Local Events.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. James Iverson of West Chehalem on last Monday, a son.
Since selling his fruit farm north of town A. C. Churchill is preparing to remove to Portland.
Hon. J. W. Hobbs, the revenue officer, with headquarters at Eugene, was in town Wednesday.

A meeting of the library board is called for Monday night at the library and a full attendance is desired.
Commissioner Sam Cummins spent a couple of days looking after roads and bridges about Newberg the first of the week.

While walking on one of the streets in Portland Monday Mrs. A. C. Churchill wrenched one ankle badly, causing a sprain that will probably confine her to the house for a month or more.
On Friday night the music Department of Pacific College, under the direction of Mrs. Hull, will give the Cantata, "Singing Leaves" at Duncan's hall. Liberal patronage on the part of the public will be appreciated.

The lecture course announced last week for President Isaac Sharpless, of Haverford College, for the first week in January has been postponed on account of the health of the speaker and he will not come before April or May.
We don't have much of a range country about Newberg and consequently our farmers are supposed to have at least a "speaking acquaintance" with every animal on the place, but it is told of one of them that he made three trips to a neighboring farm to size up a stray cow before he decided that she was his.

Levi Lewis, who had a severe spell of sickness recently, was remembered by a dozen or more of his neighbors one day this week who made a raid on his potato patch and harvested the whole crop in good order. And neighbors and true Christians they were if potatoes are dug these days in the same way they were clawed from the ground when the writer was a farmer boy.

C. C. Ferguson was so absorbed in thought as he scanned the headlines of the Oregonian at the station Tuesday morning, that the fact that he had purchased a ticket for a point up the road only a few minutes before was a blank to him, until the train was under good headway on a down grade—so near and yet so far, as he glanced at the pasteboard and then at the foot board.
The winter days that are yet to come, with public highways that make the horseless carriages "shut-ins" for many weeks will no doubt seem long drawn out to—well for instance to our esteemed fellow townsman S. J. Madson who recently exchanged his auto for a new one of up to date pattern. He was out last Sunday with it, the weather and the roads and other conditions being favorable, but it rained Monday and it is all off for the auto man. But of course there is the telephone as a makeshift that is not to be despised.

It is related of a pencil pusher for one of the county seat papers that during his rounds for news items he pulled his little book out of his vest pocket, and with pencil in hand he eagerly inquired where a car of prunes that was being loaded at the station was bound for. "Newberg" was the answer and the news gatherer shoved book and pencil back into his pocket as he remarked "there it is again; we ship our lumber from Newberg for building purposes and our prunes to Newberg to market." Sure, we endeavor to catch 'em a comin' and a goin'.

Our friend D. D. Coulson, head bookkeeper in the East Side Bank of Portland, got his picture in the papers this week on account of the robbing of the bank which took place on Monday evening at 5:45 o'clock. He had gone across the street to mail some letters and on turning to return to the bank saw the hold-up men looting the bank, while the president and cashier were being made to keep quiet at the point of a revolver. All he could do was to run for a nearby policeman, as he was not armed, but the men got away with some $14,000 and so far have not been caught.

Worth Coulson was over from Scotts Mills Tuesday night visiting his sister who is in college.
Lee Hilton has closed his lunch room on Main street for the present and is a gentleman of leisure.
The broken leg of I. A. Hanning is so far improved that he has been able to get out in town on crutches a few times during the week.

Mrs. Olson, widow of Martin Olson, who has been an invalid for the past year, was taken to Portland Wednesday morning for hospital treatment.
Mrs. Hull, instructor in music at the college is working hard on the musical for Friday night with a view of giving a good entertainment and she deserves a good house.

B. F. Allumbaugh, a brother of Ross Allumbaugh, who formerly lived in this community, recently returned and is now a resident of Newberg. He had been living over near North Yamhill.
Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Tallman, who came here from Michigan a short time ago and bought a ranch in West Chehalem, are adjusting themselves to their surroundings in true Oregonian style.

R. W. Swink, the Dundee station agent, recently received a gold medal as a prize for the best kept station on the S. P. lines in Oregon for the year 1907, and he has been notified that he has been awarded the medal for the present year.
N. P. Nelson, son of Amos Nelson, recently traded his ranch near Lexington for a small tract of land in Linn county. He has since rented his father's farm in West Chehalem and the latter is preparing to move to the Linn county place for the winter.

Will Miles was brought home from Portland Tuesday morning where he had been confined in a sanitarium for several weeks, and we are glad to note that he has surprised his friends by making improvement at a more rapid rate than they had dared to hope for.
J. J. Henderson who formerly ranked as one of the wealthy farmers of Yamhill county, and who sold his fine farm above McMinnville a few years ago for $25,000 and removed to Linn county where he invested his money, has failed financially, with liabilities considerably in excess of his resources.

Mrs. Nettie Charles wife, of L. W. Charles, died at her home in Newberg Tuesday night of tuberculosis after an illness of several months. Funeral services were held at the home on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and were conducted by Mrs. Edwards. Besides her husband she leaves four young children, a mother and brothers and sisters to mourn her untimely death.

On account of other public gatherings in town last Saturday night a rather meager crowd was present to witness the basketball game at the college but the boys put up a good game from start to finish in true sportsmanlike manner. In the East Side Athletic bunch were two deaf mutes who were as good players as they had on the team, a rather novel feature for a basketball team. The score stood 15 to 25 in favor of the home team.

High School Items
(By Press Committee of Piores Society.)
The first declamatory contest of the H. S. between the Zeta Alpha and Piores Literary Societies was held last Saturday evening in Duncan's hall. The right half of the hall was prettily decorated by the Piores in their colors gold and maroon; while the other half decorated by the Zetas in orange and green presented a strong rival for best decorations. The Piores were represented by Florence Kaufman, Myrtle Pierson and Erwin Pease. The Zeta Alpha by Maude Gregory, Vera Stannard, and Howard Burgess. Dr. Harold, Senator Caldwell and J. C. Hodson acted as judges and gave the decision to the Piores. All three judges gave Miss Gregory (Zeta Alpha) first honors in the contest. The proceeds from this contest go for the benefit of the High School to help pay for the new piano in the assembly room. Mr. Duncan was so generous in supplying heat for the comfort of the audience that it was necessary to use the wood box for kindling wood to make the green wood burn.

Tuesday the H. S. remitted their dues to E. E. DeCou, sec. and treas. of the State Debating League.
A debate will be held in the assembly room Thursday afternoon at which time the first and second teams will be selected. The first team will represent our school in all debates with outside teams. The contestants will debate on the question of government ownership of railroads.

A H. S. Glee Club of sixteen members will soon be organized. Their purpose is to support the musical efforts of the H. S. in their future public programs.
The Zeta Alphas will give the following program Friday afternoon: Song, Student Body; question box, Lloyd Ruble, Mae Welter; recitation, Gertrude Hollingsworth; impromptu debate, Albert Knapp, Josephine Hyde vs. Ernest Thun, Nina Mills; original poem, Louise Austin; instrumental solo, Iola Gorman; paper, Don Stretch, Etta Andrews; recitation, Jessie Collard; charade, Lula Forsythe, Etta Andrews, Emery Jones, Dale Haskins, Mabel Jay; song, Student Body.
