay lost a valuable family cow a few days ago from milk fever. He says that last season they sold milk from the one cow to the amount of $140 beside what the family used which shows something of her value as a milk producer.

A. Jackson and wife from Central city, Nebraska, have been in town during the week visiting with Allen Pemberton's. They are so well pleased with Oregon that they have put their Nebraska farm on the market, with a view of locating permanently if they sell.

The Parker Mercantile Company is engaged in taking account of the stock in order to be in readiness to turn over the store to P. N. Skinner, the new proprietor, on Saturday night. Claud Calkins, who has worked in the store a good deal at different times, is to take a position in the store under the new management. He has a wide acquaintance with the people and is a good salesman.

The railroad company is planning to make some changes at the depot building with a view of giving a little more elbow room for Station Agent G. W. James and his assistants in which to take care of the fast increasing business. The partition between the waitingroom and the agent's office is to be removed and the two rooms are to be separated by a counter and a wire netting which will not take up so much space and other changes will be made to assist in relieving the congestion.

Since the removal of Hodson Bros. to their new location in the Edwards brick, Mr. Sykes, the owner of the building, has torn out the old floor and is putting in new sleepers and new floor and putting the storeroom in good condition for the new firm of Kienle & Sons who are to occupy the room with a general stock of novelty goods. The decay of the timbers underneath the floors of this building affords good evidence of the folly of erecting buildings without giving due attention to the matter of proper air circulation underneath to prevent dry rot, but people go merrily on here in Newberg putting up buildings and making them airtight underneath the floors. What carpenters are thinking about when they don't look after such details for those who don't know about these things, is one of the unsolved problems, but when passing about town just take a look at the residences here and there and draw your own conclusions.

Attorney R. L. Conner was down from McMinnville Thursday.

M. Motchenbacher is building a small house near his residence which his mother will occupy.

Mrs. S. J. Gaither, who has been here several weeks attending at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. L. W. Charles, returned to her home at Astoria Wednesday.

W. E. White made a visit to Goldendale, Washington, last week where Mrs. White had been visiting for some time. They returned home Tuesday evening bringing with them their niece, Miss Ovell Chapman.

An undenominational Sunday school was organized in West Chehalem last Sunday, November 8. The following officers were elected: Supt. S. M. Calkins, sec. Grace Oliver, treas. Mrs. Geo. Leach. Sunday school will be held every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Willis Townsend and wife came up from Archer Place, a suburb of Portland on the Mount Scott line, a few days ago for a visit with Mrs. Townsend's mother, Mrs. A. Bowman at her home north of town. Mrs. Townsend has been in a Portland hospital taking treatment for some time but is improved.

Mr. Watts is fitting up the old building on Main street which he used one season for a vinegar plant, with a view of making a rooming house out of it. The building has been raised and another story added and when it is completed it will help out the appearance of that corner very materially.

A. J. Winters was down from the upper part of the county Tuesday calling on his friends about town. He sold his farm recently at a good advance over the purchase price but will remain on the place for another year. Mr. Winters although now past sixty years of age is hale and hearty and says he never had a sick spell in in his life.

You have no doubt noticed the smile of contentment on the countenance of Attorney Clarence Butt of late and you have probably been puzzled to know the cause of it. Well he received a hundred pound sack of buckwheat flour from his old home in Pennsylvania the first of the week and buckwheat cakes, the kind that mother used to make, morning, noon and night, are touching a tender spot—in his memory—and causing a renewal of his youth.

Hale & Co. with an entirely new and well selected stock of drygoods and Hodson Bros. with a largely increased stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods are now located in the new storerooms in the Edwards brick. With everything new and up-to-date their stores are such that they would be a credit to a city of good size and they are well prepared to cater to their patrons. When in town it will pay you to drop in and see them.

The Tennessee Jubilee Singers, all colored artists, are billed for Duncans hall on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week under the auspices of the High School, the proceeds to go toward the purchase of a piano for the schoolroom. Some well known faces are shown on the window cards, which insures a good program, and they will no doubt be greeted by large crowds. An entire change of program is promised for the second evening.

President Kelsey will go to Walla Walla the first of next week to attend a big meeting of the prominent educators of the country which is to be held at Whitman College. On the program will be found the names of some of the big university men of the country and as invitations have been sent out all over the Northwest a large attendance is expected. Dr. Pearson, the Chicago philanthropist who has given large sums to various colleges, will be an honored guest.

Mrs. A. B. Cooper was up from Portland on a short visit last week.

Dr. Harry Littlefield went to Portland the first of the week and sold his auto. He has a new one ordered for next season.

The Chas. K. Spaulding Logging Co. is planning to build a new office building of concrete adjoining their sash and door store room on First street.

Prof. Harvey D. Crumly when told that Russell H. Conwell, the great lecturer, was to fill one number in the Lyceum Course, said he had heard him once and immediately bought tickets for the season. Ask him what he thinks of Conwell as a lecturer.

The amount of freight and passenger business done at the railroad station is the pulse that indicates the condition of business in Newberg pretty accurately, and the report for the month of October shows that we are still going some. Station Agent James says the increase in local freight and passenger business over the same month last year foots up the snug little sum of $1800. A sum alone which would not look very big to Harriman, but enough points on his lines showing up with the same sliding scale will make him sit up and take notice. Lesser lights, however, will continue to watch us grow with a degree of interest.

The Star Lyceum Course.

Tickets are now on sale for the Star Lyceum Course and we feel sure that the best talent is represented in this season's course that has ever been offered to Newberg. The business men who are backing the proposition are not expecting to make any money out of it but they are hoping that the public will show such appreciation as will encourage them to continue to get the best that is offered in the future.

The numbers selected are high class and necessarily high priced, and consequently a large sale of season tickets must be made in order to pay expenses.

Attorney Clarence Butt and J. H. Mills, the jeweler, both of whom have heard Russell H. Conwell, the great lecturer, will tell you that to hear his lecture alone will be worth a dollar of any man's money.

There will be one musical number of high class talent and then there is Alton Packard the cartoon artist and humorist who is a whole show in himself and who has a national reputation as a chalk talker and fun maker.

Tickets for the course will be $1.50, which includes reserved seats, and they can be had at both drugstores and at the Graphic office. Other business men who will canvass for the sale of tickets are Clarence Butt, J. H. Mills, Dr. Harrold, Jesse Edwards and W. A. King. Out of town parties can easily reach any of the above named parties by phone and tickets will be reserved. Tell your neighbors about the course and assist in making a big sale of tickets.
